U. S. OFFICIALS FAVOR PLAN FOR LAKE AIRPORT

Simpson Gets Report from Washington.

The Chicago lake front airport project has been received in Washington as "the most favorable of any one municipal project advanced so far for the new public works program," James Simpson, chairman of the Chicago Plan commission, announced last night after receiving a long distance telephone report on the progress made by the Chicago delegation which is advocating the work before federal authorities in the national capital.

"John Wentworth, head of the delegation, told me that the lake front airport plan had had a good reception so far, and that the officials to whom it has been presented have given it very cordial attention," Mr. Simpson said. "They have expressed the opinion that the project is unique among the many proposals that have been made for the 3 billion 300 million dollar public works program.

Reports "Splendid Progress."

"Our delegation has made splendid progress. I shall be very much surprised if they return to Chicago with anything but definite assurances that the lake front airport will be built out of government funds as part of the federal grants that are to be made throughout the country. I am very much encouraged after talking with Mr. Wentworth."

The airport project will involve the expenditure of about $6,000,000, of which 74 per cent will go to labor, either directly or indirectly, over the period of a year. The Chicago delegation is seeking an outright grant of funds for the work. It is to be situated directly east of the Adler planetarium on a triangular built up island. The base of the triangle will be parallel to the shore line. The airport's location will bring the terminus of all air travel into and out of the city to within ten minutes' ride of the center of the loop.

Dispatches from Washington yesterday said that the delegation headed by Mr. Wentworth, chairman of the architecture committee of the plan commission, conferred with officials of the war, commerce, and treasury departments during the day.

Indorsed by Official.

Hearty indorsement of the airport plan was given by Maj. J. Carroll Cone, assistant director of the aeronautics branch of the department of commerce, and a wartime friend of Mr. Wentworth. This bureau has direct supervision over all commercial air transportation.

Maj. Cone has undertaken the task of speeding the project through official channels, the dispatches said. The plan was also taken under consideraion by J. W. Robert Jr., assistant secretary of the treasury in charge of buildings. The delegation plans to lay the proposal before Secretary of the Interior Ickes today.

The lake front airport plan has been approved by Mayor Kelly, the aero commission, and the plan commission, in which it originated. The city council voted approval of the plan ten days ago. Republican and Democratic congressmen of Chicago have sent a joint appeal to government officials in Washington urging that the airport plan be approved. Air line operators, postoffice officials, and air express companies also urge the building of the airport as the greatest step Chicago can make to improve the city's position as a center of air travel.

BRITISH TANKER RESCUES CREW OF BURNING SHIP

S. S. PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT, AT SEA, July 17.—(AP)—The rescue of the crew of a blazing vessel in mid-Atlantic was reported in a terse wireless message picked up by this liner today.

The message was from the S. S. San Gaspar, a British tanker, 120 miles north of the Azores. It said:

"Newfoundland schooner John Millett abandoned and on fire, latitude 41 degrees, 58 minutes north, longitude 30 degrees, 50 minutes west. Crew rescued."

The S. S. San Gaspar was last reported sailing from Buenos Aires June 15 for Puerto Mexico, Mex. She is owned by the Eagle Oil and Shipping company, Ltd., of London. The John Millett is listed as three-masted wooden vessel of 184 gross tons, owned, according to the latest shipping records, by J. W. King of St. John's, Newfoundland.

FAIR FAN DANCER AND MODEL FACE WRIT SUIT TODAY

Sally Rand, the fan dancer of the Streets of Paris, bizarre World's Fair attraction, and Dorothy Kibbee of the Embassy hotel, one of the models in the Atelier—life class—at the same concession, were served with subpoenas last night to appear this morning in Judge Denis E. Sullivan's court, where an injunction proceeding seeking to enjoin "lewd and lascivious dances and exhibitions" at the Streets of Paris will be heard.

Attorney Mary Belle Spencer, who filed the injunction action a month ago, went to the concession last night with the subpoenas. She served Miss Rand in her dressing room back of the stage in the Café de la Paix, where her dance is a star attraction. Miss Kibbee was posing and her subpoena was left in the hands of Roy Hall, general manager of the Streets of Paris, who promised that it would be served. Neither of the girls will be in court unless the judge wishes their testimony on the nature of the clothing they wear in their respective acts. Their attorneys will produce them if desired.

Miss Rand is employed by Streets of Paris, Inc. Miss Kibbee is employed by John McMahon, the life class concessionaire. In her petition Attorney Spencer seeks to enjoin most of the shows in the Streets of Paris on the ground that they present "lewd and lascivious" attractions. She singled out the two concessions as illustrative of the type of entertainment she wishes discontinued.

GERMAN PAPER SUSPENDED FOR STORY ON BALBO

Dispatches from Berlin yesterday stated that the newspaper Deutsche Zeitung had been suspended for three months by the Nazi government, on the ground that it had published an item stating that Gen. Italo Balbo, leader of the Italian air armada in Chicago, was once inducted into the Jewish faith.

Herman Goering, minister without portfolio, who issued the order, asserted the story was designed to undermine German-Italian friendship.

The only comment on the matter in Chicago came from Giuseppe Castruccio, Italian consul general. He said that he had known Gen. Balbo for many years, that he was a native Italian and had never been taken into the Jewish faith.

J. W. Harriman Tries to Leap from Ferries

New York, July 17.—[Special.]—The wanderings of Joseph W. Harriman, former chairman of the Harriman National Bank and Trust company, who disappeared today from the Regent nursing home for the second time since his indictment on a charge of falsifying the bank's accounts, have been traced up to 12:55 p. m.

During the federal hearing into his mental condition last week to see if he should stand trial Harriman had heard physicians testify that his failure to carry out his suicidal intent at Roslyn, when he injured himself with a knife, indicated an unsound mind. One doctor testified that a more certain method of self-destruction than stabbing would be to jump in the river or in the path of a subway train.

Twice Climbs Ship Rails.

The banker, it is said, crossed the Hudson river six times on ferryboats today. During that time he twice attempted to leap into the river, according to Capt. John W. Johnson of the railroad police at a Jersey City terminal.

At 10:15 a. m. the sixty-eight year old banker rode down in a service elevator and strolled out the servants' entrance of the nursing home. He entered a taxicab and was last seen by the driver running into the Liberty street ferry slip. Nothing further was heard of Mr. Harriman until Capt. Johnson discovered his trail.

According to the railroad detective, deck hands prevented Harriman from leaping from the upper deck of two different ferry boats.

Capt. Johnson said he knew Harriman from photographs that had been published. It was said Harriman was aboard the ferry boat which left Liberty street, New York, at 10:30 a. m., got off at the Jersey City terminal, wandered about the station for more than thirty minutes, then, at 11:13 a. m., he boarded the Wilkes-Barre, headed for Liberty street.

Trying to Inspect Boat.

A deckhand stopped Harriman, who was climbing over a rail on the upper deck, Johnson said, adding that the deckhand shouted:

"What are you trying to do?"

"I just wanted to see how the understructure of the boat was made," the man told the deckhand.

This same passenger got off at Liberty street, wandered about the waiting room, then boarded a ferryboat and returned to Jersey City. There he almost immediately went aboard the Cranford, bound for West Twenty-third street, New York. He gazed from a rail for most of that trip. At the Jersey side, he rested in the waiting room and at 12:35 p. m. boarded the Somerville bound for West Twenty-third street. A deckhand caught him climbing over a top deck rail, Johnson said.

At the Manhattan terminal this passenger called a cab and drove away.

Federal Judge Francis G. Caffey adjourned the hearing into Harriman's sanity and United States Attorney George Z. Medalie moved for forfeiture of his $25,000 bond.

HELPS INJURED BIRD; ARRESTED AS LAW VIOLATOR

Evansville, Ind., July 17.—[Special.]—A kind heart may bring jail for Foster Lewis, proprietor of a school supply company here. Lewis found a redbird with a broken leg in his yard and, to protect it from cats and other dangers, took it in and fed it and tended it until the leg had mended. The grateful bird when well refused to leave him. Edwin W. Aleon, deputy game warden, swore out a warrant against Lewis, charging him with "illegal possession of a redbird in violation of section 6 of the migratory bird treaty act."

Lewis pleaded guilty today when arraigned before United States Commissioner Robert C. Enlow. He was bound over to the federal grand jury.

Lewis declares if he is sent to jail he will leave the United States upon his release.

ITALIAN FLYERS PARADE TODAY IN MICHIGAN AVE.

Chicago's last opportunity to see Gen. Italo Balbo and his fellow aviators before their departure for Italy tomorrow will be accorded this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, when they will be taken in parade up Michigan avenue from the Stevens hotel to the link bridge.

This was arranged late yesterday after a conference between Mayor Kelly, leaders of the Italian-American societies, Maj. Reed Landis, chairman of the reception committee; George Rossetter, president of the Association of Commerce, and A Century of Progress officials.

Cavalry to Escort Flyers.

It will be in the nature of a general civic demonstration, and will afford the public their first close glimpse of the Italians. They will ride in army cars and will be escorted by the cavalry troops from Camp Whistler at the World's Fair grounds. The members of the Italian-American societies will line up along Michigan avenue to greet them.

This parade will follow a luncheon which will be given Gen. Balbo and his comrades today by Rear Admiral Wat T. Cluverius at the Stevens hotel. When the procession reaches the Michigan avenue bridge the troops will present sabers and leave the flyers to an escort of army officers, who will take them to Fort Sheridan.

The program at the fort is to begin at 3:30 with a review on the parade ground. This will be followed by an aerial demonstration by army planes from Selfridge field, Mich., exhibition jumping by army riders, and a polo game. A reception at the Officers' club will conclude the afternoon. Maj. Gen. and Mrs. Frank Parker and Brig. Gen. and Mrs. Frank C. Bolles will receive.

Balbo to Visit Roosevelt.

During a brief visit at Mayor Kelly's office in the city hall at noon yesterday Gen. Balbo was given a golden key to the city and accepted an invitation to visit President Roosevelt in Washington. The invitation to meet the President was given by Postmaster General Farley, who was in Chicago en route to the Elks' convention at Milwaukee.

Immaculate in white dress uniform, Gen. Balbo accepted both honors gravely and then his brilliant smile flashed as he responded with evident pleasure. Augusto Russo, Italian ambassador to the United States, translated the general's brief response: "We consider it a great honor to visit this great country and we shall accept with pleasure the invitation to visit the President."

It was indicated that the flyers would make the trip to Washington after they reach New York, the first objective on their return flight to Italy from Chicago. The mode of their conveyance to the national capital has not been determined.

Throngs Greet Air Leader.

Gen. Balbo was accompanied to the city hall by Gen. Aldo Pellegrini and Col. Ulisse Longo, his chief flight aids; Giuseppe Castruccio, Italian consul general in Chicago, and United States military and naval aids. His appearance at the La Salle street entrance of the hall was met by cries of "Viva, Balbo!" from thousands of loop workers who filled the street.

The formal call at Mayor Kelly's office was the first official function of the day. On Sunday Gen. Balbo had remarked that his men needed rest after their long flight of Saturday and the almost continuous round of entertainment and official functions that night and on Sunday, so the program arranged for yesterday morning and afternoon was canceled in part.

After the call at the mayor's office Gen. Balbo and his party were driven to Grant park, where, just east of the Field museum, they had a preview of the Columbus monument. The monument was unveiled by Judge Francis J. Borrelli after a short talk by Consul General Castruccio. Several hundred persons witnessed the unveiling and cheered Gen. Balbo.

Made an Indian Chief.

Later in the afternoon, after a period of rest at the Drake hotel, Gen. Balbo and his staff went to the Indian village at the World's Fair where the general was made a member of the Sioux tribe and christened "Chief Flying Eagle." This event was witnessed by several thousand Fair visitors and was preceded by a colorful ceremonial which Gen. Balbo watched with interest.

Balbo Turns Night Playboy at Fairground

Gen. Italo Balbo satisfied a grand desire early this morning—one that he had flown 7,000 miles to realize. He visited the World's Fair in the role of an ordinary, carefree visitor.

To do so the distinguished aviator slipped away from the brilliance and flattery of a social gathering and reception at the Casino club in East Delaware place where he and his men were being fêted by Prince Potenziani and other notables. This function was one of many that the general had attended since his arrival Saturday, some of them at the Fair. But even there he had not really "seen" the Fair.

About 1 o'clock this morning while the Casino club dance was at its height, Gen. Balbo confided to Maj. Reed Landis, chairman of the armada reception arrangements, that he would like to visit the exposition in private, free from the crowds and attention that have followed his every move. He said he would even like to get away from his men. Maj. Landis nodded.

Sheds His Uniform.

In a few minutes Maj. Landis gathered a small party, including himself, the general, Mrs. Harold Strotz, Mrs. Morton Schwartz, William C. Boyden, a Mrs. Alexander, a Mrs. Maxwell and another woman. Gen. Balbo stole away and changed into a dark business suit. He pulled a slouch hat over his eyes, and then with his friends slipped away. The party arrived at the 14th street entrance of the Fair, where it was met by Maj. Lenox R. Lohr, and driven to the Midway.

Thereupon Gen. Balbo became a playboy, indistinguishable from Hiram Jones from Poduck Center. He was just another visitor. He grinned and his eyes sparkled in anticipated thrill. This was his big moment.

The party's first adventure was in the auto scooter concession where patrons drive about in electrically operated cars which can be steered so as to collide with other cars. Here members of the group made a surprise attack on Gen. Balbo, but he turned the tables, laughing, and jolted them around the ring.

Shows Himself a "Southpaw."

Next the general and his companions stopped at the African Dodger concession where Negroes are dropped into a tub of water by hitting a spring bull's eye with a baseball. Gen. Balbo was puzzled for a moment, but got the idea and picked up several balls. He revealed himself as a "southpaw." On his third throw he toppled a Negro into the water. The general laughed gleefully.

His hosts steered him to the shooting gallery. There he knocked down seven of the nine moving squirrels, but hit only one of ten claypipes. This nettled him. He picked up an automatic pistol, fired six shots in succession and hit five bull's eyes.

For the next half hour, Gen. Balbo and his party rested at the Manhattan beer garden, listening to the music of Ernie Young's orchestra, and some of them refreshing themselves with beer. The general enjoyed this, and was all smiles.

Scared Away from Guinan.

Then the group started for the Pirate Ship where Texas Guinan and her girls hold forth. Here a coincidence deprived Gen. Balbo of a look-in on night club life. As he and his companions were about to enter the place there was a burst of applause. It was for an act, just finished. Gen. Balbo believed, however, his incognito had been penetrated, and he backed away. He wanted privacy.

The general contented himself after that with watching the lighting effects on the grounds, which, he said, he admired thoroughly. Then he returned to the 14th street Court of Honor and with his party boarded waiting automobiles. Motorcycle police attended.

Soon after Gen. Balbo was back in his hotel, all smiles, as happy as a boy who had played hookey from school.

GLOBE FLYER COVERS 6,726 MILES; GOES ON

Leaves Novo-Sibirsk for Irkutsk.

Plan Heroes' Burial

The Lithuanian government yesterday offered to give a national funeral to Capt. Stephen Darius and Stanley Girenas, Chicago flyers who were killed in the crash of their plane near Soldin, Germany, after a 4,000 mile flight from New York. Capt. Darius' family here in Chicago consented and Girenas' next of kin, who lives in Lithuania, is expected to consent. The bodies of the aviators are lying in state at Soldin with an honor guard of Nazi storm troopers pending their removal today to Kaunas, capital of Lithuania. Details on page 2.

NOVO-SIBIRSK, Siberia, July 18 [Tuesday].—(AP)—Wiley Post hopped off toward Irkutsk, Siberia, at 9:02 a. m. today, Moscow time [1:02 a. m. Chicago daylight saving time], just 2 hours and 35 minutes after completing an 1,818 mile hop from Moscow in 13 hours and 15 minutes, at an average speed of 138 miles an hour, compared to the 150 miles an hour average from New York to Berlin.

Post said he planned to stay overnight at Irkutsk before continuing, perhaps to Kharbarovsk, Siberia, whence he is scheduled to take off for Nome, Alaska.

By cutting short his stay here he gained six hours and 38 minutes more on the time he made with Harold Gatty on a round the world hop in 1931. At that time the pair stayed here nine hours 13 minutes.

66 Hours Out of New York.

Post left Moscow at 5:12 p. m. Monday [9:12 a. m. Chicago daylight time] and arrived here at 6:27 a. m. [10:27 p. m. Monday, Chicago daylight time] 13 hours and 15 minutes later, and 66 hours 17 minutes after leaving New York last Saturday.

On his departure he was 16 hours 57 minutes ahead of the time he and Gatty took for a like distance.

Post has completed slightly more than half the distance of his world flight, or 6,726 miles figured on an air line basis. He maintained that at his average flying time so far he would be back in New York in less than three full days.

"Just a Second—Here He Is."

A representative of the Associated Press was talking to officials at the Novo-Sibirsk airport on the telephone when Post's Winnie Mae swooped down on the field.

"We're expecting him any minute," began the attendant in answer to inquiries about the American flyer.

"Just a second—he's coming down now!"

Greeted by U. S. Girl Flyer.

As soon as Post's plane touched the ground Fay Gillis, an American aviatrix who made refueling arrangements for him, and Ivan Roncharoff, chief of the Novo-Sibirsk airport, rushed out on the field to greet him.

They greeted him as he poked his head out of the cockpit. A doctor joined them and started an examination of the Oklahoman. Miss Gillis acted as interpreter.

[On his previous flight with Gatty the white and purple Winnie Mae came down at Novo-Sibirsk 76 hours and 36 minutes after leaving New York.]

Retraces Record Breaking Flight.

MOSCOW, July 17.—(AP)—Retracing his record breaking flight across Russia two years ago, Wiley Post, American round the world solo flyer who left Moscow late today, had reached the approximate half way stage of his dash for Novo-Sibirsk, Siberia, late tonight if all was going well.

Although Post was unreported six hours after he raced away from the soviet capital, little importance was attached to this fact because it was believed here he had flown so high he would not be observed in the smaller places over which he was to pass.

At 10:30 p. m. [2:30 p. m. Chicago time], the airport at Kazan, over which the Oklahoma aviator was to fly three hours out of Moscow, announced that nothing had been seen or heard of Post in his ship, the Winnie Mae.

At that hour Post should have been in the vicinity of Sverdlovsk, which is about half way between Moscow and Novo-Sibirsk. Before leaving here Post said that he hoped to reach Novo-Sibirsk in ten hours and a half.

On arriving at Moscow today from Koenigsberg, where he landed yesterday, Post was four hours and 24 minutes ahead of the schedule which he and Harold Gatty set in the same plane in 1931.

By declining to take a long rest at Moscow, Post gained on his previous record and left here 13 hours and 2 minutes ahead of the schedule he and his partner set two years ago.

Shows Signs of Fatigue.

The American airman showed distinct signs of fatigue when he took off for Novo-Sibirsk, 1,818 miles to the east. He had remained in Moscow only two hours and 52 minutes after landing here from Koenigsberg, hopping off for the flight into Asia at 5:12 p. m. [9:12 a. m. Chicago time].

Weather conditions were said to be extremely favorable for Post on the Moscow-Novo-Sibirsk leg of his journey. As far as the Ural mountains beautiful weather prevailed, while to the east of this barrier it was forecast that clouds which then obscured the sky would clear up before the American's arrival in that area.

Although swaying with weariness when he stepped out of his ship, Post refused to take any sleep, but he did make use of his stop here to visit a barber shop for the removal of two days' growth of whiskers.

Robot Pilot Disappointment.

His robot pilot, Post asserted, had been a big disappointment, making such difficulties that he had been required to steer the ship manually all the way from New York.

Post blamed his mechanical co-pilot for a deviation of 100 miles off his course between Koenigsberg and Moscow, and it was because of faulty steering by the robot, he said, that he landed at the East Prussian capital last night.

When he hopped off this afternoon the American aviator was of the opinion that both the robot trouble and the leaky gasoline feed had been remedied.

Post ate very little here. Soviet officials were concerned over his abstinence and urged more food upon him, but he declined, saying:

"I eat only enough to keep from weakening myself. I purposely stay hungry so I can keep awake."

Carries Boiled Water.

His two vacuum bottles were filled with boiled water by his orders just before Post left Moscow.

The Oklahoman had a clean shave but a dirty shirt when he roared away. His only baggage, a suitcase, was left behind at Koenigsberg when he forgot it, and he will not hereafter have any change of his own clothing.

Koenigsberg aviator officials desired to forward the American's baggage by the next commercial plane, but Post replied: "I can't wait for it. Just have it sent home for me."

On arriving at Moscow Post had an elapsed time of 50 hours and 10 minutes since leaving New York. The flyer, however, was behind the ideal schedule which he drew up for himself before leaving the United States. Time was lost in Berlin through slow refueling and in Koenigsberg because of rain.

Forced Back by Weather.

Post, who left New York early Saturday morning, landed at Berlin Sunday morning, having covered the distance in 25 hours and 45 minutes in spite of bad weather over a large part of the route.

Leaving the German capital after he had refreshed himself with a long, cold shower bath and by a nap in his ship while it was being refueled, the American took off for Novo-Sibirsk, but halted again at Koenigsberg in East Prussia when after crossing the soviet frontier he encountered heavy atmospheric conditions.

Dead tired, Post took a long rest at Koenigsberg sleeping in a bunk at the airdrome, then resumed the flight for Novo-Sibirsk again today. The troubles with his robot pilot and the leakage in the gasoline feed, however, induced him to descend at Moscow.

HITLER FORCES CATHOLIC WOMEN FROM REICHSTAG

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, July 17.—Twelve women members of the Reichstag and the Prussian diet were forced to surrender their mandates today. The women are members of the Catholic Centrist party and have been refused permission to join Chancellor Hitler's Nazi party in the two parliaments.

Churchmen, all men over 60, and all members of the Centrist party who were members of cabinets in the republican era, also were refused the hospitality of the Hitler party. As a result one-third of the former Centrist party has been barred from participating in politics, according to the semi-official Wandelhalle.

WIFE'S "HURRY HOME!" SPURS ON WORLD AIRMAN

New York, July 17.—(AP)—The prospect of glory is not the only spur that is sending Wiley Post hurtling around the globe. There is also a stern injunction from his wife to "hurry home."

Mrs. Post talked with her husband at Koenigsberg, Germany, by telephone last night. The conversation was terse.

"Well, how do you feel?" she asked.

"Swell."

"Well, hurry home."

"You bet I will."

"Well, I'll be seeing you soon."

"O. K. So long."

ROOSEVELT SON, FREE, FLIES TO A GIRL IN CHICAGO

Boards Plane in Nevada After Divorce.

Elliott Roosevelt, second son of President and Mrs. Roosevelt, who was divorced yesterday at Minden, Nev., by Mrs. Elizabeth Donner Roosevelt, will arrive in Chicago by plane about noon today. He left Reno last night aboard a United Air Lines ship in company with Attorney and Mrs. Samuel Platt of New York.

Young Roosevelt, it is understood, will leave the Chicago airport immediately upon his arrival and proceed to the Flamingo hotel, 5520 South Shore drive. This hotel is about a block and a half from the Windermere East hotel, 1642 East 56th street, where Miss Ruth Googins, of Fort Worth, Tex., is staying with her mother while visiting the World's Fair. Miss Googins has been mentioned as a close friend of the President's son.

Reports of Romance Denied.

Speculation arose last night as to whether any significance could be attached to the reported plan of Mr. Roosevelt to stop at a hotel so near where Miss Goggins is staying. For more than a month their names have been linked in reports of a romance. Denials of this have come from both sides, however. Nevertheless reports emphasizing their friendship have persisted and have even mentioned the possibility of a Chicago marriage—perhaps tonight or tomorrow.

News of the divorce at Minden and of Elliott's arrangements for a flight here sent reporters to Miss Googins' hotel yesterday. She evaded them by leaving the hotel through a service entrance. Late in the afternoon she telephoned the manager to find out if the interviewers were gone, and when told that they were not, she announced that she would not return to the hotel until after midnight.

First Meeting in Fort Worth.

Miss Googins first met the President's son at Fort Worth in March while he was a guest of the Southwestern exposition. He and his companion, Ralph V. Hitchcock, had planned to stay in Fort Worth only for a day. Instead, they remained several days, and then went to Tucson, Ariz.

Not long afterward Roosevelt and Hitchcock returned to Fort Worth and stayed a week, registering at the Fort Worth club as E. Roberts and R. Hudson.

It was during this visit that reports of a romance were spread. Miss Googins denied them. "I only know the boy," she said.

Miss Googin is 22 years old, slight, with dark brown hair and hazel eyes. She is a leader in Fort Worth Junior league affairs. Her mother is Mrs. J. B. Googins, widow of a packing house manager.

Divorce Hearing Is Secret.

Minden, Nev., July 17.—[Special.]—After a hearing behind locked doors Mrs. Elizabeth Donner Roosevelt was awarded a divorce in District court here today from Elliott Roosevelt, second son of the President of the United States.

Guards stood at the doors of the courtroom, barring entrance to all but court officials, the attorneys and Mr. Roosevelt. Mrs. Roosevelt's testimony, supporting her cross complaint that her husband had treated her with extreme cruelty, was given in the form of a deposition sent from Philadelphia.

Neither the statements of Mr. Roosevelt, who originally filed the divorce suit, nor the contents of the deposition were made public. It is understood, however, that the wife based her plea largely on the fact that there was a clash of temperaments that made further life together impossible.

Mr. Roosevelt was said to have testified only to his legal residence in Nevada.

The Roosevelts were married at Bryn Mawr, Pa., Jan. 16, 1932. The bride was the daughter of William H. Donner of Villa Nova, steel company executive, and Mrs. Donner. One child, William Donner Roosevelt, was born to the couple on Nov. 17, 1932.

ROOSEVELT HAS COLD, BUT MAKES ADDRESS TO FOREST WORKERS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., July 17.—[Special.]—Suffering from a slight cold, President Roosevelt kept to this room today. The President caught cold on his week-end cruise on Chesapeake bay, from which he returned last night. His indisposition was not serious enough to require a doctor, it was said at the White House, but business and callers were kept to a minimum. In the evening the President broadcast a brief radio speech addressed to members of the reforestation corps.

"In speaking to you men of the civilian conservation corps," he said, "I think of you as a visible token of encouragement to the whole country. You—nearly 300,00 strong—are evidence that the nation is still strong enough and broad enough to look after its citizens.

"You are evidence that we are seeking to get away as fast as we possibly can from soup kitchens and free rations—because the government is paying you wages and maintaining you for actual work—work which is needed now and for the future and will bring a definite financial return to the people of the nation.

"It is time for each and every one of us to cast away self-destroying, nation-destroying efforts to get something for nothing and to appreciate that satisfying reward and safe reward come only through honest work."

BEGGAR DITCHES CRUTCH; SPRINTS; GETS SIX MONTHS

Mathew Bauler, 37 years old, 2011 Sedgwick street, a beggar, was sentenced to six months in the Bridewell yesterday by Municipal Judge Leon Edelman after Al Lovendall, Lincoln park policeman, told how Bauler dropped his crutch and sprinted down the sidewalk when he appeared.

He found Bauler begging outside the Belden-Stratford hotel, Lovendall testified. Bauler admitted that he had gone there in the hope of getting alms from some of the Italian flyers of Gen. Balbo's force who were visiting there.

"I was discharged from the civilian conservation corps two weeks after I joined up," Bauler said. "I thought I could make more money begging. I figured that if the flyers saw my discharge papers they would think I was a war veteran, and so I got the crutches to make it look good."

MERCHANTS TURN $46,705 SALES TAX OVER TO RELIEF

Additional gifts to the Emergency Welfare fund totaling $46,705.45, representing money collected through the April sales tax, later held illegal, were announced yesterday by Frank D. Loomis, secretary. Firms turning the sales tax money over to the charity, and the amounts follow:

Sears, Roebuck & Co.	$42,350.55
Charles A. Stevens & Co.	4,050.00
George M. Chandler.	9.88
Jenkins Brothers.	110.59
National Tea company.	34.43
Continental Products company.	150.00

This gives the welfare fund a grand total of $178,641.83 received in sales tax collections that could not be returned to customers by various concerns. Mr. Loomis expressed his thanks for the funds, adding that additional contributions will be gratefully accepted.

THREE PIGS AT 5C CALLED ILLEGAL; SALE IS REVOKED

Eastern Court Acts in Farm Case.

Doylestown, Pa., July 17.—(AP)—A sheriff's sale of a farmer's property for $1.18—at which pigs went under the hammer at three-for-a-nickel, and horses and bulls at five cents each—was termed "fraudulent" today by the Bucks County court and the money was ordered refunded to the purchasers.

The property was that of John Hanzell, Bedminster township farmer. Judge Hiram H. Keller, who rendered the decision, charactrized as "irregular" and "unfair" the sale which Sheriff Horace Gwinner declared had been held under duress.

Farmers Buy Up Assets.

The property was bought in by a committee of three of the Farmers' Protective association, who did all the bidding. The sale was held to satisfy a judgment of $1,800 held against Hanzell by Jacob Laufensweiler for an unpaid loan.

Several hundred farmers, sympathizing with Hanzell's circumstances, milled about the farm during the sale. Sheriff Gwinner later declared his deputies and potential higher bidders were threatened. After the property was sold, it was turned back to Hanzell by the committee for one dollar under a 99-year lease.

The sheriff asked that the sale be set aside and hearings were held in which both the sheriff and his deputies and the farmers testified.

Attacks Sale as Unfair.

Judge Keller declared the evidence showed "overwhelmingly" that the sale was held "under conditions which were irregular and unfair, and that it was deliberately planned by an organization."

He ordered the money refunded to the committee and pointed out that others who attended the sale were threatened with bodily harm if they bid. The three members of the committee who purchased the property, valued at $700, were Peter Kodas, Paul Gross, and John Niezney.

LYLE ASKS WRIT TO FORBID SLASH IN JUDGES' PAY

Municipal Judge John H. Lyle yesterday filed a bill for an injunction in the Superior court in behalf of his fellow judges to restrain Mayor Kelly, City Treasurer Kearns, City Controller Upham, and city of Chicago from reducing his pay under the budget ordinance of last June 14. Under the budget his pay and that of other judges would be cut from $10,000 a year to $7,862 and that of Chief Justice Sonsteby from $15,000 to $11,794.

In the bill Judge Lyle declares that under the state constitution and the act creating the Municipal court the city council cannot reduce the salary of judges while they are in office. He is represened by Attorney James W. Breen, former first assistant corporation counsel.

LITHUANIA PLANS STATE BURIAL FOR CHICAGO FLYERS

Nation Stunned by Deaths of Ocean Heroes.

BY SIGRID SCHULTZ.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

SOLDIN, Pomerania, Germany, July 17.—Deep in mourning over the tragic deaths of the two Chicago flyers, Capt. Stephen Darius and Stanley Girenas, Lithuania today officially offered to bury the trans-Atlantic air heroes in Lithuanian soil and give them a state funeral. The airmen will be buried in the National cemetery at Kaunas, capital of Lithuania.

[The family of Capt. Darius here in Chicago last night consented to this plan. Girenas' closest relative, a brother, resides in Lithuania and it was assumed he, also, would give his consent.]

Killed 400 Miles from Goal.

The flyers were killed at dawn today when their big orange colored Bellanca monoplane, Lituanica, crashed into a forest at Kuhdamm, five miles south of here, after a 4,000 mile nonstop flight from New York. The scene of the disaster is about 400 miles from Kaunas, their goal. It is estimated that the aviators had been in the air about 36 or 38 hours up to the time of the crash. They took off from New York at 5:24 a. m. Saturday [Chicago daylight saving time].

The bodies of the aviators tonight lay in the chapel of Soldin cemetery with an honor guard of six brown shirted Nazi storm troopers. The remains were brought here this evening after authorities had inspected the wreckage of their ill-fated plane and made an inventory of the remaining effects of the flyers.

Gasoline Tanks Empty.

The official investigation showed that the flyers had not a single drop of gasoline left in their tank and that all their reserve gas had been used up. It is believed that in an effort to reach a nearby meadow for a landing they misjudged the height of the centuries old fir trees, hit the branches and crashed. Both were killed instantly. The motor of the plane was torn out and deeply buried in the earth, yet it showed evidences that the descent was not due to failure of the motor.

The log book of the airmen was found in the wreckage. It was started in Chicago and traced their progress across the ocean and up to London, over which they flew. It showed that after leaving New York they flew to Ragged Harbor, Newfoundland, from where they headed over the Atlantic. They followed a straight line to Ireland and then to London. There the entries ceased.

An electric flashlight was still burning and a clock was still ticking at 7 o'clock this morning when the wreckage was discovered. The clock registered exact central European time.

Nazis Guard Wreckage.

A delegation of Lithuanian officers will arrive here from Kaunas tomorrow to attend to the removal of the bodies. It is planned to take them to Berlin or Stettin and from there by airplane to Kaunas.

Residents here, deeply stirred by the deaths of the flyers, plan to erect a memorial stone in Soldin forest where they crashed. The wings of the wrecked plane have disappeared completely, all bits having been carried off by souvenir hunters. Nazi storm troopers tonight are standing guard over the rest of the wreckage.

The disaster is believed to have occurred shortly after midnight Sunday during a driving rainstorm. Farmers near Kuhdamm said that about that time they heard a resounding crash in the forest. At 7 o'clock this morning, when peasant women entered the woods to pick berries, they discovered the wreckage.

Tending to confirm the time of the crash was a report that residents of Stargard, northeast of Soldin, had heard a plane circling over the town at 11:30 p. m. Saturday. It could not be recognized in the darkness, but it is believed it might have been the Kaunas-bound Americans, since there is no night airline in the Stargard district.

Koenigsberg also heard the drone of a motor, and from this it is deduced that the flyers lost their way and circled around in the same cloudburst which compelled Wiley Post to stay at Koenigsberg instead of continuing to Russia. Koenigsberg tried to attract the attention of the mystery plane by shooting up rockets, but they were lost in the rain.

Lithuania Grief-Stricken.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

KAUNAS, Lithuania, July 17.—The death of the two Lithuanian-American pilots, Stephen Darius and Stanley Girenas, was received in Lithuania today as a national catastrophe. Both men were regarded as national heroes. The government upon receiving the news of the disaster immediately declared a period of national mourning.

The Lithuanian capital had prepared a rousing greeting for the ocean flyers. At midnight Sunday Prime Minister Jonas Tubelius, accompanied by most of the members of the cabinet, motored to the flying field, where an enormous crowd awaited the plane. Despite stormy weather, the crowd awaited the plane until daybreak.

DEATH ENDS FLIGHT

Arrow indicates where trans-Atlantic flight of Stephen Darius and Stanley Girenas of Chicago came to a tragic end after 4,000 mile hop from New York. The airmen were killed 400 miles from Kaunas, Lithuania, their goal.

FAMILY GRIEVES HERE

Capt. Stephen Darius and Stanley Girenas, Chicago flyers who died early yesterday when their plane crashed as they neared Kaunas, Lithuania, their goal on a trans-Atlantic flight, will be given heroes' burial in their native land.

The suggestion of Lithuanian authorities that the two aviators be given a state funeral was transmitted to the family of Capt. Darius here by Antanas Kalvaitis, Lithuanian consul in Chicago, and accepted by them.

Second Flyer an Orphan.

Girenas was an orphan. His closest relatives in Chicago were his cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Frank M. Kolaitis, with whom he lived at 3433 West 61st place. A brother, Peter Girenas, also lived with them, but returned to Lithuania some time ago. Girenas had been an army air corps mechanic during the war, received a pilot's license later, and for a time conducted a flying school at Harvey. More recently he was a flying instructor at Ashburn field, near the city airport.

Mr. Kalvaitis, with Bronius Balutis, minister from his nation to the United States, and Povilas Zedelkis, Lithuanian consul general in New York, who saw the flyers off, paid a visit last evening to Mrs. Augustina Degutis, mother of Capt. Darius, in her home at 3239 South Halsted street. They extended the condolences of themselves and their government and told of arrangements for the funeral. Lithuania will declare a day of national mourning and will bury the two flyers in the national military cemetery near Launas, the capital, Mr. Kalvaitis said.

Changes Name as Soldier.

Capt. Darius was named Stephen Jucus. He changed his name when, as a boy of 19, he enlisted in "Reilly's Bucks," the 149th field artillery, on the day after the United States entered the world war. His mother has remarried since the death of his father.

In their mother's apartment the flyer's brothers, Stanley and William Jucus, and his sister, Mrs. Katherine Stulpin, told yesterday how the flight which terminated in his death had been his ambition since Col. Charles Lindbergh spanned the Atlantic in 1927.

After the close of the world war young Darius went to Lithuania and enlisted in the army there in the war which his country was waging with soviet Russia. Later he was transferred to the aviation corps, where he got his flying training and rose to the rank of captain.

Spend Bonus for Plane.

Capt. Darius returned to the United States in 1927. For years his lack of funds balked his ambition for a trans-Atlantic flight. First payments on the plane which he and Girenas flew were made out of their federal bonus checks. Later they received contributions from Lithuanian-Americans.

"Stephen was an expert navigator," said Stanley, brother of Capt. Darius. "We didn't worry after we learned that he had crossed the Atlantic safely. His ship might have been a better one, and our only fear was that he might be forced down in midocean."

Sister Tells of Visit.

Mrs. Stulpin, who visited her brother in New York shortly before he took off, discounted reports that the flyers had been influenced to make a hurried start, in the face of unfavorable weather reports, by the criticism of some of their financial backers.

"There was some criticism," she said, "but Stephen wasn't the kind of person to pay any attention to it. He was waiting for good weather for the flight, and I'm sure he didn't take off until he thought conditions were favorable."

SAMMONS FAILS TO RAISE BAIL; IS KEPT IN JAIL

James "Fur" Sammons, public enemy, was held in the county jail yesterday. Bail of $20,000 was required for his freedom and although he had $8,500 in cash on his person when he was arrested recently in Kansas City, Mo., he was unable to furnish bail.

Two old cases against Sammons, arising out of the International Harvester company robbery of several years ago, were reinstated. He was acquitted on the robbery charge but two charges of assault to murder, due to the wounding of two watchmen, were not tried and it was on these charges that he was taken into custody by the state's attorney's police.

HUTTON SUES TO DIVORCE AIMEE FOR 'BABY HOAX'

Says Evangelist's Paris Joke Humiliated Him.

BY GEORGE SHAFFER.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Los Angeles, Cal., July 17.—[Special.]—In a divorce action which, stripped of legal phrasing, declared that he was "beating her to the punch," David L. Hutton, portly spouse of the Rev. Aimee Semple McPherson, today filed suit for divorce in Los Angeles Superior court.

The suit, Hutton declared, was the result of his being informed that "before she left for Europe the defendant told various persons she wished to sever her marital relations with the plaintiff and to dismiss him from the business of the temple."

Mrs. McPherson, who is reported to be rushing here from France, will have her own statement to make, which will not be an overture for a reconciliation, according to her close associates in Angelus temple.

"Made Ridiculous."

It was practiced on him, Hutton avers, by his wife's course of conduct which made him "ridiculous" as a man and a husband. His feelings were anguished, Hutton says, by Mrs. McPherson's recent maneuver from the Paris hospital in which she underwent an abdominal operation in which, according to Hutton, she "perpetrated a hoax as to the birth of a baby."

When this sensation "was bandied about in the press of the world, although no baby was born," Hutton's complaint indicates, his forebearance was finished.

The 240 pound plaintiff, who was radio entertainer and choir leader before his dramatic wedding to the evangelist at the end of a plane flight to Yuma, Ariz., Sept. 13, 1931, and who was later sued for breach of promise by one woman, and threatened with suit by another, invited what is expected to prove a bitter legal battle when he demanded that Aimee divide with him the sums she has earned since their marriage. The demand was made under the California community property law which regards as joint earnings everything acquired by husband and wife subsequent to their marriage "unless the pair contract otherwise."

Fight Seen for Property.

It was understood that Aimee and Dave had signed such a contract, inasmuch as Mrs. McPherson so intimated in a deposition in the Myrtle St. Pierre $5,000 breach of promise judgment obtained against "Darling Dave" two years ago by the comley nurse.

But Jerome Mayo, Hutton's attorney, said: "Mrs. Hutton has acquired considerable sums since that marriage and the law is plain."

Hutton Hears from Aimee.

Hutton tonight received a wireless message from Mrs. McPherson, apparently bewildered by the day's fast developments in the Los Angeles divorce courts. The message read:

"Sweetheart: Reassure me your confidence. Wife."

Hutton's reaction to this was the following comment:

"Humph, looks almost like that baby hoax cablegram. She must be in the same hilarious frame of mind as when she cabled me we had a child."

Hutton expects to sell a motion picture scenario based on the experiences of a red-headed woman evangelist. His screen story is now in the hands of a Hollywood film agent.

Mrs. McPherson's marriage to Hutton was her third, her first husband, Robert Semple, dying as a missionary in Hongkong, China, in 1910, while her marriage to her second husband, Harold McPherson, grocery salesman, was ended with a divorce in McPherson's favor about ten years ago.

WIFE DISCREDITS SUIT.

ABOARD S. S. CITY OF HAVRE AT SEA, July 17.—[By Radio]—"Preposterous and unbelievable."

That was the response of Mrs. Aimee McPherson Hutton today when appraised of the filing of a suit for divorce by her husband, David Hutton of Los Angeles.

"Such a report," Mrs. Hutton exclaimed, "is preposterous. I simply cannot believe it. My husband and I love each other with deepest devotion and understanding. It is at his request that I am hurrying to him."

EVERGREEN PARK POLICE CASE IS CONTINUED AGAIN

Another continuance was granted yesterday by Justice of the Peace A. F. Heintz of Evergreen Park in the cases of three Chicagoans who accused two village policemen of beating them. The Chicagoans, defendants on minor charges, opposed the continuance through their attorney, Joseph H. Braun, general counsel for the Chicago Motor club.

The Chicagoans are Mr. and Mrs. Edwin G. Tuerk, 7826 Lowe avenue, and W. Don Lowrie, 6150 Greenwood avenue. The policemen in the case are Herbert Drabandt and Charles Roche. They arrested the Tuerks and Lowrie on June 18, and beat them, it is charged, when the arrest was protested. Since then the grand jury has charged the policemen with assault.

The Tuerks and Lowrie appeared before Justice Heintz yesterday for a hearing of the charges against them. However, Attorney W. Otto Wielgorecki, representing the policemen, asked a continuance because he had an afternoon appointment. The continuance was granted to Friday morning.

Secret Revealed

Helen Morgan, entertainer who is now appearing at the Chez Paree café, admitted last night that she is married to Maurice Maschke Jr., son of Maurice Maschke of Cleveland, O., Republican party leader.

Previously the couple had denied rumors of their marriage. The ceremony took place at New Castle, Pa., on May 15 and was performed by Justice of the Peace Harrison M. Reynolds. Miss Morgan gave her age as 28, the bridegroom his as 25. It was the first matrimonial venture for either.

Young Maschke recently completed law studies at Harvard university. He said he had wished to keep the wedding a secret until after he had taken his bar examinations. Miss Morgan, a native of Danville, Ill., made her first professional appearance some years ago in the Green Mill gardens on the north side. She has had wide experience on the stage and played in "Sweet Adeline" and "Show Boat." She has also played in vaudeville and the motion pictures.

EMPEROR'S ENVOY WILL BE GUEST AT WHITE HOUSE

Returns U. S. Courtesy to Ethiopia.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., July 17.—[Special.]—Ras Desta Demtu, special ambassador of his Imperial Majesty Haile Selassie I., king of the kings of Ethiopia, the Select of God, and Conquering Lion of the Tribe of Judah, will arrive in Washington tomorrow to return the visit of the American special mission which attended his imperial majesty's coronation in October, 1930.

Glory Enough for All.

The state department buzzed today with preparation for the visit. The bandmaster of the army band, which will be at the Union station to greet the ambassador's arrival, achieved a musical triumph; he procured copies of the Ethiopian national anthem. Emissaries proudly discovered a half dozen Ethiopian flags. It was officially announced that all honors due the high station and position of the ambassador on special mission will be accorded him in the way of military and naval demonstration.

On Wednesday the ambassador and his aid, Ato Paulos Manamano, Ethiopian consul general at Jerusalem, will take luncheon with the President at the White House. He will be entertained by the acting secretary of state, will visit the tomb of the unknown soldier and Mount Vernon. He will visit Annapolis. There he will have luncheon with the superintendent of the naval academy.

Has Private Kingdom.

In addition to being special ambassador, Ras Desta Demtu is a king in his own right, being overlord of the Ethiopian principalities of Sidamo and Kaffa. The "ras" before his name, it is explained, denotes his kingship. He is, moreover, husband of the emperor's eldest daughter and is described as about forty years of age and "of courtly and agreeable manner."

His skin is dark. As an Ethiopian he belongs to the non-Negro race which embraces certain Egyptian strains, the Berbers and the Tuaregs. And in his family is a definite intermixture of Semitic blood. His imperial highness, for example, claims direct descent from Menelik I., son of King Solomon and the queen of Sheba.

The visit of Ras Desta Demtu is to repay the visit of an American mission which went to Addis Ababa to attend the coronation of the then regent, Ras Tafari, as emperor.

It was not mere ceremoniousness that sent the American mission to Addis Abada. It is not mere courtesy that will prompt the show tomorrow or that causes the United States to keep in Ethiopia one of the two ministers to countries not represented in Washington. There are those who think Ethiopia has possibilities of trade development.

SHOT DURING BASEBALL QUARREL.

John Vesely, 18 years old, 1841 Loomis street, was shot in the right side yesterday during a quarrel in a sandlot baseball game at Blue Island avenue and 19th street. His wound is not serious, physicians said at the county hospital.

BOWERS WARNS SPAIN TO RELEASE 5 JAILED YANKS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

MADRID, Spain, July 17.—For the fourth time Ambassador Claude Bowers of the United States called on Fernando de los Rios, minister of foreign affairs, today to protest against the continued imprisonment of the five Americans who were thrown into a dungeon at Palma, Mallorca, six weeks ago. The prisoners are Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Lockwood of Springfield, Mass; Rutherford Fullerton of Columbus, O.; Roderick F. Mead of New York City, and Walter Blodgett of Stanford, Conn. All are prominent in the art colony on the island.

He again urged that the prisoners at least be released on bond pending trial, but this time he warned De los Rios of possible complications of great gravity. Mrs. Lockwood, a 24 year old musician, after spending a month and a half in a primitive cell with an insane native woman, has begun to show alarming symptoms, the ambassador informed the bearded humanitarian who was carried from the so-called Podel prison of Madrid to power by the revolution two years ago.

U. S. MILLIONAIRE ASKS TO BECOME BRITISH SUBJECT

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, July 17.—Alfred Chester Beatty, millionaire American financier and former associate of former President Hoover in mining ventures, today applied to the home office for naturalization as a British subject.

Beatty has lived in England for 25 years and has long been a prominent figure in London financial circles. He is chairman of nine mining companies and a director in four others.

"I have decided to give up my American nationality because, though I am very fond of both countries, I have taken root here and I've decided to leave my bones here," Beatty said.

Lindberghs Are Held in Labrador by Fog on Coast

ST. JOHN'S, Newfoundland, July 17.—(AP)—Col. and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh remained today at Cartwright, Labrador, where they have established a temporary base on their northern mapping cruise. Fog along the coast prevented any flying. The steamer Jelling, on which they had been quartered, sailed for Greenland with scientific apparatus for the expedition. Meanwhile the Lindberghs will be guests of the Hudson's Bay company.

REPEAL BY JAN. 1, FARLEY ASSERTS ANEW IN CHICAGO

Predicts No State in Dixie Will Vote Dry.

BY ARTHUR EVANS.

Postmaster General James A. Farley reiterated last night his forecast that national prohibition will be expunged from the federal constitution before New Year's.

Fresh from his appearance in Memphis, Tenn., Saturday night, when he addressed Democratic party leaders and officialdom from five or six southern states and expounded the covenant made by the party in its national platform last year making it the party of repeal, Mr. Farley declared no state in the south would break step in the repeal parade. The south has the nation's eye this week, for three southern states are to vote on repeal delegates, the first states in the south to submit the issue of national prohibition to the electorate.

Four Victories This Week.

Arkansas and Alabama, he predicted, will go for repeal at today's election, followed by Tennessee on Thursday. Oregon will follow suit on Friday. Thus he expects the present week will add four more states to the repeal procession, and run the total up to 20 states which will have voted to wipe out the 18th, or prohibition, amendment. Thirty-six states are necessary to ratify repeal.

Mr. Farley's estimate is that Arkansas and Alabama will go for repeal today three to two or better, and a similar story will be told in Tennessee Thursday.

"It is my profound conviction," said Mr. Farley, "that not a single state which submits the issue to the electorate will vote against ratification of repeal. The people are for repeal, and full demonstration of this has been given in the sixteen states which in unbroken line have already voted for repeal of national prohibition."

New's Guest at Balbo Dinner.

As the guest of Harry S. New, United States commissioner to A Century of Progress, himself a former postmaster general, Mr. Farley attended last night the dinner given by Mr. New at the Congress hotel to Gen. Balbo and his Italian flyers.

He later left for Milwaukee to attend the Elks convention. In nineteen years he has missed only two of these, and in fact the celebrated swing around the circle he made two years ago in the interest of rounding up delegates for Franklin D. Roosevelt in the pre-convention period grew out of a trip to the Elks convention on the Pacific coast.

During the day the postmaster general conferred with several of the local party leaders. He was with Mayor Kelly at the city hall at the reception to Gen. Balbo and the Italian flyers by the mayor, and later met a stream of visitors at his hotel quarters.

Patronage Waits on Lewis.

No patronage affairs were taken up, according to those who talked with Mr. Farley. Local leaders explained that discussion of several important appointments will not be taken up for the time being due to the physical indisposition of Senator James Hamilton Lewis, who is in the south recuperating from bronchial trouble. Intimations were that appointments are to be on a harmonized basis, with full agreement between the senators and the organization.

One report was that Ernest J. Kruetgen, as a leader of the German group, is under consideration at Washington for the Chicago postmastership to succeed Arthur C. Lueder, Republican, whose term has expired. Mr. Kruetgen has been recommended by both Senator Lewis and Senator Dieterich.

School Parent Association Praises Economy Program

Praise for the board of education's $5,000,000 economy program adopted in the face of certain opposition from educators and others interested in the schools was sounded yesterday by the Parents' Public School association, of which Mrs. Harvey A. Tyler is president. The organization sent a letter of commendation to James B. McCahey, president of the board.

"The association wishes to commend you and members of the board for the courage displayed in facing a very difficult situation," read the communication. "The recommendations presented by the economy committee and adopted by the board are drastic, but if carefully analyzed the interests of the children have been protected in that educational opportunities have been preserved.

No Regrets Over Junior Highs.

"The catapulting of the junior high school, as a separate unit, into the school system a few years back was the beginning of the breakdown of the educational integrity of our public schools. The idea behind the junior high of coördinating the work of the 7th and 8th grades more closely with the high schools need not be sacrificed in returning or retaining these two grades in the elementary schools."

The letter, which was signed by Mrs. Tyler, declared that in eliminating administrative and supervisory positions the board had shown a disposition to sacrifice "jobs" in the interest of instruction, and that music and art had been preserved minus "the frills."

Regrets Closing Parental School.

Members of the association, headed by Mrs. Tyler, declared that they felt deep regret that the parental school had been closed. They said that if the trustees had been given correct information as to the net cost of the school and the type of work done for children who find it impossible to make necessary adjustments in their neighborhood school or home, the measure would not have been recommended.

"It is somewhat difficult to understand the position some educators take on this question of economy," said the letter to Mr. McCahey. "Salaries and legitimate bills are not being paid, but that should not interfere with the expansion of the educational program, according to educators."

In conclusion, the organization stated a belief that the school board had left a solid foundation on which could be built a sound educational program.

Athletics to Go On, McCahey Says.

Mr. McCahey, president of the board of education, issued a statement last night to clarify the situation in regard to high school athletics. Various charges had been made during the day that athletic teams and interhigh school sports would be abolished, since the physical education teachers had been reduced in halt and the position of coach had been eliminated.

"There will be athletic teams in the Chicago high schools as in the past," asserted McCahey. "These are vital activities and the board would be absurd to jeopardize them.

"The board order in connection with physical education teachers was formulated in order that there would be efficiency in athletics as well as in other departments of the school system. We found that five or six or more athletic instructors were on the pay roll at one school, working perhaps two hours a day and playing pinochle the rest of the time. In other words, we are eliminating the soft jobs.

Shows Duplication of Jobs.

"Physical education teachers in the grade schools were eliminated entirely because of the function of the playground system. There is no reason why the taxpayers should support athletic instructors and playground instructors at the same time."

An example of the over-staffing in the physical education department was found last winter, when board records disclosed that there were fourteen athletic instructors in Schurz High school. The authority for this number comes from August H. Pritzlaff, director of physical education for the school system.

Despite the storm of protests from various interests, none of the members of the school board who voted for the economy program has changed his mind.

Late in the day Supt. William J. Bogan announced that no more details of the way in which the administrative officers were carrying out the orders of the school trustees would be made public until they held their next meeting.

P.-T.-A. Leaders Plan Protest.

Fifty presidents of south side parent-teacher organizations held a meeting yesterday afternoon in the Hamilton park fieldhouse to organize a protest against the economy program. It was decided to circulate petitions throughout the city and to write letters opposing the action to Mayor Kelly, Gov. Horner, aldermen, ward committeemen, and school trustees.

Mrs. H. H. Siddall, director of district 1, which embraces the P.-T. A. groups on the south side, declared that the board action was not final since the details of the program would be arranged at a meeting a week from tomorrow. Another indication that the board might reconsider its economies, she said, was seen when several clerks dismissed the day after the program was adopted had since been called back to their desks.

State President "Incensed."

"We simply are not going to stand for this action," asserted Mrs. Holland Flagler, president of the Illinois Congress of Parents and Teachers. "I don't know when I have been so incensed over the way in which this was done."

Then Mrs. Ray Gibson, president of the Bradwell P.-T. A., arose and demanded to know why the organization was departing from a well established policy of not interfering with the school board's business.

"This is not a time to quibble about technicalities," replied Mrs. Flagler. "It is a time to fight and I'll be responsible for what is done."

While the various teacher groups were busily engaged in trying to enlist public sympathy for the eliminated activities, which the school board characterized as "fads and frills" in its resolution, Attorney Allan Carter was preparing a bill for an injunction to overthrow the entire program. Mr. Carter, who was retained by the Principals' club, is expected to file the bill this week in the Circuit or Superior court.

CHAS. H. WEBERS' 2D MARRIAGE ENDS IN DIVORCE

Superior Judge Joseph Sabath indicated yesterday that he would grant a divorce decree to County Commissioner Charles H. Weber from Mrs. Eleanor L. Weber. The couple first married in 1917. Mrs. Weber got a divorce in 1925, but they were reconciled and remarried Aug. 4, 1925, at Waukegan. She filed suit for divorce again in 1928, but later withdrew that suit.

Mrs. Weber started the action yesterday, having filed a suit on charges of desertion. The bill was filed in the name of Eleanor Veebe, which Attorney Samuel B. Blanksten, representing Mrs. Weber, told Judge Sabath was the result of an error in typing in his office.

The bill was amended to spell the name properly and Attorney Jacob Shamberg then filed a cross bill on behalf of Weber, charging desertion. Judge Sabath said that he would sign a decree after Ald. Edwin F. Meyer [45th] and Frank Wagner, 1506 Diversey parkway, a precinct captain for Weber in the 45th ward, had testified to the desertion. There was a property settlement out of court, Judge Sabath was informed.

WOMEN ATTACK PROBLEMS BORN OF WORLD CHANGE

Noted Leaders Speak at International Parley.

BY KATHLEEN McLAUGHLIN.

Three famous women of three great nations last night faced a multitude of women in the grand ballroom of the Palmer house, and contributed their share to the first day's sessions of the International Congress of Women in connection with a Century of Progress.

They had heard Miss Jane Addams of Hull house exhort women's organizations in general to be a little less idealistic and a little more practical. They had listened to Dame Rachel Crowdy of England assert her optimism about the basic spirit of the economic conference at London. And learned from Dr. Yi-Fang Wu, president of Ginling college at Nanking, that the rapid advance of Chinese women is restoring to the sex such distinction as it enjoyed two centuries before Christ.

Jane Addams Is Speaker.

Miss Addams' talk dealt with the need for adopting new ideas to fit the changing conditions in the world.

"These transitional periods such as we find ourselves in," she said in part, "have always been difficult. Never has there been a time when it seemed safer to hang on to concepts which are no longer as valuable as they were, because the untried theories seem dangerous.

"It is doubtless true that women's organizations have been more interested in affirming ideals than in facing the problems of applying them. Such a course was open to the difficulty which adheres to following precedent based upon conditions to a large extent obsolete, and easily results in failure to make adjustments to the realities of human nature."

Finds Cheer in London Parley.

Dame Rachel said that at the London conference, where she spent three weeks before sailing for the congress here, she found inspiration in the keen desire of the delegates individually, to understand the other person's point of view.

"It seemed to me that instead of that castle in the air—of international amity—tumbling down," she said, "that the nations of the world were bringing bricks to put under the castle so that ultimately it would stand on its own foundation."

Dr. Wu informed the gathering that modern education for Chinese women had its origin only as recently as 1901, when the first private school for girls was started in Shanghai, and that an edict of the empress dowager in 1907 founded the elementary and normal schools. Now all universities in the country are co-educational, and women have all the political, social, and economic privileges of men—at least in principle.

She told of a woman banker in Shanghai, Miss Nien, who began as a messenger girl in 1916, and who now heads her own bank with deposits of $6,000,000. She employs 990 persons, of whom four-fifths are women.

Praises Roosevelt's Acts.

England sees no immediate prospect of the return of prosperous days, but the English people are watching with keen interest President Roosevelt's "experiment" and hoping that it will succeed, Miss Margaret Bondfield, first woman cabinet minister of Great Britain, said at an afternoon session.

"We wish him Godspeed," the brown-eyed, gray-haired, brisk little woman from London assured her listeners. "What we English are so terribly tired of is this sitting and wishing that things would change. We're sick of inaction, and his willingness to do and keep on doing has aroused our admiration and our hopes.

"I am amazed at the atmosphere of hope I find everywhere I have been in America," she added. "Especially in Chicago. Every one seems to be so confident that a real turn in the economic situation has come. Of course, if that is true, we in England will benefit eventually, and it cannot come too soon."

Dr. Valeria H. Parker emphasized that monogamy is the only satisfactory foundation for the home.

From a Turkish Woman.

In the rear of the room a young woman with a boyish bob and wearing homespun clothes arose. She announced herself as Selma Ekrem of Turkey, a daughter of Ali Ekrem Bey, a former governor of Jerusalem.

Dr. Parker's final word had been: "In the present economic situation we cannot think in terms of plural marriage."

Miss Erkrem, in perfect English, put her question to the women, some of whom appeared astounded and none of whom volunteered an answer.

"Since we have adopted monogamy from the west will you please give me an answer to this question?" she began. "Since we adopted monogamy our houses of prostitution have increased and people are rushing into the cabarets and painting their faces. Before we adopted your western idea of monogamy a man could have four wives and all his children were legitimate. The mothers agreed and were companions.

"We of the younger generation want monogamy, but what are we to do? There is the problem of the 'old maids' in Turkey and few men. What are they to do?"

High Speed Aluminum Locomotive Arrives

RAIL OFFICIALS TEST 'AUTOTRAM' RAILWAY COACH

Faster, Quieter than Regular Trains.

BY HAL FOUST.

A single unit rail car, bright red and with a big head and a long tail like a fish, swung into Chicago yesterday afternoon with executives of four railroads aboard on a test run from Battle Creek, Mich., The vehicle, known as the "autotram," has an all aluminum body propelled by a sixteen cylinder automotive engine. It entered A Century of Progress as a Travel and Transport exhibit last night.

Among those who traveled in the car were L. A. Downs, president of the Illinois Central railroad; S. M. Rogers, president of the Elgin, Joliet and Eastern railroad; T. W. Evans, vice president of the New York Central lines; Henry Shearer, vice president and general manager of the Michigan Central railroad; and Eugene B. Clark, president of the Clark Equipment company of Battle Creek, which has developed the car.

The Railway's Problem.

"We're interested in the new car," said Mr. Downs, "because we know that the railroads, to compete with highway transportation, must offer a faster, more comfortable and cheaper form of travel than can be obtained on pavements."

"Proper regulation will take care of the truck and bus situation," said Mr. Evans, "but the private automobile will remain as a stiff competitor for passenger business."

"And the private automobile, as a conveyor for vast numbers of the public, is here to stay," Mr. Shearer commented.

"But a more friendly public attitude toward the railroads and a more considerate attitude from the federal regulators will enable the rail carriers to make further improvements in their service to compete with private automobiles," added Mr. Rogers.

Noise Is Shut Out.

The rail executives chatted informally as the "autotram" carried them smoothly and quietly through the countryside at 70 and 75 miles an hour. There was no interruption from outside noises even when the car cleared a railroad crossing or passed a freight train.

The car's double glassed windows are sealed in rubber to shut out noise. The air is reconditioned by forced ventilation through a purifier, cooler and dehydrater. Ezra W. Clark, vice president of the company which made the vehicle, lifted the carpet in the tail of the car so the wheels and rear truck could be watched through a glass in the floor.

"Watch how the wheels are hitting the rail joints, absorbing the shock and the noise," he said. "The riding surface of the wheels is of a hard steel alloy, but this rim is held to the axle by rubber in shear. Note the side sway absorbed by the trucks with the springs mounted in rubber in compression."

Car Weighs 35,000 Pounds.

"It was a tough job," said A. O. Williams, chief engineer for the manufacturer, "to make this car, weighing but 35,000 pounds, ride better than a standard coach weighing 160,000.

The weight reduction, of course, was for economy in operation. That, too, is the purpose of the stream lining.

"At sixty-three miles an hour the stream lines enable us to use only half the horse power that would be required to move a vehicle of the same size and weight at this speed with conventional lines. At seventy miles an hour we found that merely by pulling the two steps up into the floor of the car we saved eight horse power."

The bottom of the "autotram" is smooth like the bottom of a yacht, free from the clutter of outside fixtures found under a standard Pullman. Every detail of the exterior is streamlined.

A stop watch showed that the car covered the 48.6 miles from the Kalamazoo station to the Niles, Mich., station in 44 minutes. The express passenger train schedule is 57 minutes.

HARVEST HANDS PAID $1.50 TO $2 PER DAY IN ILLINOIS FIELDS

Mineral, Ill., July 17.—[Special.]—Harvest hands in western Bureau county are being paid from $1.50 to $2.00 a day as the threshing season gets under way. Custom threshing machine operators are charging 2 cents a bushel for oats, 3 cents for barley and 4 cents for wheat.

The first threshing reported this season was on the Emiel Immesoette farm. Mr. Immesoette, who has a combine, began work a week ago. His grain was of fair quality and the yield averaged 25 bushels to the acre. Since then several other threshing runs have started, reports as to wheat yield and quality being similar to that from the Immesoette farm.

Oats and barley are not making as good a crop as usual, but they are better in yield and quality than farmers expected two weeks ago.

SEIZE FUGITIVE CONVICTED OF A $46,500 FRAUD

Ernest W. J. Hughes, 48 years old, formerly head of a bond investment house bearing his name, was arrested yesterday by Sergt. Edward Powers of the state's attorney's office. Hughes was convicted in March, 1932, of embezzling $46,500 from Mrs. Mabel G. Barker, widow of Bertrand Barker, who was once chief engineer for Cook county. Hughes fled while his appeal from a sentence of one to 10 years' imprisonment was pending.

During his trial the prosecutors declared that Hughes had swindled Chicagoans of more than $2,500,000. One of his creditors was former State's Attorney Swanson.

Times-Picayune Acquires The New Orleans States

New Orleans, La., July 17.—(AP)—The New Orleans Times-Picayune Publishing company today purchased the New Orleans States, the evening newspaper owned by the estate of the late Col. Robert Ewing, and will publish the States jointly with the Times-Picayune, the morning newspaper.

The sale was for cash and did not include the real estate or newspaper equipment.

Both papers will be published in the plant of the New Orleans Times-Picayune.

Since the death in 1931 of Col. Ewing, a conspicuous publisher for more than a quarter century, the States had been operated by the heirs under direction of J. D. Ewing, trustee.

ASSEMBLY SPLIT IN PHILIPPINES ON FREEDOM OFFER

Acceptance and Rejection Motions Filed.

MANILA, July 17.—(AP)—Resolutions urging acceptance, rejection, and alteration of the Philippine independence act passed by congress were filed as the third and final session of the insular legislature met briefly today.

Legislators convened for their 100 day meeting only long enough to hear Gov. Gen. Frank Murphy's first message to them, introduce a handful of bills and recess until Thursday.

In the meantime leaders plan to decide the course to be followed in a series of caucuses of the dominant Nacionalista party.

Praise Murphy's Message.

Mr. Murphy's message urging the decision on independence be made "In accordance with the best and highest interests and aspirations of the Filipino people" drew praise from leaders of both factions and was approved in a resolution of congratulation passed by the legislature.

The new governor general's statement that a just and enduring settlement must be "a faithful expression of the ideal and conviction of the people" was cited by some as an indication he favored a plebiscite which is being urged by advocates of acceptance.

Representative Ramon Diokno asserted he had a concurrent resolution signed by 55 of the 96 house members providing for rejection, but said he would let the caucuses decide what course to take. One resolution introduced declared the speakership of the house held by Manuel Roxas, chief advocate of acceptance with Senator Sergio Osmena, be declared vacant.

Rejectionists Stage Parade.

Another asked congress to extend the time allowed to decide on acceptance and to prepare a constitution.

Rejectionists paradad and held a mass meeting after the session, in a display rivaling yesterday's demonstration of the bill's advocacy.

Adherents of Senate President Manuel Quezon, outstanding Filipino leader for a decade and bitter critic of phases of the measure, claimed continued dominance of the legislature. But the strength of movements to take the question out of the legislature's hands was evident in demands for a plebiscite voiced in a memorial by yesterday's demonstrators, whom police estimated at 60,000.

Both friends and foes of Quezon have predicted he would guide whatever steps were taken, paving the way for acceptance while holding to his objections to clauses in the Hawes-Cutting act, notably those providing for American retention of naval bases in the islands and for limiting Philippine imports into the United States during a proposed ten year transition period.

BOY DIES OF TETANUS.

Richard Tuerk, 15 years old, 4217 Cullerton street, died yesterday in the county hospital of lockjaw, the result of a July 4th accident. The boy's hand was burned when he discharged a toy cap pistol.

Denies Injunction to Ban Union Picketing

Circuit Judge Joseph H. Burke yesterday denied a petition for an injunction to restrain the International Garment Workers' union from picketing the LaMode Garment company at 711 West Lake street.

EDITOR PREFERS TROPIC ISLE TO BANKRUPT COURT

New York, June 17.—[Special.]—Ray Long, editor, publisher, and man-about-town, who walked out of his office one day last August and sailed for the south sea islands, has no present intention of ever returning, it was indicated today.

The vacuum which Mr. Long's sudden departure created in the publishing firm of Ray Long and Richard R. Smith is discussed at great length in a transcript of evidence in the hearings in bankruptcy for the firm which have been dragging along before Referee Peter B. Olney. The transcript yields, here and there, glimpses of Mr. Long.

When Mr. Long first left he wrote his partner, Mr. Smith, that he would be back in seven or eight weeks. Later, according to Mr. Smith, he wrote that he was "unable to decide" when he would return and still later that his return was "indefinitely postponed."

This subject, during the hearings, has interested the Bank of Manhattan company, since Mr. Long's name is on notes for $50,000 and the bankers were eager to learn from Mr. Smith how seriously the senior member of the firm regarded his financial obligations.

Mr. Smith could not tell them.

Mr. Smith does not care to talk about Mr. Long, but a conning of the transcript of the hearings presents some indication of his feelings. He wanted to buy Mr. Long's share of the firm after Mr. Long's attorneys used a proxy to vote themselves into the firm because creditors would cooperate with him rather than with the absent Mr. Long.

Song Writer's Ex-Wife Awarded $10,000 Alimony

Mrs. Betty Koehler, 6400 Albany avenue, yesterday was granted a judgment of $10,000 by Judge Joseph Burke for alimony arrears due her from her former husband, Theodore L. Koehler, author of "Stormy Weather," "I've Got a Right to Sing the Blues," and other popular songs. Attorney T. J. McCormick said he would send the judgment to New York, where Koehler is living, and attach his royalties.

How One Woman Lost 20 Pounds of Fat

Lost Her Double Chin—Lost Her Prominent Hips—Lost Her Sluggishness

Gained Physical Vigor—Gained in Vivaciousness—Gained a Shapely Figure.

Table Tells How Much Women and Girls Should Weigh

How would you like to lose a load of unhealthy fat that you don't need and don't want and at the same time feel better than you have for years?

How would you like to lose your double chin and your too prominent abdomen and at the same time make your skin so clean and clear that it will compel admiration?

How would you like to get your weight down to normal and at the same time develop that urge for activity that makes work a pleasure and also gain in ambition and keenness of mind?

Get on the scales to-day and see how much you weigh—measure yourself too—then get a 4 oz. bottle of Kruschen Salts which will last you for 4 weeks. Take one half teaspoonful in a glass of hot water every morning—to hasten results cut out pastry and fatty meats—and when you have finished the contents of this first bottle weigh and measure yourself again.

Now you can laugh at the people who pay hundreds of dollars to lose a few pounds of fat—now you will know the safe, swift and pleasant way to lose unsightly fat and you'll also know that the 6 salts of Kruschen have presented you with glorious health.

If one inexpensive jar (lasts 4 weeks) doesn't joyfully satisfy money back from any drug store. Make sure you get Kruschen—prescribed by many physicians and recognized the world over as the SAFE way to reduce and at the same time gain in health and physical charm.

In two weeks Mrs. M. C. Taylor of Lewisburg, W. Va., reduced her weight from 175 to 159½ pounds—Her headache is no more and shortness of breath is gone—"Thanks for such a good remedy," she writes.

Mrs. C. L. of Shepardsville, Kentucky, writes: "I have reduced 24 pounds in 31 days with Kruschen and I ate three meals a day." A New York woman lost 14 pounds with one bottle of Kruschen Salts.

BALBO, WEATHER SWELL CROWDS ATTENDING FAIR

German Dedication, Kansas Program Today.

Under the impetus of a third visit of Gen. Balbo and his flyers attendance at A Century of Progress Exposition yesterday leaped some 20,000 above the usual mark for Monday. Ideal weather was another contributing factor. The day was sunny, but cool, and the crowds which tramped or rode through the grounds seemed comfortable. Paid admissions up to 11:30 o'clock last evening totaled 123,953.

Yesterday was Florida day and a large party of Floridians led by Gov. David Scholtz came up from the south to attend the festivities.

The program was divided between two exhibits—the Florida section in the Hall of States and the tropical home in the Home Planning group at 28th street. Gov. Scholtz's party included Col. Harold Colee of the Florida National Guard and L. W. Brown and Kirk Gunby, the state's commissioners to the Fair.

Open German Building Today.

Today is expected to bring another large attendance for the opening late in the afternoon of the German-American building on Northerly island. United States Senator William H. Dieterich, Mayor and Mrs. Edward J. Kelly, the German consul general, Dr. Hugo Simon and Mrs. Simon, and Mr. and Mrs. Rufus C. Dawes will be guests of honor, and it is possible that Gov. Horner may attend. An invitation was also extended to Hans Luther, German ambassador to the United States.

The ceremonies will begin with the raising of the United States flag and the old flag of imperial Germany over the building. Ernest J. Kruetgen of the Illinois commerce commission and Dr. George L. Scherger of Armour institute will make the introductory remarks.

The building will be christened by Miss Marie W. Becker, president of the governing board, under whose auspices it will be conducted. At a dinner concert following the dedication Miss Cyrena Van Gordon, formerly of the Metropolitan and Chicago Civic operas, and other musical talent will appear. German and American music will be given.

Observe Kansas Day Today.

Today is also Kansas day. Officials of the Fair and three companies of infantry will meet the delegation in the Court of Honor, where Miss Kansas—Drusilla Morgan of McPherson—will present a letter from Gov. Alfred M. Landon to President Dawes. Miss Morgan is 18 years old and a brunette.

"Broncho" John Sullivan of Abilene, Kas., a marshal in the days of "Wild Bill" Hickok and other bad men late in the last century, will greet the delegation, which will include four trainloads arriving this morning.

Grumble Over 1:30 Closing.

Grumbling from night club and cabaret concessionaires was heard early today as the 1:30 closing order went into effect. That there will be a concerted protest from several of the "hot spots" today was considered likely. These concessionaires assert that their business is booming just at the curfew hour. One of them, Walter Clinnin of the Pirate Ship, said it would cut into his best money making period. The Mexican village, Hollywood, Inc., and other concessions are expected to add their protests.

Beginning tonight, the paid admission gates will be closed at 11:30 p. m., the management ordered. By both orders, Maj. Lenox R. Lohr, general manager, hopes to clear the grounds by 2 a. m. The night clubs have been operating almost as late as customers wished to stay. There will be no change in the morning opening hours, all gates being open at 9 a. m. on week days and the Roosevelt road and 18th street turnstiles at 8 a. m. on Sundays and holidays.

RAID BREAKS UP PROMOTION OF SOFT BALL MEET

3 Officials Repudiate Use of Their Names.

Promotion of the "World's Fair Soft Ball tournament," billed for Soldiers' field on Sept. 24 at $1 to $10 a ticket, came to a sudden halt yesterday when police raided the tournament offices at 180 West Randolph street and tore down six telephones used for drumming up sales. It was charged the affair is a racket.

County Treasurer Joseph B. McDonough inspired the raid after learning that the names of himself, State's Attorney Thomas J. Courtney and County Clerk Robert M. Sweitzer were being falsely used as backers. The name of THE TRIBUNE was also being falsely used as a supporter, letters of the sponsors stating that this paper's Hungry School Children fund was to share in the proceeds.

McDonough's Aid Leads Raid.

Max Ruppert, soft ball player, is one of the promoters of the tournament, according to Edward J. McCabe, secretary to County Treasurer McDonough. McCabe led the raid on the promotion offices. McCabe asserted that Ruppert told him several days ago that 125,000 tickets would be sold for the tournament. McCabe said the affair was a racket, in his opinion.

The tournament was advertised as being promoted by public officials and the International and National Soft Ball leagues. Letterheads used by solicitors listed Richard Collins, head of the city civil service commission, as president of the affair. Treasurer McDonough was listed as honorary president, and County Clerk Sweitzer as publicity commissioner. State's Attorney Courtney was mentioned in sales talks.

Repudiated by Three Officials.

All three county officials disclaimed connection with or support of the tournament, and declared that the use of their names by salesmen was unauthorized. Treasurer McDonough revealed that he had accepted an honorary presidency from the International Soft Ball league six months ago, but that no mention was made then or later about a tournament.

U. OF MICHIGAN REDUCES BUDGET; TEACHERS HIT

Ann Arbor, Mich., July 17.—[Special.]—Regents of the University of Michigan today passed the 1933-'34 budget at $5,088,831.69, thereby slicing $876,413.90 from the amount on which the institution operated during the last year. The board also announced ninety-five positions had been eliminated, among them the jobs of sixty-six teachers; and 122 more members had been put on part time. Salary reductions ranging from 8 to 20 per cent were made, with an exemption of $1,500 in each case.

The 8 per cent cut applied to $2,000 of the salaries ranging from $1,500 to $3,500; 12 per cent reduction to the next $2,000; 15 per cent to the third $2,000; and 20 per cent on any portion of a salary above $5,500.

WOMAN FOUND DEAD IN HOME; HUSBAND HELD

The police yesterday were investigating the death of Mrs. Jean Patterson, 33 years old, whose body was found in bed in her apartment at the Drexel Manor hotel, 4332 Drexel boulevard.

Her husband, Robert, 37 years old, a beer truck driver, was held following the discovery of bruises on the woman's body. Patterson told the police that he and his wife had been drinking Sunday night, and that he did not recall what had happened.

He said that he awoke yesterday and found her lying on the floor, and he carried her to the bed. Later, when she did not recover consciousness, he called the housekeeper and the police.

Acosta's Gold Medal Found in New Haven Pawnshop

New Haven, Conn., July 17.—(AP)—A medal given to Capt. Bertran Acosta for his flight across the Atlantic in 1927 was found in a New Haven pawnshop today, New Haven police announced. The medal, which was pawned for $8 as old gold, bears the inscription:

"Presented by the City of Hoboken to Capt. Bertran Acosta in honor of his trans-Atlantic flight, June 29, July 1, 1927."

Detective Sergeant James Dinnan of the New Haven police, who found the medal as he was searching for stolen jewelry, said Acosta did not leave it at the shop. He wired Acosta, asking him if he wants to pay the cost of redeeming it.

PAYS ALIMONY 29 YEARS; ASKS WIFE'S ESTATE

Roaming Husband at 83 Returns for $30,000.

Howard W. Metz, 83 years old, 1504 Broadway, Detroit, appeared in court yesterday for the first time in almost 30 years. He came before Circuit Judge Benjamin P. Epstein to press his claim in what the court and opposing attorneys called the "weirdest estate tangle in the history of the county."

In 1904 Metz, an active man of 54, sought a divorce from Jeanette Lowa Metz in the court of Judge Theodore Brentano. His plea was denied, but his wife was granted separate maintenance on a cross bill.

Metz was ordered to pay $25 a week for her support. He never saw his wife again and, although he roamed the country, he never missed a weekly payment. Several years ago he retired on a small income, which permitted him to continue the payments.

Never Asked a Reduction.

He never sought a discontinuance or reduction of the payments even though he heard that real estate owned by his wife had increased in value so as to return her a modest income. He had had his day in court and was satisfied.

Meanwhile his wife lived with her mother, Katherine Lowa, at 2038 Van Buren street. A constant visitor at the home was Walter E. Johns, a lithographer, who many years ago was rejected as Jeanette's suitor in favor of Metz. Peter Wistrand was a boarder in the home.

In February of 1931 Mrs. Low died intestate. Her share in the real estate valued at $30,000 automatically went to her daughter. Shortly after the funeral Mrs. Metz filed a bill for divorce. Neighbors testified she had declared her intention of marrying Johns.

Dies Before Her Divorce.

Two days before she was to get her divorce Mrs. Metz died, on March 8, 1931. As she left no will, the estate, under the law, reverted to Metz as her husband.

Johns, however, filed a claim against the estate, alleging he had been paying Mrs. Metz $65 a week for a number of years and was to have been made her heir in return. He claimed a total of $12,760. Wistrand brought a similar claim for $7,842. Johns also sought $500 advanced to Mrs. Metz for her mother's funeral, including palms at $23 and a shroud at $20.

On the stand in Judge Epstein's court yesterday Metz wept when he recalled that he had not been notified of the deaths of his mother-in-law and wife. He glared at Johns and Wistrand.

Judge Rebukes Husband.

Judge Epstein cut him short with. "You don't have to put on an act for me. You cannot make me believe you had any affection for a woman you had not seen for 30 years. You are nothing more than a prodigal husband and by pure good fortune heir to $30,000 unless these gentlemen can produce documentary proof of their claims against your wife's estate.

Metz pointed out that he had paid his wife about $36,000 under the separate maintenance order.

Judge Epstein refused to allow the funeral claim of Johns. He continued the other claims, which Johns and Wistrand contend constitute a trust and make them heirs to the estate, until September to give them an opportunity to produce documentary proofs.

CARGO OF SPONGES FROM FLORIDA COMES BY NEW WATERWAY

The sponge fisher Ruth Elder yesterday finished discharging a cargo of 50 bales of sponges which it brought to Chicago by way of the Illinois waterway from Tarpon Springs, Fla. The sponges were consigned to James H. Rhodes & Co., 137 West Austin avenue, who own the Ruth Elder and a fleet of other sponge boats at the Florida port.

The boat, of the typical one masted Mediterranean type used by the sponge fishermen, sailed across the Gulf of Mexico to New Orleans, but used her auxiliary motor for the voyage up the Mississippi river and the Illinois waterway.

She left Tarpon Springs July 2, reaching Chicago Saturday after averaging ten knots for the 2,000 mile trip.

BALBO AND MEN GIVEN OFFICIAL WELCOME OF U. S.

Farley and New Speak at Banquet for Flyers.

Gen. Italo Balbo, Italy's minister of aviation, and his officers and men of the trans-Atlantic air fleet were given the official welcome of the United States last night at a banquet in the gold ballroom of the Congress hotel, at which Harry S. New, United States commissioner to A Century of Progress, was the host.

Postmaster General James A. Farley took the place of Secretary of War George H. Dern at the speakers' table, which was arranged in the form of an airplane. Maj. Gen. Frank H. Parker, commander of the Sixth corps area of the United States army, also extended a formal welcome. Gen Balbo did not speak.

It took a special detachment of police in front of the hotel to form a passageway for the general and his comrades from their cars. The crowd cheered the white uniformed officers and the blue uniformed men as they walked through the lobby. Another detail of police kept the banquet floor clear. All the flight officers and the rest of the crew of 96 who made the passage from Rome, except those who had to stay behind to watch the ships, attended the function.

Farley Hails Air Heroes.

"This visit is more than a trip to the Exposition," said Postmaster General Farley. "These flyers bear a message of good will to the United States. The people of America rejoice at this great voyage and it is our sincere wish that they all return to Rome in safety."

Mr. New said that the popularity of Gen. Balbo was so evident that if he remained here he might be elected President.

"This evening," he said, "the United States greets Italy in the persons of the gallant men under Gen. Balbo, who have accomplished this marvelous feat in the field of aeronautics. It was Leonardo da Vinci who was probably the first man to conceive of flight in machines heavier than air. In this country we had Prof. Langley, who had a dream of such a ship and built one and died before his dream was realized.

"Only aviators appreciate just how great his flight was. Here are machines weighing 11 tons lifted over the highest peaks in Europe, from venerable Rome to this magic city by the inland sea. One hundred years ago the men who came that way came in hand made canoes carved out of the forest. This man comes under the auspices of new Italy, the king, and the prime minister, who understand this day and how to take advantage of a great moment. We are grateful to Mussolini for this backing."

Parker Acclaims Aviators.

Gen. Parker said that the army took a special pride in the achievement and acclaimed the Italian aviators as comrades.

"We salute you and return the friendship with which you honor us. May you return in safety to the soil of Italy," the general said.

Mayor Kelly added his welcome and good wishes for the success of the return flight. The flight had done much for the city and the Exposition, he said.

Augusto Rosso, the Italian ambassador, proposed a toast to the President and Mr. New proposed a toast to the king of Italy. National anthems were played and the speaking was curtailed to permit the Italians to attend a later party. Among those at the speakers' table were Gov. William A. Comstock of Michigan, Gov. Horner, Gov. Paul V. McNutt of Indiana, Senator William H. Dieterich, and Charles G. Dawes, former Vice President.

After the dinner Gen. Balbo was escorted to the Florentine room, where he was presented with an honorary life membership in the Order of Sons of Italy in America. George J. Spatuzza, grand master of the organization in Illinois, conferred the honor in behalf of the grand council in New York. Gen. Balbo spoke briefly and then left the hotel.

Clear Water Traffic for Balbo

Map showing areas in Chicago harbor set aside for Gen. Balbo's 24 planes. Water traffic may pass only through the lanes shown on the map up to the time the planes are ready to depart. At a whistle signal from the U. S. S. Escanaba all traffic will be cleared from the area to insure safety of the visitors when they take off.

Gen. Balbo Reveals Plans for Flight Back to Italy

Gen. Italo Balbo, commander of the Italy to Chicago flyers, revealed tentative plans yesterday for his return trip to Italy. He discussed them at the Drake hotel in his first formal interview. Weather permitting, the armada of 24 seaplanes and 97 men will take off tomorrow from the lake base just north of Navy pier, he said.

"I intend to make the trip to Italy in two major flights," said Gen. Balbo. "Our plans are not quite completed, but we expect to fly from Newfoundland to Ireland, and from Ireland to Italy."

The Italian fleet, it is expected, will fly to New York tomorrow, and remain there for five or six days. The flyers will proceed next from New York to a point in Newfoundland, then to Ireland, and finally home. The trip from Newfoundland to Ireland would be the longest and most perilous water flight made by the armada, being about 1,000 miles longer than the 1,500 mile flight from Rekjavik, Iceland, to Cartwright, Labrador, on the journey here.

Prefers Southern Route.

Gen. Balbo discussed the practicability of the northern and the southern routes between America and Europe. The northern course offers more emergency landings, but its weather is often treacherous, he said. On the other hand, the southern route has the hazard of greater water distance, he pointed out. Gen. Balbo has flown both routes, and is of the opinion that the southern route is preferable because of its better atmospheric dependability.

"I suggest, however, that governments by international agreement establish mooring bases along the northern route, at Reykjavik and at Cartwright," said the general. "Such bases would break up the distance and make commercial flying successful. I cannot foresee great future development in commercial transatlantic flying unless such bases are established, or a new route discovered."

Discuss Mass Flights.

Discussing mass flights, Gen. Balbo praised radio as an indispensable help, but said the radio beacon is not yet perfected for long distance flying. His men frequently had to fly "blind," he said. Because of his mass flights to South America and to Chicago, Gen. Balbo said he has received many queries as to his plans for a world circling mass flight. He said that when his plans for such an undertaking are completed, he will announce them.

Gen. Balbo had nothing but praise for Chicago, Chicago's hospitality, and Chicago's beauty.

"I do not like to leave this wonderful city," he said. "When I came in sight of the lake front Saturday, its beauty took my breath away. It was magnificent. I am sorry I cannot see more of the city. We have received the finest reception in Chicago that any man has ever witnessed. I do not think Chicago could do more for us than it has done. We came on a mission of friendship between Italy and the United States, and I'm sure that mission has been successful."

Italy Renews Friendship Treaty with Rumania

ROME, July 17.—(AP)—Italy today renewed for a period of six months her treaty of friendship with Rumania. Many circles had concluded the treaty would not be renewed in view of recent developments in Balkan politics.

FORMER CIRCUS CLOWN DIES OF AUTO INJURIES

William Klopp, 68 years old, 2229 Des Plaines avenue, Blue Island, a former circus clown, died in Oak Forest infirmary last evening of injuries he had suffered Sunday when he was struck by an automobile at Cicero avenue and 161st street, Oak Forest. Carlton Marth, 726 South Wildwood avenue, Kankakee, driver of the car, was held by the state highway police at Blue Island for the inquest today.

This death and one other increased the Cook county motor toll for the year to 534. The other victim:

Mrs. Stephania Jupiszewski, 45 years old, 1467 Milwaukee avenue. Struck last night at Damen and Milwaukee avenues by a car driven by Ada a Lodozynski, 20, 1866 North Damen avenue. She died in the West North Avenue hospital.

danced in a circle, whooping and tossing their feathers, as Chief Blackhorn of the Sioux stood stolidly in the center beside a stuffed dog. The Hopi eagle dance followed, with Chief Evergreen Tree of the Pueblo tribe officiating. Chief Evergreen Tree then escorted Gen. Balbo to the center of the circle where he was solemnly inducted into the Sioux tribe.

The general was given a large headdress made of 80 eagle feathers, tipped with pink plumes and worked with white braid. He examined the headdress carefully and thanked the Indian chiefs for their courtesy.

Italian Planes Refueled.

During the rest period at the Drake Gen. Balbo and his officers received reports on the preparations for their departure from Chicago tomorrow morning. These preparations included the refueling of the Italian planes, which was carried on throughout the day in the harbor north of Navy pier under the direction of Col. Carlo Tempesti.

The refueling of the 24 Savoia-Marchetti seaplanes was begun at 8 o'clock, when Col. Tempesti and the enlisted men of Gen. Balbo's command left the Drake hotel for the harbor. There they were met by Lieutenant Commander J. J. Carrick, Lieutenant Commander E. J. Carroll, Lieut. E. G. Frank, and Ensign Anson J. Peterson, all of the United States naval reserve. These officers commanded a fleet of ten 22 foot cutters and three motor boats, with which the refueling was accomplished.

When the Italian flyers reached their planes they stripped off their uniforms and worked in dungarees. Thousands of gallons of gasoline, castor oil, and distilled water were carried out to the seaplanes and loaded aboard. Each ship received 950 gallons of gasoline and 15 gallons of oil.

Engines Are Tuned Up.

The engines were turned on and tuned up. One was found to have a fouled fuel line, but that was remedied quickly. All were gone over carefully in preparation for the 1,000 mile nonstop flight to New York tomorrow. The flight is scheduled over Toledo, Cleveland, Buffalo, Oswego, and Albany.

Hundreds of spectators lined the shore and the north side of the Navy pier while the careful refueling operations were under way. The mechanics did not stop their work except for a brief lunch period. Sergt. Tony Gentile of the Chicago police force procured box lunches. The Italians ate and then went back to work on their motors.

Throughout the day officers in command of the seaplanes appeared at the harbor to inspect their craft. Each went out in one of the boats, loaded with the red barrels of gasoline, to see that his plane would be ready to take off tomorrow.

After the individual inspections the officers returned to the Drake hotel, where most of them spent the day lounging in the cool corridors of the lobby, obligingly writing their names on postcards for admirers.

WOMAN'S ESCORT SHOOTS ADMIRER SPEAKING TO HER

Shot in the abdomen last night during a quarrel with another man about a woman, Frank Bernard, 30 years old, 3402 Southport avenue, was taken to the Alexian Brothers hospital.

Questioned by Lieut. Peter Heraty of the Sheffield avenue police station, Bernard asserted that his assailant was David Cassidy, 50 years old, 2311 Farragut avenue, owner of a saloon, and that the woman in the case was Miss Esther Gehringer, about 32 years old, owner of a beauty parlor at 2614 Lincoln avenue. The shooting occurred in front of the parlor.

"I tried to flirt with Miss Gehringer several nights ago," Bernard admitted, "but she slapped my face. I was waiting out front to see her tonight when she came out with Cassidy. I tried to speak to her, but Cassidy told me to go away. I said something about getting even and he hit me. Then we fought until he drew a pistol and shot me."

NAB TWO GIRLS WHO INTRODUCE NEW CARD GAME

Miss Betty Sherman, late of Detroit, and Miss Joan Bradley, recently of Louisville, were indignant last night when escorted to the detective bureau by Sergt. James Bresnahan and questioned by Lieut. Ed Kelly.

"No one can call us card sharps," they protested. "We're nothing of the kind, even if it is true we know how to play cards."

Lieut. Kelly mentioned the names of Harry Maddox of Cincinnati and Peter Birkenhauer and Fred Lawing, both of Detroit. Maddox, a furniture man, said he had engaged in a game of cards with the girls and a man named Davis, and had lost $100. Birkenhauer and Lawing, solicitors, said they had played cards with the girls alone, and had almost lost their rolls.

All three men were introduced to a new game called stockbroker, in which the holder of a deuce wins the pot. According to the Detroiters, Miss Sherman seemed always to be holding a two-spot. Moreover, they said, neither Miss Sherman nor Miss Bradley ever contributed to the pool. They just took out. The girls were seized after leaving Miss Sherman's room in the Park Lane hotel.

FRENCH FASCISM BORN; SOCIALIST PARTY IS PERILED

BY EDMOND TAYLOR.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, July 17.—French fascism, which has been slowly germinating during the months of political and economic confusion, took birth today.

The new movement, which has yet to fix a definite program or choose an official leader, has more than a superficial resemblance to German Nationalism socialism—that is, it is a sort of left wing fascism. Its founders are Socialists who have lost faith in Marxist internationalism and look to the ideal of an authoritative state capable of defending itself against internal or external enemies, with industry and business organized in trusts under its control.

Socialist Party Split.

Alert political observers have been calling attention to the trend in this direction for some time, but it is the special congress of the French Socialist party now going on which is crystallizing it. This congress was called to enforce party discipline on the Socialist deputies belonging to the right wing of the party who violated their Marxist principles to support the Daladier government's financial and national defense policy.

A breakup of the Socialist party, which was anticipated in some quarters, has been averted for a few months, but the parliamentary [illegible]s in launching the new political ideal have struck a harder blow to the party than if they had walked out in a body. Political experts predict that France, the last stronghold of international pink socialism, is going the way of Germany and Italy—at least that part of France which has been Socialist until now.

Young Leader Outlines Aims.

It was the speech of the young right wing Socialist deputy, Marcel Deat, at today's closing session of the Socialist powwow which observers declare marks the historic beginning of French fascism. The newspaper Le Temps tonight suggests that Deat will be the Mussolini of the new party.

Deat himself repudiated the charge of being a Fascist and declared that he and his friends favored a democratic state. But then he went on to describe his ideal in terms that closely resembled some of Mussolini's and Hitler's early utterances. He told his shocked comrades that they are hidebound doctrinaires and that while they are sitting in their chairs waiting for the workers' revolution to come, his party is going to set out to "transform the world." His aim is to capture the masses by offering them a new kind of socialism which will take into account the "nation and the democracy of the middle classes."

See Union of Younger Elements.

The thing that gives the new movement real importance is that it is not just launched by a few disgruntled Socialists, but that it crystallizes the aspirations of all the younger elements in the left wing parties who were only waiting for a leader to fused them into one powerful party.

There is also a strong Fascist trend among the younger leaders of the nationalist right wing parties, but the nationalism and the socialism of the Deat brand are closer to the French temperament.

ITALIAN PILOTS GET SPECIAL U. S. FLYING LICENSES

George W. Vest, supervising aeronautical inspector for the Chicago district, announced yesterday that the department of commerce had issued letters of authority to the pilots of Gen. Balbo's command which will permit them to fly any American aircraft they see fit during their stay in the United States. A second order issued is that any American plane flying within one half mile of the Italian armada while in flight will be subject to grounding for a violation of a special air regulation promulgated on Saturday.

M'GURN SAYS HIS DEATH IS BEING OVERDONE

Jack Hopes Reports Won't Spoil His Golf.

At 7 p. m. yesterday a sun tanned, vigorous man in the middle 30s stepped from an automobile in front of the home of Vincent Gebardi at 1114 North Kenilworth avenue, Oak Park. It was the evening homecoming of Gebardi, better known as Machine Gun Jack McGurn—or was it his ghost?

"I hear again," said a casual acquaintance who met him on the sidewalk, "that you are dead today."

Gebardi spoke:

"No deader than I was nine days ago. Didn't you believe me then when I told you I was alive."

"Yes," replied the visitor, a reporter. "But then I couldn't tell whether this was the same old report or a new one."

Proof Is in the Scorecard.

"I shall now prove to you," said Gebardi, "that Jack McGurn is not a spirit. Do you see these golf clubs? Well, I was out at the Cog-Hill course this afternoon. There was a lot of shooting, but it was all with golf balls and Jack McGurn shot a net 66. Did you ever hear of a ghost shooting a 66?"

The questioner admitted that he never did. In fact, he said, he never believed that anybody shot a net 66 unless the scorekeeping was unimpeachable.

"All right," said Gebardi, flexing an arm, "feel this muscle. All right, hey? But maybe you still don't believe me. Come in and feel a bottle of beer.

A Story Nine Days Old.

"As you well know," said Gebardi, taking up his story again, "this rumor of my being shot arose a week ago Saturday. My brother Tony ran into the house and yelled when he saw me: 'Give me a drink.' When he gulped it down he said he had heard from an attorney that I was killed.

"Nothing that I could do could keep that yarn from getting a limited circulation. Now it seems it's still going around on the grapevine, and I thought it had died out. Please let all the people know that McGurn is not a corpse."

Then Gebardi, alias McGurn, once reputedly the chief gunman for Al Capone in the roaring days of gangland, delivered himself of his philosophy of keeping out of trouble and out of the grave in 1933.

The McGurn Philosophy.

"How can I get in trouble when I've got no dough?" he asked. "I haven't even been able to make the payments on my house for eleven months and I guess I'm going to be foreclosed. Besides that, I haven't been east of Austin boulevard in months. The police in Chicago are too hot for me.

"All I do is play golf. That's the easiest way to keep out of trouble. I'm sorry that this unfounded rumor may attract attention to a guy who has gone straight and get me barred from some golf courses just when my game is getting good."

SOUTH SIDE GIRLS REHEARSE TODAY FOR MUSIC FETE

Girls living on the south side of Chicago, at 9:30 a. m. today in the Trianon ballroom, 63d street and Cottage Grove avenue, will hold their first rehearsal for THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE dance pageant to be presented at Soldiers' field Saturday night, Aug. 19, during the Chicagoland Music Festival. Miss Ethel Morgan, dance teacher, will be in charge.

Yesterday morning more than 300 girls assembled on the north and west sides under the direction of Miss Betty Jones and Miss Mayblossom Macdonald.

The second practices for girls will be held as follows: West side—Tomorrow morning at 9:30 o'clock, Guyon's Paradise ballroom; north and south sides—Thursday morning at 9:30 o'clock, Aragon and Trianon ballrooms, respectively.

All girls must be 7 years old or older to participate in the dance which will be accompanied by the music festival band of 100 pieces under the direction of Victor Grabel. Entry blanks will be available at all rehearsals.

LEAPS TO DEATH FROM 38 STORY TOWER IN LOOP

Frank O. Cruickshank, 71 years old, a former real estate operator, leaped to his death yesterday from the thirty-eight story tower of the Pittsfield building, 55 East Washington street. His body struck a catwalk at the 23d floor, and narrowly missed knocking Henry Weaire, 7143 Ingleside avenue, who was working there, to the court below.

Dr. Charles M. Wesner, a dentist with offices on the thirty-sixth floor of the building, identified the body. Cruickshank had been his patient for twenty years, he told police. Recently, he said, Cruickshank had been in desperate financial straits, and Dr. Wesner had been attempting to arrange for him to enter Oak Forest infirmary.

Two notes were found on the body. One stated: "My own folks will do nothing to help me. They have plenty of money and I have made most of it.

QUIT CHICAGO OR YOU DIE! POLICE WARN HOODLUMS

Threaten to Kill Kidnap Suspects.

Capt. Daniel Gilbert of the state's attorney's police yesterday told Carl Fontana and Martin O'Leary, west side hoodlums and suspected kidnapers, that if he ever saw them again it would be in the morgue.

That was Capt. Gilbert's manner of warning these outlaws that they will be shot at sight if they don't leave the vicinity of Chicago.

"There's nothing I can hold you on," Capt. Gilbert told O'Leary and Fontana, who were arrested by Cicero police on Saturday night. "Your hired lawyers would know all the loopholes and get you out. I am convinced that you had something to do with the Factor kidnaping and a lot of others, but I can't prove it."

Warned They Face Death.

Then Capt. Gilbert turned to Lieut. Andrew Barry, head of the new kidnaping detail of forty picked Chicago detectives who are conducting a search for kidnapers with instructions to shoot to kill if necessary.

"This man," he said, "will bring you in feet first if you stay around here. You may beat the law, but you can't beat bullets. So clear out of the state. If you don't, we're going to kill you."

O'Leary and Fontana were then turned over to Chief of Detectives William Schoemaker, who ordered them held at the detective bureau. The police made no effort to have them viewed by John [Jake the Barber] Factor, for he has insisted that he could not identify his captors.

Cicero Chief Explains.

Chief Michael Solar of the Cicero police yesterday took advantage of Factor's statements that he could not identify his kidnapers in explaining why he did not notify Capt. Gilbert or Lieut. Barry when Fontana and O'Leary were arrested Saturday night. On Sunday Chief Solar had announced—upon being asked what he planned to do with the hoodlums—that he was holding them for the state's attorney's office, expressing a desire to cooperate in the war on kidnapers.

Lieut. Barry said his search of the northwest section of the county for members of the Touhy gang of ex-convicts and murderers, who are believed to have directed the Factor kidnaping, had so far proved fruitless.

"I understand," he said, "that they have a hideout in Lake county to which they resort when the heat is on. We have searched every roadhouse and tavern in the northern part of the county without finding a trace of them. Our men have even stood at important street intersections watching for them to pass. But they will be back, and when they come we'll get them."

Sheriff Lester Tiffany of Lake county said his deputies were making daily visits to the resorts around the lakes, but so far had failed to find the Touhys. Sheriff Tiffany yesterday again escorted Otto Lehmann, president of the Arlington Park Jockey club and one of the forty wealthy Chicagoans being guarded against possible kidnaping attempts, to and from the races.

MAYTAG DENIES PLOT TO KIDNAP HIM AS POLICE INVESTIGATE

Des Moines, Ia., July 17.—(AP)—Investigation of reports of a plot to kidnap F. L. Maytag, 76, millionaire Newton, Ia., washing machine manufacturer, was announced today by Chief Park Findley of the state bureau of investigation.

Maytag has had the protection of a bodyguard since he entered the state last week to attend a birthday celebration at Newton, Findley said.

The bureau chief said he had learned of a purported plot to kidnap the millionaire when the latter arrived in Newton last Thursday. Plans for Maytag's visit were altered and he arrived Wednesday with a bodyguard.

At his summer home at Lake Geneva, Wis., today Maytag said reports that he had been menaced by kidnapers were "wholly unfounded" and declared that he has not received any threatening letters.

His secretary, Mrs. Josephine Roach, said that for several days efforts have been made to suppress what she termed "wild rumors that Mr. Maytag is in danger."

R. C. Anderson, former Polk county deputy sheriff, was employed by Maytag as a personal bodyguard after the manufacturer had been notified of the plot, Findley said. Anderson was expected to accompany Maytag on a proposed trip to Cuba next week.

Anderson and state agents were said to have accompanied Maytag to the Illinois border when the millionaire returned to Lake Geneva. Illinois officials agreed to escort the Newton man safely through that state, Findley said.

Phone Girl Assigned to Flyers Too Busy to Eat

Miss Frances Cera, telephone operator at the Drake hotel, who speaks Italian fluently, has not been able to leave her job to eat since she was chosen to handle all the phone calls for the Italian flyers. Yesterday for the first time she stepped away from the switchboard for a glass of water just as Gen. Pellegrini, second in command of the flight, rang for someone to take his shoes out to be shined and to have his suit pressed. The wrong operator answered and immediately dispatched an interpreter to the general's room to take down some letters.

U. S. AGENTS TAKE SAFECRACKER FOR LUER QUIZ

St. Louis, Mo., July 17.—[Special.]—Percy Michael Fitzgerald, an ex-convict and safe cracker, sometimes called the "The Dice Box Kid," was arrested tonight in Madison, Ill., by U. S. department of justice agents in connection with the August Luer kidnaping.

Chief of Detectives Kaiser of St. Louis, who is coöperating, said he was informed the department of justice men had waited last night, too, for Fitzgerald to appear at the place he was seized. Fitzgerald had been away for the last ten days.

First Federal Arrest.

The Fitzgerald arrest was the first tangible result of the present department of justice investigation.

In March, 1925, Fitzgerald was sentenced to five years in state prison at Nashville, Tenn., on pleading guilty to robbing a safe. He was discharged from prison in November, 1927. About a year later he was given a six months workhouse sentence after he had been arrested with burglars' tools in his possession.

In May of this year he was arrested again in St. Louis when police found burglars' tool in an automobile in which he was riding.

Seized in Washington.

In October, 1931, Fitzgerald and two other men were arrested in Washington, D. C., in possession of safe crackers' tools at a time when Washington police were under fire for use of third degree methods. The trio gained considerable notoriety by saying, "We know the situation in Washington and you guys are afraid to use third degree stuff on us."

Police here say Fitzgerald's nickname of "The Dice Box Kid" was given him in Memphis. St. Louis police have known him since 1913. He has been arrested about forty times since then.

Woman Loses Life Trying to Part Fighting Dogs

Mrs. Catherine Zack, 46 years old, 1340 South Karlov avenue, lost her life last night because of a dog fight. She took her dog into the alley for an airing. Another dog appeared and fought with her pet. She tried to separate them. The strain and excitement proved too much. She collapsed. When picked up, she was dead, a heart attack victim.

Using U. S. Currency to Pay Ransom May Be Made Crime

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., July 17.—[Special.]—A law making the payment of any ransom in United States currency a federal crime was being considered today by Attorney General Homer S. Cumming as a possible weapon in his drive against crime.

Cummings pledged himself to an unending war on middle western gangs and the underworld generally. He declared the drive would not cease when the abductors of Jake Factor and August Luer, Illinois kidnaping victims, were brought to justice.

"Capture of the perpetrators of such crimes," the attorney general said of the Factor and Luer cases, "is good in itself, but it is not enough." An attack on gangland which will cut the foundation out from under its feet is the attorney general's present plan.

New Bootlegger Rôle.

Repeal of the 18th amendment will shut off the source of funds which first made the underworld affluent, Cummings predicted. He declared that bootlegging had been financing armaments, legal aid and political corruption for gangs ever since its inception.

Coupled with a federal control over the traffic in lethal weapons, especially machine guns, repeal would take a long step toward disarming what he calls "the underworld army," Cummings said. There were indications today that this control would be the first legal step in the federal drive against crime.

The proposed law to make the payment of ransom in United States currency illegal is a new device suggested to the department of justice since the recent wave of kidnaping began, it was learned. Joseph B. Keenan, assistant to the attorney general in charge of crime, said the proposal had come to him from at least twenty quarters in the last few weeks.

Plan Has Drawbacks.

Conceived as a means of taking the profit out of kidnaping and as a possible avenue for federal action in other criminal cases, the proposal has its drawbacks, Mr. Keenan said. If it did not stop kidnaping it would rob families of kidnaping victims of their only means of action.

Such a law is now in the statute books in England, according to Mr. Keenan. It has been brought up here because the federal control over the currency is one of the few powers through which the central government might strike at kidnaping.

Whether the proposal finds a place in the attorney general's final plans will depend on further study. Meanwhile, there were considered to be at least two basic reasons for crime, in the opinion of Mr. Cummings, who said that repeal was the answer to one of them.

AUTO THIEF SENTENCED.

Judge Lambert K. Hayes in the Boys court yesterday sentenced Frank Ochal, 18 years old, 1426 West Superior street, to serve six months in the House of Correction on a charge of larceny of an automobile.

—and their week-end trip was ruined

Heat generated inside the tire separates rubber and fabric—starts "invisible blisters", common cause of blow-outs—even in new tires.

The exclusive Goodrich Life-Saver Golden Ply resists heat... makes the new Safety Silvertown 3 times safer from blow-outs at high speeds.

A BEAUTIFUL day . . . a high-speed car . . . and a glass-smooth road before them. What a wonderful week-end they'd enjoy. Then suddenly it happened. BANG! A blow-out! The rim hit the road . . . And a terrible drag set in . . . Like some unseen monster pulling their car off the highway.

Today's high speeds—40, 50, 60 and 70—generate terrific heat inside the tire. Rubber and fabric separate. A blister forms . . . inside the tire where you can't see it . . . and GROWS . . . bigger and bigger . . . until BANG! The tire flattens . . . and you simply can't hold your car on the road.

But now Goodrich has perfected the amazing Life-Saver Golden Ply. This invention resists intense heat. Rubber and fabric don't separate. Thus blisters don't form inside the tire. Blow-outs are prevented before they even start!

At grueling speeds on the world's fastest track the new Goodrich Safety Silvertown Tire, with the Life-Saver Golden Ply, lasted three times as long as first quality tires that did not have this feature. These Silvertowns never blew. They were run till the tread was gone—but the Life-Saver Golden Ply refused to give.

Remember, this "3 times safer tire" costs not a penny more than standard tires. So why take chances? That blister—that blow-out in the making—may be in your tire right now. Put a set of Silvertowns on your car . . . and BE SAFE!

RECOVERY AIDS PUSH PLAN FOR MINIMUM WAGE

Only Voluntary Program Is Considered.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., July 17.—[Special.]—Officials of the industrial recovery administration continued today to push forward their plans for a national, or blanket order for minimum wage scales and maximum hours of work.

Following yesterday's discussion of the program with President Roosevelt, Gen. Hugh S. Johnson, administrator of the recovery act, placed the program before the advisory board of the administration for further consideration.

No Decision Reached.

On leaving the meeting, Gen. Johnson said that no decision had yet been reached, but stated that he and his aides would continue to work on the plan. It was "a hell of a complex plan," the general explained, with characteristic emphasis, "and had many angles."

Once again, he repeated the statement that any thought of imposing a compulsory decree upon the nation's trade and industry had been abandoned. Whatever plan is adopted, he said, would depend upon voluntary agreements by the country's employers and workers—agreements, however, backed by the full force of the administration to bring every one into line.

The advisory board is expected to meet again tomorrow to consider the plan further, and it may be taken up at the meeting of the newly created executive council, whose Tuesday conference at the White House replaces the regular Tuesday cabinet meeting.

Richberg May Get $12,000.

In an announcement by Secretary of Commerce Roper, who heads the advisory board, it was learned that Donald R. Richberg of Chicago, labor lawyer and counsel for the recovery administration, is the only one so far to be favored with a salary above the $6,000 salary recently set as the maximum for administration officials, including Gen. Johnson himself.

A salary of $12,000 a year was recommended for Mr. Richberg, or $3,500 more than the maximum set in the act itself. Presidential approval, it was explained, will have to be sought in order to set the limitation aside.

As workers in the cotton, rayon, silk, cotton thread, and throwing industries put in their first day today under the new cotton textile code, two further codes of fair competition were received. The rayon, silk, cotton thread, and throwing, or silk thread, industries came under the cotton textile code at their own request and pending submission of their own codes.

Rayon Code Announced.

The rayon code, the first of these to be made public, was given out today. It was submitted by the National Rayon Weavers' association, and in its main provisions was virtually identical with the cotton textile code, under which the industry is already at work.

Minimum wages of $12 weekly in southern mills and $13 weekly in northern mills, with a 40 hour work week throughout the industry, were fixed in the code. Repair crews, mechanics, engineers, electricians, firemen, watchmen, outside crews, and cleaners were exempted from the 40 hour provision.

In addition, the code also fixed the work week for machinery at two 40 hour shifts and would allow mills now operating 3 shifts, 90 days in which to change over.

Hearings on the rayon code were set to open on July 25.

Another clothing group code was submitted, this time by the Industrial Recovery Association of Clothing Manufacturers. Previously, a code had been submitted by the Clothing Manufacturers' Association of the United States. The new code called for a 40 hour work week and a 20 per cent wage increase.

Tag Day Yields $6,200 for Cermak Memorial

Ald. Henry Sonnenschein [22d], chairman of the special city council committee on a memorial to the late Mayor Cermak, reported yesterday that the tag day July 10 for the memorial fund yielded $6,200. This fund will be augmented by private subscriptions.

COURT UPSETS SUIT AGAINST MELLON FOR 220 MILLION ON TAXES

Washington, D. C., July 17.—(AP)—A suit to collect $220,000,000 from Andrew W. Mellon and several other former treasury officials was dismissed today in the District of Columbia Supreme court.

David A. Olson, former employee of the senate banking committee, charged Mellon and his fellow defendants with conspiracy which he said enabled unnamed foreign steamship companies to evade income taxes.

In sustaining a dismissal motion by defense attorneys, Justice James M. Proctor said Olson had not presented a "good present" cause of action and that the complaint "is defective by reason of the vagueness and uncertainty of its allegations."

Olson asserted that conspiracy by treasury officials enabled the steamship companies to escape $110,000,000 in taxes. He sued to recover $220,000,000 for the treasury under a statute providing that officials who fraudulently allow evasion of income taxes shall be liable for twice the amount of the evasion.

BUILDING SUPPLY DEALERS ADOPT 40 HOUR WEEK

Clothiers and Cleaners Frame Codes.

A minimum wage of 40 cents an hour for common labor and a maximum working week of 40 hours were reported to have been included in a code adopted yesterday by 300 building supply dealers in compliance with the federal industrial recovery act The group, meeting in Hotel La Salle formed the National Federation of Building Material Associations.

"We represent 25,000 companies," said Edward Hollaway of Youngstown O., who was chairman. "Our code will be made public in Washington and not before it is delivered there."

A code was adopted last evening by Chicago and Cook county lumber dealers at a meeting of the Chicago Retail Lumber Dealers' association in the Palmer house. When the code is taken to Washington within the next few days by a committee headed by J. W. Embree Jr., wage and hour provisions will be taken up with the government officials, it was said.

Illinois Cleaners Adopt Code.

Wages based upon living conditions in different districts and a 44 hour week throughout the state were the principal labor features of a state code adopted yesterday by the Illinois Association of Dyers and Cleaners, meeting in the Stevens hotel. The code will be presented at today's meeting of 100 members of the national organization of the industry. It was framed under the direction of S. M. Abrams, chairman of the national gathering and also chairman of the committee named to formulate a national code for the industry.

In order to prevent an excess of cleaning and dying establishments, it was explained, a resolution was adopted prohibiting the opening of a new shop within 500 feet of an existing establishment.

Clothiers Vote 40 Hour Week.

A forty hour week and a minimum weekly wage of $14 for adults was decided upon at a meeting yesterday in the Merchandise Mart of representatives of the National Association of Retail Clothiers and Furnishers. A graduated wage scale for young employés based partly upon the size of towns and cities was also drafted.

The forty hour week was pointed to as an unusual departure. Retail clothing store employés have in the past become accustomed to long hours, it was remarked. Arthur D. O'Shea, president of the association, presided at yesterday's meeting.

An agreement on fair advertising and a pact against convict labor was included in the code.

Increase Pay of 2,800.

Pending adoption of an industrial code by the National Wash Dress Manufacturers' association, Tabis Picker & Co., 4119 Belmont avenue, manufacturers of wash frocks, announced yesterday a blanket 20 per cent increase in pay for their 2,800 employés, practically all of whom are women.

Leaders in the beauty shop business met in Hotel Sherman last night to discuss plans for a code, but made no definite decisions. Suggestions were taken under advisement for a forty-two hour week and a minimum wage scale providing for $15 a week in the north and $14 in the south.

NOT A GRAB BAG, ICKES SAYS OF U. S. WORKS FUND

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., July 17.—[Special.]—Bureaucratic and political hands that kept reaching for the pork barrel easy money of the federal 3 billion 300 million dollar public works program forced Secretary of the Interior Ickes in his capacity as public works administrator today to issue a notice that the public works program with its billions was "not a grab bag."

A lengthy discussion by the public works advisory board concerning further federal construction projects ended in a decision to send the list of projects to the budget bureau with instructions that it be ruthlessly pared. Budget Director Lewis W. Douglas was the only one, it appeared, who could be counted on to separate the fat from the lean and submit only the latter for board action.

The list has already been acted upon by a subcommittee and by a special committee, but it seemed that neither one had been successful, in the opinion of the board, in cutting out nonessential.

Requirements Outlined.

Ickes insists that each project provide a maximum of work, that it perform a necessary social service, and that it not be a recurring item belonging properly in an annual appropriation bill. Despite the interdiction, which was recently backed up by the President, postoffices have had a way of creeping in.

The latest list has been divided into three classifications. Division A calls for the expenditure of some 89 millions, and in the opinion of the committee which drew it up the projects contained therein deserve priority. Orders to the budget bureau, however, were to segregate the projects worthy of "real priority." Divisions B and C are each larger than division A, making a total of approximately 750 million dollars.

Projects now under consideration will follow those contained in the first division, which has already been approved and which calls for the expenditure of some 64 million dollars, 60 per cent of which goes to Boulder dam.

Allocations to Illinois.

AGRICULTURAL DEPARTMENT.
Chicago—Food and drug laboratories	$ 17,000
Peoria—Painting and repairing weather station	200
COMMERCE DEPARTMENT.
Illinois and Iowa—Relocating airway beacons	$108,000
Calumet Harbor—Keeper's house.
Calumet Harbor light station	27,300
New aids to navigation	10,000
Evanston—Repair Grosse Pointe light station	7,500

The public works advisory board likewise refused today to pass upon a program of rivers and harbors works which Secretary Ickes yesterday submitted to the President. In conformity with the President's orders the board sent the list back to the army engineer corps with a request for further information.

It was not so much, it was explained, a case of requiring the list to be cut down, but past experience has shown, it was said, that rivers and harbors construction work has a habit of calling for still more work to be done in order that the project may be usable.

Not wishing to authorize the dredging of half a river or the deepening of a harbor which could not be used until more money had been spent on a breakwater, the list went back with orders that it be returned with an explantion of exactly what would be accomplished by the projects contained in it.

228 CHICAGOANS ON U. S. LIST AS ILLEGAL HOLDERS OF GOLD

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., July 17.—[Special.]—Two hundred and twenty-eight Chicagoans are believed to be still holding gold in defiance of President Roosevelt's order of three months ago, the department of ustice announced today.

Facing exposure and prosecution, they are estimated to hold about $1,648,000 in gold and gold certificates, according to the department. These totals include both those persons who refused to surrender gold when called on by federal agents and those who have not been interviewed.

In the country as a whole only 201 persons have refused to give up their gold after being called upon by agents, Attorney General Homer S. Cummings revealed today. He refused, however, to say how many of the 228 suspected holders in Chicago were among the ranks of the defiant and how many had merely not been investigated.

Before proceeding to deal with recalcitrants in the country as a whole, the attorney general explained today, he hopes to finish all investigations. Then names of gold holders will be published and another interval allowed to elapse before prosecutions actually begin.

Working for two months, the department of justice has been able to get less than half way through the list of suspected holders. The attorney general said originally that he expected the list of suspects to run to 15,000, but today admitted that because of duplications the list now appears to have shrunk greatly, perhaps to 10,000. Only 4,463 investigations have been completed thus far.

Baker Fined for Putting Incorrect Label on Bread

City Sealer Joe Grein announced yesterday that the new amendment to the bread ordinance, providing for a label on each loaf showing its exact weight, would be strictly enforced. The first conviction under the amendment was that of Daniel Hosca, a baker at 2144 West Harrison street, who was fined $200 and costs by Municipal Judge Frank M. Padden for incorrect labeling.

U. S. ARMY CHIEF MAY GET JOB AS HAWAII GOVERNOR

Stronger Military Hand in Island Foreseen.

BY CLIFFORD GESSLER.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

HONOLULU, July 17.—Political observers see in the announcement that Maj. Gen. Briant Wells will remain in command of the Hawaiian department of the United States army for another year indications tending to strengthen rumors that Gen. Wells may be the next governor of Hawaii.

Gen. Wells' service in Hawaii would have expired this year. He arrived here in October, 1930.

The Hawaii organic act, a law of of the United States, provides that the governor of Hawaii shall have resided in Hawaii for at least three years next preceding his appointment.

Roosevelt Plan Balked.

Just before the recent special session of congress adjourned an attempt was made, at the request of President Roosevelt, to abrogate this provision so as to permit the President to appoint a governor of Hawaii who was not such a resident. The attempt failed through the opposition of Republican and Progressive senators in the closing hours of the session.

It is believed in some quarters that President Roosevelt's insistence on this change indicated that he will not give up the idea and that the attempt will be renewed in the January session, when, with more time ahead, it might be more easily carried.

It has been pointed out, however, that the main reason behind the movement to change the requirements for a governor was to open the way for the appointment of a governor not identified with local interests and one who would be acceptable to the military and naval interests, which have long been carrying on a campaign underground, which came into the open at the time of the Massie case, to change the government of Hawaii for one in which these military and naval interests would have more influence.

See Massie Case as "Plot."

It is the contention of a large group in Hawaii that the Massie case itself was a part of an alleged military and naval plot to destroy the American system of government in Hawaii and replace it by a military and naval dictatorship.

It is contended by the home rule group in Hawaii that other recent alleged rape cases, together with reports of "assaults by Honolulu gangs on army and navy personnel," which in many cases are found by investigation to be mere petty brawls in which either party may have been the aggressors, are part of a campaign to convince the administration and the readers of mainland newspapers that the people of Hawaii are lawless, disloyal, and inimical to the armed forces of the United States.

BRITAIN REFUSES TO BARGAIN WITH "REBEL" GANDHI

Will Not Negotiate on "Disobedience."

LONDON, July 17.—(AP)—The British government will maintain its refusal to negotiate on the question of civil disobedience in India, Sir Samuel Hoare, secretary for India, told the house of commons today.

"Once again Mahatma Gandhi wishes to put himself in the position of a negotiator who carries in reserve the unconstitutional weapon of civil disobedience to back his arguments," Sir Samuel said in the course of a debate on India.

"Let me repeat," he declared, "there can be no question of making a bargain with the all-India Nationalist congress as a condition of their accepting the ordinary obligations of citizens."

Gandhi Repeats Plea for Parley.

POONA, India, July 17.—(AP)—Mahatma Gandhi declined to be discouraged today by the refusal of the viceroy, Lord Willingdon, to grant him an interview unless the civil disobedience campaign were unconditionally abandoned.

The mahatma quickly replied to a message from the viceroy and repeated his request of last week for a conference on the possibilities of ending the passive resistance movement.

Gandhi declared the belief that if he could see Lord Willingdon he could show that the conference here last week of the Indian congress party was calculated to bring about an honorable peace.

The Nationalist leader was authorized to treat with Lord Willingdon by the party, most of whom seemed to be willing to drop the campaign in the belief cessation would induce the government to coöperate with the Nationalists.

U. S. BATTLE PLANES WIN AN ENGAGEMENT WITH MOSQUITOES

Fort Hoyle, Md., July 17.—[Special.]—The United States army, with a force of two fighting planes, today won a major campaign against mosquitoes.

Recruits in the citizens' military training camps had complained of a vicious attack from the mosquito hordes out of nearby swamps.

Today two planes, each carrying a pilot and observer, were ordered out from Edgewood arsenal. Using standard apparatus, which in combat sprays poison gas, the observers laid down a film of anti-mosquito oil over 158 acres of swampland, flying as low as 150 feet. Returning from the engagement Lieuts. Truly and Hood, who piloted, reported: "Battle of Fort Hoyle won. Enemy in complete retreat."

RACE TRACKS; golf courses, all improved and unimproved highways to them, with accurate mileages—these are only a small part of the up-to-date information in the Chicago Tribune's 1933 Chicagoland Map. This five color, pocket size master-map of the 40-mile area in the four states around the lower end of Lake Michigan includes such valuable facts as the location of grade crossings, danger points, Chicago boulevards, street numbering system, all four lane highways, beaches, and 46 forest preserves. RICHEST BRITON, WHO KEPT OUT OF PUBLIC EYE, DIES

Rose from Office Man to $5,000,000 a Year.

BY JOHN STEELE.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, July 17.—Sir John Reeves Ellerman, Great Britain's richest man and at the same time little known to the public, died last night at Dieppe, France, at the age of 71. He was one of the world's greatest shipping magnates and the owner of much valuable London real estate. He had an annual income of $5,000,000, which for years made him the best individual friend the British exchequer possessed.

Ellerman was born at Hull, the son of a German consular official, Johann Herman Ellerman. He started his career in an accountant's office and branched out on his own a few years later. At the age of 27 he founded his first trust company.

Buys Dying Shipping Line.

In 1899 he scraped together sufficient capital to buy the moribund Leyland shipping line, which he converted into a profit maker. He sold his interests to a J. P. Morgan syndicate at a profit of well over $1,000,000 to himself.

Sir John had a magical touch in shipping which enabled him to buy three shipping companies—the City, Hall and Bucknall lines—which paid heavy dividends. These he combined into the Ellerman line with 220 vessels. At the outbreak of the war Ellerman owned and controlled one-eight of all British shipping.

Aversion to publicity drove Sir John to lonely vacations on the Mediterranean as the only passenger aboard one of his ships. For the same reason he refused a peerage, although earlier in his career he accepted the baronetage "of Connaught Square" [1905].

Taxation to Hit Estate.

During the last few years he devoted himself to creating a secret fund to meet the heavy blow of taxation which will fall on his estate. Before the slump his capital wealth was fixed at $150,000,000 and his income at about $5,000,000. He lived on 3 or 4 per cent of his income and reinvested the rest. The British government will take half the colossal estate in death duties.

Ellerman was married in 1908 to Hannah Glover. His sole heir is his son, John Reeves Ellerman, aged 24.

London Parley Begins Work on "Cleaning Up" Its Affairs

BY JOHN STEELE.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, July 17.—The world economic conference began the process of cleaning up its work today, preparatory to a recess or adjournment on July 27. The various committees met in nearly every room of the Geological museum, the conference headquarters, preparing the reports which must be submitted to Prime Minister MacDonald of Great Britain, as president of the conference, before Friday for study over the week-end.

The various delegations submitted proposals on such subjects as sugar, tin, coffee, and the like, but nothing was decided by any of the committees. The wheat conference, which had hoped to complete its acreage reduction report today, was unable to meet because the Danubian countries had not finished with their figures. The wheat conference hoped to conclude its work tomorrow.

Hull Still Has Hopes.

Despite the failure of the conference, Secretary of State Cordell Hull, leader of the American delegation, professes not to be downhearted. According to his view it will take months, if not years, to work out agreements on the economic subjects presented in the conference agenda, and failure to do so in a few weeks is not surprising.

He envisages the results of this conference being achieved through a permanent commission representing about 15 nations, which will be created by the conference before its adjournment and which will continue to sit at London or Geneva, attended by experts on all problems on the agenda. This commission will be delegated to work out the agreements on monetary, tariff and other matters to be signed by all nations.

The Americans are to be represented at first on this commission by James M. Cox, former governor of Ohio, who is spending the summer in England, having leased a country estate just outside London. Mr. Cox is to present the American position in a speech at the final plenary session. Secretary Hull will return to Washington with the other members of the delegation and the staff on the President Harding, which is scheduled to sail the night the conference closes. The secretary plans, however, to keep in close touch with the work of the commission left behind by the conference.

Japanese Make Demand.

Meanwhile a little gayety was injected into today's proceedings by the Japanese, who complained that marks of origin on goods [eg. Made in U. S. A.] interfered with the free flow of international trade. The Tokio delegates demanded their abolishment. This was directed at the British policy of excluding very cheap Japanese goods from their markets by insisting on marks of origin on all goods entering the country.

Alexander Ozersky, one of soviet Russia's delegates, today issued a reply to the Canadian charge that Russian timber competition is unfair because the Russians had not considered the various elements of cost which enter into production in other countries. The only cost which the soviets escaped, he said, were unnecessary advertising, watered stock and unproductive expenditure in inflated directors' fees.

Denies "Slave Labor" Charge.

All genuine elements of cost were included in the soviet accounting, he declared. He denied the charge that timber was produced by slave labor. He asserted that Russia is the only country where there is no unemployment, and that the conditions of workers are steadily improving, while in the rest of the world they are growing worse.

Ozersky also refuted Canada's claim that she is able to supply the British market by stating that during the recent British embargo on Russian goods, Canada was unable to expand her exports to Great Britain and was unable to supply the requirements of the British market.

Arthur Henderson Visits Germany for Arms Talk

BERLIN, July 17.—(AP)—Arthur Henderson, president of the Geneva disarmament conference, arrived here today and visited Foreign Minister von Neurath and Rudolf Nadolny for discussions on the arms problem. Nadolny has been Germany's representative at the Geneva parley.

ALDERMEN BEGIN INQUIRY ON AUTO STEALING TODAY

Illinois Laws Inadequate, Foes of Crime Hold.

The city council committee on police will be told today that Illinois' laws to prevent the stealing and stripping of automobiles are ineffectual and that such laws as there are on this subject are not well enforced. The committee will begin its investigation today of conditions in Chicago which allow the auto theft racket to flourish.

Ald. George A. Williston [49th] is chairman of the committee, which will hear the views of police officials, automobile insurance experts, and representatives of crime fighting agencies, including Col. Henry Barrett Chamberlin, managing director of the Chicago Crime commission, in seeking means to curb the racket which now exacts an annual tribute of $10,000,000 from Chicago motorists.

Boosts Insurance Rates.

"Automobile stealing and stripping has become a menace to proper law enforcement, and it has boosted Chicago theft insurance rates to the point where they are almost prohibitive," Ald. Williston said yesterday.

"The racket must be broken up and those who engage in it discouraged by swift, stern punishment. We are going to examine the effects of the racket in an effort to find the causes. We are going to statute books, to the police department and to the courts for our answers."

The largest factor in the prevalence of automobile thefts in Chicago, according to information compiled by Col. Chamberlin, is the fact that the state laws did not, until the last session of the legislature, provide that all automobile sales and all sales of parts must be registered by both purchaser and retailer.

Wisconsin, Indiana, and Michigan all have such statutes, and these are strictly enforced. Thus Illinois is virtually surrounded by states in which automobile theft is sternly suppressed, and thieves are inevitably headed toward Chicago, where their operations are more easily carried on.

Easy to Flee State.

Col. Chamberlin also pointed out that Chicago is ideally situated, from the point of view of the automobile thief as well as other criminals. An hour's ride to the south places him in Indiana beyond pursuit of Illinois officers, and a two hour's ride to the north sees him secure in Wisconsin.

"At its last session the general assembly adopted a bill which will provide for the registration with the secretary of state of all automobiles, accompanied by sworn statements of title," Col. Chamberlin said. "The new law also includes a provision which will compel all motor car dealers to issue sworn statements showing from whom they purchased all automobile parts, and to whom the parts are sold. Sworn invoice lists also will be kept.

"The new law, however, will not become effective until Dec. 1. The present investigation aims to develop means to halt thefts and strippings during the intervening months.

Probations Undo Police Work.

"And then there is the policeman who is being harangued everlastingly by his superiors and various organizations for not reducing automobile thefts. He stands in court after risking his life chasing the thieves in the stolen automobile for miles and sees probation given to a youth whom he knows to be a menace to society. He knows that he will have this same defendant on his hands again sooner or later. He is impressed with the futility of arresting youthful automobile thieves."

The police districts in which the most automobile thefts and strippings occur, according to records kept by the crime commission over a three year period, follow: south, Woodlawn, Hyde Park, and Englewood; west, Desplaines, Maxwell, Fillmore, and Austin; north, Town Hall, East Chicago, and Summerdale; and the park systems and the loop.

AUTOMOBILE THEFTS.

Automobiles stolen, 82; recovered, 73; stripped, 17 [from Chicago police records for the 24 hours ending at midnight Sunday].

Maj. Thomas Refuses to Act in Any More Cases.

Maj. F. C. Thomas of the Volunteers of America, to whom Ross King, slayer of Policeman Harry Redlich, was paroled by the state of Michigan, informed the grand jury yesterday he would no longer act as sponsor for convicts sent here from prisons outside Illinois. He was called before the jury to tell how he became the sponsor for a dangerous criminal like King. His testimony is to be followed later by that of Dr. F. Emory Lyon, superintendent of the Central Howard association, who also acts as a private parole agent.

Maj. Thomas said he had already notified the various prison wardens that he would be responsible for no more convicts because he was unable to obtain jobs for his charges. He said the largest number of ex-convicts he ever had reporting to him was 82, in 1930. Assistant State's Attorney Edwin Spiro asked what kind of organization he had to watch the felons to see that they did not return to crime. He said he did that work himself. He is nearing 70 years of age and said he has been with the Volunteers of America for 32 years.

Released from Michigan Prison.

Replying to questioning, Maj. Thomas said he accepted the guardianship of King last September when the criminal was released from the Marquette [Mich.] prison after serving six years of a sentence for robbery while armed. Maj. Thomas said he usually visited the place of employment of his wards—or the places they told him they were employed. He said his recollection was that he had telephoned to a jeweler for whom King said he was working and that the jeweler told him the former convict was peddling cheap jewelry.

He did not solicit the parole of any convict, Maj. Thomas stated, nor did he enter into any correspondence regarding convicts in prisons in other states. He asserted that when he had been selected to look after an ex-convict he did not know it until the man reported to him. Asked what would happen if the criminal paroled to him failed to report, he answered that the failure would be discovered a month or so later when the prison authorities wrote to him asking about the convict.

Parole Supervisor Heard.

George T. Scully, chief supervisor of the Illinois parole board, was also before the grand jury. He said there are at present 5,000 men and women on parole from Illinois prisons. Of this number 750 have been permitted to leave the state, he said.

Illinois has reciprocal arrangements with New York, Massachusetts, and California, through which, for example, a New York convict would be paroled here and would be subject to the jurisdiction of the Illinois parole board. In the case of convicts sent here to Maj. Thomas, Dr. Lyon, the Episcopal Shelter, the Catholic Big Brothers, or the Colored Big Brothers, they are not subject to the Illinois parole board jurisdiction, he said.

Chief of Detectives Schoemaker said he receives no warnings that dangerous criminals are loosed in Chicago. The first he knew that King, who had not been a resident of Illinois before, was on parole here from Michigan was when King was captured after killing Policeman Redlich in a holdup, Schoemaker said. King and John Bonglorno, his co-defendant, were arraigned before Judge Harry B. Miller yesterday and their case was set for trial on Sept. 5.

DRUGGIST LOSES $50 IN HOLDUP.

BEG YOUR PARDON!

It was stated in yesterday's edition of THE TRIBUNE that the Chicago Federation of Labor on Sunday had voted to table a resolution criticizing the board of education for its economy program. The resolution was adopted. Another resolution condemning Charles Fry, a school trustee, for voting for the economies was tabled.

WELCH'S USED ON REDUCING DIET

says Prudence Penny

People who have given the most thorough study to the science of reducing healthfully have lately brought out some very interesting facts.

For years the "grape cure" has been prescribed by the most eminent European doctors as the ideal method of healthful weight reduction. But that involves the eating of many pounds of grapes daily, which is not practical.

It has now been shown that Welch's Certified-Pure, Pasteurized Grape Juice contains all the elements of the grape useful for weight control purposes. The rest is unnecessary. The makers of Welch's, aided by certain scientists, have worked out a reducing plan which when followed day by day will quickly cause superfluous fat to disappear without any weakening effects; in fact, health, vitality and strength improve. They put it all—the whole treatment—in a very readable booklet entitled, "Keeping Your Weight Down."

If you have children

you will be interested in another booklet this company has published, called "Red-Blooded Children." It describes a wonderful method of building up the youngsters, correcting anemia.

If you will send your name and address to The Welch Grape Juice Co., Dept. 287, Westfield, N. Y., you will receive either or both of these booklets FREE.

To save time let Welch's start you on the road to health today! Get a bottle of Welch's from your dealer; drink a glass before breakfast, once or twice during the day and before retiring. Because of its purity, Welch's may be diluted with one-third water, and many prefer it so. Continue—and in a few days you will experience the wonderful difference.

IMPORTANT: Be sure to insist on Welch's, because it is the Welch Process that retains in the bottled juice the healthful properties of ripe grapes so essential to the system. Only Welch's is Certified-Pure and Pasteurized. It contains no adulterants, no synthetic flavors, no artificial coloring, no preservatives, no water, and above all, no tartaric acid. It is selling at the lowest price in 35 years, and is even cheaper by the case. Send for free booklet TODAY.

—every good cook knows that

To Satisfy—a cigarette has to be seasoned just right

YOU buy food—steak, flour, corn meal, or fruit—it is cooked and brought to the table and tastes just fine. While the same food, cooked by somebody else, may not taste right at all. That's the difference between cooks—knowing how to season food.

It's somewhat like this with cigarettes. Many kinds of cigarettes have good tobaccos, but they are not mixed right; and then again they are not seasoned with the right amount of the right kind of Turkish Tobacco.

Chesterfields are seasoned just right . . . they are milder and taste better . . . and that's why They Satisfy.

"The newspaper is an institution developed by civilization to present the news of the day, to foster commerce and industry, to inform and mold public opinion, and to furnish that check upon government which no constitution has ever been able to provide."

WHY THE FRENCH AND GERMANS FEAR INFLATION.

While differences of present economic conditions are sufficient in themselves to account for the clash of policy between the United States and the principal European governments on the stabilization issue, it is probable that one political consideration was the dominant factor. This consideration turned upon the attitude of the public in each country toward the experiment of inflation. The American people are at this moment inclined to approve the experiment on the theory that it can be controlled before it reaches the destructive stage. The European peoples, especially the French and Germans, having lately passed through the disaster usually attendant upon the violent depreciation of currency, have a passionate and quite natural determination to avoid it if possible.

If Americans review this experience and some chapters of their own they will have a good deal of sympathy for the fears of the French and German people and perhaps some doubt of the validity of their own complaisancy toward the possibilities of their program.

Certainly the experience of the Germans and French was such as to fly the danger signal for any people. Thus in Germany, which had managed to control inflation by August of 1921, when the price level was only 14 times that of the prewar figure, before the end of the year the figure rose to 34, and in a year's time was 100 times the pre-war figure. The rise thereafter was dizzy, reaching in December, 1922, 1,425 times the prewar figure; by June, 1923, 19,000 times; by July, 74,000 times; by August, 994,000 times. Yet this was nothing to what was to follow. The next month it was 24 million times; in October, 7 billion times; in November, 725 billions; in December, 1,261 billions. The old currency had perished.

The social effects were, of course, devastating. Debts were wiped out, investments, and pensions; but the wage earners were also engulfed and retail purchases became almost impossible. A wage earner could not get his pay to the nearest shop fast enough to get its value when he received it. Prices had to be fixed several times a day to meet the fall of the currency. When the Dawes committee asked representatives of German labor what it could do for them their one appeal was, "Give us a stable currency." "Do you know," they said, "that for many months it has been impossible for a wage earner in Germany to perform any of his moral obligations? Knowing that a child was coming to the family at a certain time, there was no way by which the husband, through effort, or sacrifice, or saving, could guarantee his wife a doctor and a nurse when that event arrived." No one, however thrifty, industrious, and intelligent, could make any provision ahead. Some classes suffered less than others, the agricultural class and the industrialists, but the industrious middle class was wiped out and German society was on the brink of chaos.

In France inflation was less spectacular, but by 1926 the price level was eight times the prewar level and the franc had fallen from about 20 cents to below 4 cents in terms of our money. A report of a committee of French experts in 1921 said of this experience: "The fall of the franc has caused great ravages in our national economic life. It has continued the destruction of capital which the war began. The country believed it was maintaining its spending capacity, whereas it was consuming its own capital. No doubt trade and industry have experienced a period of apparent prosperity; even as yet there is no unemployment, sales are easy, and exports active. Many Frenchmen live in a state of illusion; in reality, in spite of nominally increased profits, there is in many cases an absence of real profit. The French are working and producing, but most of them are becoming unconsciously poorer."

To safeguard the economic life of the country, concluded the report, the franc must be given the fundamental quality of currency stability.

It would be remarkable if with this terrific experience fresh in the minds of the German and French people they were disposed to take any chance they can escape of its recurrence.

PROHIBITIONIST TACTICS.

An effort of the Anti-Saloon league and allies in Ohio to block ratification of the repeal amendment has just been disappointed by the Supreme court of that state. The proposal of the league was for a referendum for the Mosier law, which provides for a state-wide election of delegates on Nov. 7 to a convention to ratify or reject repeal. The action of the league is characteristic of professional prohibitionism, which has opposed referenda and ordered its followers to ignore them wherever and whenever it feared the vote would not be dry. The Ohio scheme was merely to put off the day when the people of Ohio can say whether they favor repeal. The Mosier law is itself a referendum, and to ask a referendum on that referendum would be ridiculous from any point of view but that of a dry politician.

Meanwhile we have the remarks of the Rev. Clarence True Wilson of the Methodist board of temperance, prohibition and public morals, who, speaking at the annual meeting of a commission of "world service," reminds the public that five states have refused to obey the mandate of congress and submit to their people the question of repeal and that "only eight more are needed to block the work of repealists." Presumably this result would be celebrated by the Rev. Mr. Wilson and his like as a triumph of temperance, prohibition, and public morals. It would be a triumph of prohibition as an expression of ruthless bigotry, but only that. It would be a defeat for temperance and public morals. A law perpetuated by the refusal of five state legislatures to permit their people to vote on repeal and of eight other states either to submit to that or vote against repeal would lose all vestige of moral authority. It would be so brazen an imposition of prohibition bossdom as to insure nullification in every self-respecting community. No congress in the face of such a demonstration would vote a dollar to enforce it.

The Rev. Mr. Wilson and his associate propagandists were demanding obedience to the constitution and the laws, meaning the 18th amendment and Volstead, while prohibitionism was in power. But they now applaud the state legislatures that refuse to obey the constitutional mandate and law of congress submitting the repeal amendment to the people. They talked then of the duty of submission to the will of the majority, but now they hope the 18th amendment can be perpetuated in spite of the will of an overwhelming majority of the states and the people. There is no temperance and no public morals in such a régime, and not even prohibition. The conscience and common sense of the American people have revolted against it. We do not believe there are thirteen states that are willing to separate themselves from that just judgment or give further countenance to the futile and mischievous bigotry of the prohibition bosses.

COURTESY AWARDS.

THE TRIBUNE plan for rewarding special acts of courtesy by police officers has a twofold purpose, that of giving recognition to the individual and that of calling attention of the public to the fact that our police perform many inconspicuous services which are not credited to the force as they deserve to be.

The former purpose needs no discussion. It should be beneficial in emphasizing to the force the duty of courtesy and helpfulness. There are some policemen who overlook it. We make due allowance for the unreasonableness and irresponsibility, and even lawlessness, of many individuals with whom the policeman has to deal. The traffic officer is under special strain and the wonder is that he resists it as well as he does. Nevertheless, self-restraint and courtesy to the public are a part of his job, and it is well, we think, to have this occasionally underlined.

But the public, too, needs a reminder. The police are often criticized and too often the criticism is justified. Politics plays havoc with police standards, and while the community is primarily at fault for permitting it the fact does not justify failure of duty in the force. Yet the force, as we have almost daily occasion to know, is full of brave and faithful men who under many discouraging conditions perform their duties, small and great, sometimes at the cost of life itself, but also day in and day out at the expense of much patience and good nature.

In the daily routine it is at all times the duty of the police officer and all other public servants to treat the citizen with consideration and helpfulness, and likewise it is the duty of the citizen to treat the agent of his government considerately and coöperate with him to maintain the conditions of public order belonging to a civilized community. This is platitude, but how often forgot. However deficient our police administration has always been and is in the handling of serious crime, deficient largely because of conditions for which the police are not primarily responsible, the routine performance of duty in other respects gets less recognition than it deserves. Any one who drives in our crowded streets must be impressed by the number of citizens who do not respect regulations or the safety and convenience of others. In short, they do not do their duty as members of a civilized society. Reckless and inconsiderate driving is a commonplace and it imposes upon the conscientious policeman the necessity of perpetual watchfulness and great self-restraint. That so many of them fulfill so well their difficult duty day by day ought to be recognized and encouraged. This is the object of THE TRIBUNE'S reward.

Editorial of the Day

DEVALUATION—IN THEORY.
[The Cincinnati Enquirer.]

The Committee for the Nation, representing 1,000 industrial leaders and headed by J. H. Rand Jr., is one of the powerful groups supporting an inflation policy and opposing the stabilization of the dollar in terms of foreign currencies. As a group mustering public opinion in support of the national recovery program it has done useful work. In providing factual data regarding the nation's monetary problems it also is useful. But it has chosen a reckless course in demanding reduction of the gold content of the dollar by 43 per cent to restore 1926 prices.

The contention of the Committee for the Nation is that [1] inflation should proceed until our price level reaches its 1926 level, [2] that the one means of realizing that end is devaluation of the dollar, and [3] that we should not endanger that effort by agreement with foreign nations to stabilize currencies. To make such an agreement, the committee contends, is to allow foreign states to fix the value of the dollar and thus control economic life in America.

There are some highly questionable elements in the committee's argument. First, it does not appear that anybody can calculate how much devaluation of the dollar will bring a specific rise in the price level. Our price increase in the last three months is far greater than the depreciation of the dollar. Second, the committee's theory does not take account of the results abroad if we should devalue the dollar by 43 per cent. It visualizes a world economic order which will stand still while America experiments drastically with the foreign value of the dollar.

As for the contention that stabilizing the dollar now would hand our major economic question over to foreigners for decision, it is very probable that the committee is letting patriotism replace clear economic thinking. The committee urges reduction of the gold dollar by 43 per cent to raise prices. But that devaluation affects our price level only through the foreign value of the dollar. If other countries devalued, or were forced to devalue, comparably, world prices would rise instead of merely our domestic prices. In either case our domestic recovery, in its monetary aspect, is greatly dependent on foreign nations. We cannot work out this problem, as the committee seeks to do, pretending that we are a nation immune to foreign influences.

"SIGN FROM HEAVEN Persuades Parson to Plow Cotton Under."—Headline. It seems that the preacher who lived down in South Carolina refused to destroy his cotton crop in accordance with the government acreage reduction campaign. He declared it would be a sin to plow the cotton under after the Almighty had gone to all the trouble of making it grow. Then a few days ago a bolt of lightning struck right in the middle of his cotton patch and destroyed a lot of the plants. That was enough for the parson; Heaven had signified to him that he ought to destroy that cotton, and he started plowing it under right away. Sometimes these signs from Heaven are hard to understand. I remember at a Methodist conference meeting in Bloomington a lusty young farmer, full of enthusiasm but lamentably shy on "book larnin'," arose and declared he wished to be ordained as a minister because he had seen a sign over his bed for three nights in great burning letters which read "G. P. C.," and the only meaning that could be attached to the handwriting on his ceiling was "Go Preach Christ." Then arose Dr. Frank Crane, then a pastor in Bloomington, and he said: "I think our zealous young brother has misinterpreted the sign above his bed. I think that 'G. P. C.' means that our earnest but untrained young friend should do that which he is best able to do and that 'G. P. C.' means 'Go Plow Corn.'" And that's what the young man did; at least, he wasn't ordained into the ministry.

REVERIE.

I'm here in the valley,
Sitting on the sod,
Thinking of the mountains
And a far-away God.

At sunrise in the morning
(And it doesn't rise till late,
For the mountains cast shadows—
Shadows dark as fate).

At sunrise in the morning
It's time to save one's strength
For the blazing sun at noon
And the day's long length.

But at dusk there's a quiet—
With the long night ahead—
A time to sit in silence
With the world all dead.

To dream in the valley,
Sitting on the sod,
Of the far-away mountains
And a far-away God.

AND ANYHOW, a rubber dollar ought to give what we've been looking for a long time, a good elastic currency. And when we're not buying beer or bread with the rubber dollar the baby could have it to cut his teeth on or Lucinda could chew it when she lost her regular chewing gum and could cement a half dozen together and use 'em in place of a golf ball.

"HUNDREDS Give Balbo Fascist's Salute."—Headline. Gen. Balbo must have been a little puzzled at the Fascist salute given by many Chicagoans. The trouble is that in Chicago we sometimes forget that the Fascist salute requires only one hand held high in the air, not both hands.

"CORRECT YOU ARE, Richard," comments my good friend Ed Barnes of the Raritan, Ill., Reporter, "the fifty Illinois delegates to the repeal convention were just 'a jumpin' and snortin' an' a rarin' ter go' in anticipation of the deluge of beer to be showered upon them by the brewing interests for unleashing Satan's emissary." But, Mr. Barnes, as a conscientious dry in good standing, why do you break one of the most sacred rules of the Anti-Saloon league by speaking of "Satan's emissary" when for years and years he has been known as the "Demon Rum"? If you do that again the other drys will spank you severely.

A MAN out in Irwin, Iowa, is reported at some length in the daily press as having found a newspaper in an old family Bible containing the news of the death of George Washington. If he only keeps on reading his Bible he may find out that Gen. Lee has surrendered and the war between the states is over.

THE PEARL.

(Pereira's Panel of the Pearl in the Jewel Exhibit, A Century of Progress.)

My beauty draws man down between cool walls
Of blue that smoothly part to let him pass;
My beauty draws him down where sunlight falls
Through fluent azure gloom as through a glass
To softly light the gardens where I lie.
Down hushed cerulean aisles he seeks for me,
An alien, careless if his search defy
The dragon guarding me, the sleepless sea.

I am the small white moon that he conspires
To pluck from out its nacreous skies and bear
To her, the lovely one who so desires
This lustrous sphere to fondle and to wear;
I am the little moon that sinks to rest
Upon twin matchless pearls of woman's breast.

WHY COUGH?

WHEN a good observer goes around a well run sanitarium for consumptives he becomes convinced that at least 90 per cent of the coughing in the outside world is unnecessary. He learns, furthermore, that there is an art in coughing. Some learn it to their advantage and some never do—and suffer the consequences.

Consumptives in such institutions rarely cough. When they do, the cough is low in pitch, not loud, and never racking or rasping. The bronchial tubes and the trachea are emptied as often as need be, but this is accomplished with little effort and not much sound. Theoretically, there should be a class in coughing in every sanitarium and every patient should be enrolled when he comes in, and he should remain a member until he can suppress most of his urge to cough and can raise without much effort when it is advisable for him to clear his breathing tubes. Practically this is not necessary, because each new patient learns promptly from the older residents. What is needed is classes in coughing for people with simple bronchitis, cold on the chest, for theater audiences, and for many others. Some proprietors of theaters would like to give away a ticket for a coughing class to every purchaser of a theater ticket.

The purpose of a cough is to clear the larger air passages of phlegm. If that is accomplished the act of coughing does good. All other coughing does harm, and in some cases the injury may be serious. Some of the methods that should be taught in coughing classes are as follows:

Many coughs can be suppressed by will power. A strong effort of the will, backed up by confidence of success, will end the urge to cough after a few minutes. On the other hand, yielding to the urge increases it. In the case of the nervous and dry cough coughing begets coughing.

The exposure of the skin to either cold or heat begets a desire to cough. The urge is apt to come if a cold draft strikes the skin or if the skin becomes too warm. This suggests measures for control. Loud or violent laughter is apt to cause a cough. Likewise the inhalation of dust. These observations suggest methods for control.

The urge to cough can be relieved by taking a number of short, shallow breaths in quick succession. In other words, panting often stops the urge to cough.

There is an art in or technique of proper coughing. The membrane of air tubes is constantly moving phlegm from inside toward the outside when there is any to be moved. The object of a cough is to catch the phlegm when it is just at the right stage for expulsion. Therefore, coughing should not be done until there is something to raise and until "the feel" tells us it has reached the raising point. When that time has come the lungs should be filled by a deep breath. The next step is to drive the air out with the vocal cords almost relaxed. In this way the blast of air is used to dislodge the phlegm and the least possible amount goes to vibrating the vocal cords. The resulting sound is soft. Harsh, hard, loud coughing is hard on the cords and on the lungs and is inefficient as a means of emptying.

TRAINING NEEDED.

M. E. writes: My husband has been under a terrible strain for about five months, due to business affairs. Recently he complains of aching all over; in fact, at times the pain is acute in his arms and legs. He says his legs feel tired all the time, as if he had walked miles. He expresses it in this way: "My nerves all over my body pain me." He refuses to see a doctor. I feel anxious about him, and shall appreciate your opinion of the symptoms.

REPLY.

Probably your husband is near what, in street terms, is called a "nervous breakdown." This is a state rather than a disease. It is not well defined, and probably some cases so called differ markedly from others.

Treatment by taking medicine is of minor importance. Treatment by advice and training, on the other hand, is very important. The objective is to give the person a philosophy of life suited to his trials; to give him courage, to lessen his conscientiousness, but to increase his poise and improve his character; to stop self-pity and to do away with fantasy; above all, to promote equanimity. A rest cure may help or harm, dependent on the way it is operated, also on the personality of the patient.

UNSAFE CANOPY.

Chicago, July 13.—[Friend of the People.]—What can be done in regard to the steel canopy over the street entrance to the old theater at 63d and Stewart avenue? This theater has not been in use for some years and the canopy is in very bad condition. In fact, last week a piece of the steel ceiling dropped down and just barely missed a pedestrian. The fire escapes in the alley are in bad condition. S. A. D.

Our inspector reports that he visited and examined the canopy in question and found it in apparently unsafe condition. Notice has been sent to the owners to have canopy examined by a licensed architect or structural engineer and report made to this department. As no action has been taken by the owners to comply with the above notice, the matter has been placed in the law department for prosecution.

16 YEARS AGO TODAY

JULY 18, 1917.

WASHINGTON.—Unless the unexpected happens, the long awaited draft for the new national army will be accomplished here tomorrow night. Disputes over the census estimates, or population upon which quotas from the various states are to be based for the great American fighting force, need not delay the draft, it was explained last night, and the drawing of the fateful serial numbers awaits only the final report from about 600 of the 4,554 exemption districts of the country.

PETROGRAD.—Yesterday was a day of rioting in which a number of persons were wounded, but so far as known nobody has been killed. To add to the sensations three members of the cabinet resigned their positions. They are members of the cadet faction, which stands for a democratic political government. The disorders took place in every part of the city. Regiment after regiment paraded the streets, carrying banners proclaiming "Down with the temporary government! All power to the Council of Workmen's and Soldiers' delegates."

LONDON.—A shakeup of the Lloyd George ministry of Great Britain was announced officially. Sir Edward Carson has relinquished his post as first lord of the admiralty and joined the war cabinet without portfolio. Sir Edward will be succeeded by Sir Eric Campbell Geddes, who has been director general of munitions supply. He received a large share of his practical education in the United States. Winston Spencer Churchill succeeds Dr. Christopher Addison as minister of munitions, Dr. Addison becoming a minister without portfolio in charge of reconstruction. Edwin Samuel Montagu, who was minister of munitions in the Asquith administration, is made secretary for India.

WAR SUMMARY.—The French won German trenches on a mile and a half front to a depth of two-thirds of a mile near Malancourt. The Russians were forced to evacuate Kaiusz in Galicia, recently German army headquarters. The Italians report the blowing up of Austrian works and the capture of prisoners. Germany reports the repulse of French and British attacks on the western front. King George of England has dropped his German titles and name. The royal family will be known as the House of Windsor.

CHICAGO.—The simplest of weddings was chosen by a showman's widow. When Mrs. Annie M. Ringling, widow of August Ringling, became Mrs. Howard D. Maize yesterday there wasn't anything spectacular about the ceremony. She came down from Baraboo, Wis., and was married in the rectory of St. Edmund's church in Oak Park by the Rev. Father John J. Code. Both Mr. and Mrs. Maize have grandchildren. The wedding is the culmination of an old friendship.

WORLD'S FAIR QUESTION BOX

Requests for information concerning A Century of Progress will be answered in this column. It is urged that questions be stated briefly.

QUESTION—1. Where is the English convict ship and what is the charge of admission? 2. What is the admission charge to the submarine? 3. Is the admission to the Field museum, Art institute, and Shedd aquarium now the same as before the Fair? 4. What is the charge to the Chicago Historical society in Lincoln park?

ANSWER—1. The Australian convict ship is anchored at the Clark street bridge, admission 25 cents. 2. 40 cents for adults and 25 cents for children. 3. Art institute free every day, but there is a 25 cent admission to the official art exhibit of A Century of Progress housed inside. Field museum, free on Thursday, Saturday, and Sunday; 25 cents other days; school children free every day. Shedd aquarium is the same as the Field museum. 4. Chicago Historical society museum is free on Monday and Wednesday, with 25 cent charge all other days.

QUESTION—Will you please tell me if the man who demonstrated the crab meat salad and introduced the marionettes July 3 was really George Rector?

ANSWER—It was George Rector in person.

QUESTION—Does the Fair pay $1 for Indian head pennies? I have an old fashioned clock that was given to my great-grandmother by her mistress during slavery days. I would like to place it on exhibition at the Fair.

ANSWER—The Fair does not. To exhibit your clock it would be necessary to contact an individual exhibitor.

QUESTION—I have several old European coins and a half penny dated 1812. Does the Fair buy or rent coins for exhibition?

ANSWER—No.

QUESTION—I was told that Indian head pennies would be worth 33½ cents during the World's Fair. Is this true?

A GLOOMY PROPHECY.

Irwin, Pa., July 12.—A comparative business chart has been issued by the Cleveland Trust company covering conditions since 1927 in the United States, Canada, Germany, England, France, Belgium, Italy and Japan. It shows how these nations have been marching in step economically. They all went down together in 1929, and all [except Canada] started up together in May to June of 1932. The other nations kept on going up, while we took a five month drop after the election, resuming with a sharp rise in April, 1933, when Canada started up also.

The chart clearly reveals that no one government was responsible for the three year down trend, and that no one government or political medicine could be credited with the general recovery. Certainly no program of depreciated currency had anything to do with it.

Notwithstanding plenty of evidence of an international economic upturn, the zeal of our administration seems to have developed into a veritable frenzy, and it is now becoming plain that as a result of wild haste and little consideration to important matters, serious mistakes have been made, and are still being made, that will impose burdens upon the people too sickening to contemplate, and which they had no idea would be foisted upon them when they voted on Nov. 8.

At a time when world prices are already rising, and when our prices would naturally rise fast enough of their own accord, they are, in addition, being forced up here by the threat of unnecessary greenback inflation, plus food and clothing tax, plus the wild and dangerous price lifting propaganda of the national recovery act, plus the prospects of a special four billion dollar government spending program, about half of which state governments are expected to double from local tribute.

Basically, this program is unsound. If carried out it may provide a passing paradise for speculators, but it will certainly constitute a bottomless pit for the taxpayers of this and the next generation. If we are compelled by law to adopt this insane program of bootstrapism, some day we will find ourselves ruptured in the middle while trying to keep both ends from flying apart.

R. E. NEWELL.

THE BLACK HATS.

Chicago, July 14.—In regard to the inquiry of C. L. Moore in today's column for information about a Wisconsin regiment, known as the Black Hats, in the civil war: His reference is undoubtedly to the Iron Brigade, which comprised the 2d, 6th and 7th Wisconsin, the 24th Michigan and the 19th Indiana. The Iron Brigade was part of the First division, First corps, Army of the Potomac, and was commanded by Gen. Bragg of Wisconsin. The Iron Brigade men wore black slouch hats. It was a famous fighting regiment. It opened the battle of Gettysburg, and was rather roughly handled in the first day's fight, having less than 600 survivors at night. Gen. Reynolds, the corps commander, was killed there. The 24th Michigan lost all its officers and was reduced to 96 men. O. B. Curtis, who lost an arm at Gettysburg, wrote a history of the 24th Michigan about 40 years ago. It contains much of the history of the Iron Brigade. A copy could, perhaps, be secured from the Detroit public library.

The 24th Michigan was a Detroit regiment. A. D. WELTON.

THE NEW CORPORATION ACT.

Chicago, July 14.—The new business corporation act has now become a law, and I wish to thank you very much for the assistance which THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE gave us in securing its passage. The articles written by Messrs. Thomas Furlong, Parke Brown, and Walter Trohan were very helpful. I hope that experience proves that the act is all that we believe it to be. M. B. KENNEDY,
Chairman of the Corporation Law Committee of the Chicago Bar Association.

THE MUSEUM OF SCIENCE AND INDUSTRY.

Chicago, July 12.—One of your correspondents today asks why the Museum of Science and Industry has not been opened in its entirety. In answering his query I would like to point out first of all that the trustees of the museum never intended to open the whole building at one time. Before any attempt was made to give Chicago a great technical museum a study of the Deutscher museum in Munich was made and the benefit of the friendly advice of its head, Dr. Oskar von Miller, was sought. It took Von Miller twenty years to establish his great project and he advised us to open the museum hall by hall.

In the second place, if the writer of the letter would visit A Century of Progress Exposition he would find that practically every exhibit at the Fair which comes within the scope of the Museum of Science and Industry has been promised to it at the conclusion of the Fair and is so labeled. The museum permitted many of the industrial organizations which were preparing exhibits for display in its halls to use them at the World's Fair and in turn the officials of A Century of Progress have aided the museum in planning for the future. The writer of the letter referred to above evidently did not spend much time in the museum. He missed the full sized coal mine which has already attracted world wide attention in the few weeks it has been open. And he missed two hundred other exhibits which represent many hundreds of thousands of dollars spent by Chicago and other industries which know that the museum is a permanent institution and that it will be in a few years' time the largest and best technical museum in the world. If he still doubts the museum's growing popularity, let him try to find parking space in front of it next Sunday. Then let him read the article which James O'Donnell Bennett wrote about the museum in the days when it was still a dream.

Twelve miles of exhibits covering every phase of man's scientific and engineering activity cannot be properly installed overnight. Let us hope, therefore, that the writer will return and study the fascinating exhibits in the museum again, and, above all, make the trip through the underground workings of the coal mine.

JOHN A. MALONEY,
Assistant to the Director, Museum of Science and Industry.

WHEEL CHAIRS AT THE FAIR.

Holland, Mich., July 13.—Having had the opportunity of visiting the wonderful A Century of Progress, I feel it was the chance of a lifetime, and I know it will continue to thrill the myriads of visitors passing through the gates. It is such a huge project and covers so much ground that I couldn't help but think what a boon it would be to tired, aching feet to have the chair boys take short hauls—say from one building to another—and then charge accordingly. So many walk as if their feet hurt, and I know mine did before I was there very long, walking on the gravel or crushed stone.

The Greyhounds are O. K., but to get a seat I've found is impossible, and the chairs wander around empty. What do you think of the idea?

Chicago, July 10.—Three grievances:

1. Your failure to report the complete text of President Hutchins' address before the N. E. A.
2. Your continued ballyhoo about water transportation.
3. Your gradually degenerating comic features.

TAX COLLECTIONS.

Real estate tax collections yesterday totaled $474,631. A total of $27,583,781 has been collected since enforcement of the Kerner-Skarda act began April 28. The day's real estate tax collections and the uncollected taxes for four years are shown in the following table:

July 17	$ 10,265	$ 116,603
Uncollected	18,848,886	49,507,358
	1930.	1931.
July 17	$ 135,015	$ 212,747
Uncollected	79,061,126	107,672,834

The day's collection of 1931 personal property taxes totaled $15,182.

County Judge Jarecki yesterday attacked a list of 175 cases in the campaign to collect delinquent real estate taxes under the Kerner-Skarda act. In 49 cases he named County Treasurer McDonough as receiver to collect the back taxes.

The majority of the remaining cases were continued. A score of property owners avoided receiverships by payment of taxes. The largest payment was one of $64,180 made by attorneys for Fred Espert on a dozen north side properties. A total of $86,181 was paid in court.

The 49 properties ordered into receivership, with the taxes due, are:

County Treasurer McDonough filed petitions for the appointment of tax receivers for 101 properties owing $252,762 in back taxes. In the Circuit court the state's attorney's office filed 50 suits to collect a total of approximately $500,000 in delinquent 1931 personal taxes.

The county treasurer distributed $442,500 to the major local governments and the state in 1931 tax collections yesterday. Of this the city received $300,000, the state $25,000, the sanitary district $50,000, the forest preserves $12,500, the south parks $25,000, the west parks $15,000 and Lincoln park $15,000.

W. G. ZOLLER'S WILL FILED IN PROBATE COURT

The will of Walter G. Zoller, president of the Bell & Zoller Coal company, who died last June 6, was filed yesterday with Mitchell C. Robin, clerk of the Probate court. The terms of the will, which leaves most of a $3,000,000 estate to the University of Chicago for a dental clinic, were made public shortly after his death.

Other wills filed yesterday are as follows:

CAROLINE BROWN, died March 28. Estate of $2,000 to two sons and one daughter. Winnie Bradley, daughter, executrix.

GEORGE GRUEL, died July 4. Estate of $5,000 to two sons and one daughter. William Gruel, son, executor.

JOSEPH CLOVI, died May 29. Estate of $12,000 to three brothers and three sisters. I. Ben Berger, executor.

CARRIE WOERLINS, died April 29. Estate of $2,000 to son. Julius Mall, executor.

No More Piles

You Can End Your Awful Misery Quick Without Cutting or Salves

Thousands of Pile Sufferers do not know that the cause of Piles is internal—bad circulation of blood in the lower bowel.

That is the scientific truth about Piles—the real reason why salves and suppositories do not give permanent relief, why cutting does not remove the cause.

Your Piles will only go when you actually remove the cause—and not one minute before. External treatments can't do this—an internal medicine should be used. HEM-ROID, the prescription of Dr. J. S. Leonhardt, succeeds because it stimulates the circulation, drives out congested blood, heals and restores the almost dead parts.

Dr. Leonhardt's HEM-ROID has an almost unbelievable record of success. So why waste time on external remedies or worry about an operation when Walgreen's invite every Pile sufferer to try HEM-ROID with guarantee of money-back if it does not end their Pile misery, no matter how stubborn the case?

NEW GIFTS PUT FREE ICE FUND ABOVE $1,000

Children's Pennies Aid Contributions.

A novel way of collecting money for THE TRIBUNE free ice fund was revealed yesterday in a note accompanying a $2 contribution from the Beginners' department of the Norwood Park Evangelical Lutheran Sunday school. Every penny contributed was brought by children who had received new clothes or toys during the week.

"Beside helping underprivileged children," wrote a teacher in the department, "this method of contributing is also helping our own children to learn the joy and beauty of sharing."

Another children's contribution to the fund was from a group in the vicinity of 5200 Drexel avenue, who raised $1.54 from a play called "The Poor Little Rich Girl."

$12.50—A. G. W.
$10.00—In memory of H. B. W. from F. B. W.: Mrs. Levy Mayer, in memory of Mrs. Caroline Alschuler of Aurora.
$5—I. D. Goss.
2.00—Norwood Park Evangelical Lutheran Sunday school beginners, Mary M. Mulcahy, Mrs. J. R. Ledwell.
$1.54—Proceeds of play given by Rita Solomon, Carolyn Loeb, Clarice Ann Ross, Alice Vorsayer, Esther Vorsayer, Lola Weinman.

Sentences Former Banker for Tax Warrant Forgery

John R. Steele, former banker of South Bend, Ind., was sentenced to 1 to 14 years in the penitentiary yesterday by Judge Philip L. Sullivan in the Criminal court for the forgery of Cook county tax anticipation warrants to the value of $41,000. Steele was found guilty by a jury last week. Judge Sullivan allowed Steele a 90 day stay of mittimus pending his appeal and released him on $10,000 bond. John Ballwin and Thomas Nelson, ex-convicts, who were co-defendants with Steels, are fugitives from justice and have forfeited $10,000 bonds.

MORRISON HOTEL CHICAGO

LOW TAXI RATE TO STAY; CABS SHOW PROFITS

Yellow Company Holds to 10 Cents for ⅔ Mile.

The maximum taxicab charge in Chicago today will be 10 cents for each two-thirds of a mile. The pressure of competition developed in the "rate war" which began last Thursday has driven off the streets the last of the cabs operating under the old "monopoly" rate of 20 cents for the first quarter mile and 10 cents for each succeeding half mile.

Executives of the Checker, Yellow and Public taxicab companies all agreed that they are doing more business and will continue to do more business at the reduced rates. These optimistic statements contrast sharply with previous assertions by representatives of the Yellow and Checker companies before city council committees, that a slash in the old "monopoly" rate would mean their bankruptcy.

Yellow Fixes Maximum Rate.

The new maximum rate level was set when Thomas Hogan, president of the Yellow Cab company, announced that henceforth all Yellow cabs will charge 10 cents for each two-thirds of a mile. During the last three days many complaints have been made by taxicab patrons that they have been charged the old rates in Yellow cabs. The company has explained that it has been changing the meters as rapidly as possible, but the changes have been made on only 500 of its 1,400 operating cabs.

Mr. Hogan said that a new schedule of rates will be pasted in all Yellow cabs. The schedule will show patrons how to pay the new rates by the old meter readings. The schedule follows:

Meter shows.	Patron pays.
$ .25	$ .10
.35	.10
.45	.20
.55	.30
.65	.30
.75	.40

For each additional 10 cents recorded by the meter over 75 cents the patron pays 10 cents. As in all the operating taxicab companies, there is no charge for extra passengers.

The meters in all Yellow cabs will be changed to record the new rates as quickly as possible, Mr. Hogan said. "It is clear that we have received a certain amount of additional business under the reduced rates," he added. "Of course part of this increase has been due to the large number of persons using cabs in connection with the Balbo reception. The next week ought to give us a pretty fair idea as to whether we can operate profitably at the present rates."

Demand Standard Checker Rate.

M. M. Sokol, president of the Checker Cab company, announced that the Checker drivers' committees are demanding that the company standardize the rates they propose to charge. Many of the drivers complain that other drivers are reducing the fares even below the flat rate of 5 cents for each one-half mile, which was established by the Checker drivers when the rate war began.

At a meeting to be held today the company will set up a new rate schedule, Sokol said. That preferred by the majority of the drivers, he said, is 10 cents for each two-thirds of a mile.

"The volume of our 'trip' business has increased nearly 100 per cent," he said. "The drivers of our company keep their own records, but I am told that they book from $7 to $8 a day, though they have to work 12 to 14 hours to do it.

"The company proposes to try out the new rates for at least a month before making any final decisions as to what charges shall be."

Other Company Reports Gain.

At the office of the Public Taxi Service company, drivers said their business had increased 15 per cent since they dropped their rates from 15 cents for the first one-third mile and five cents for each succeeding third of a mile to a flat rate of five cents for each one-third mile. There are 84 Public cabs operating on double shifts, officials said.

Federal Judge Charles E. Woodward continued until next Monday the hearing of evidence in a contempt case against 440 Checker drivers. The drivers have been directed by the court to take their cabs to the company garages at least twice a week, and most of them, it is alleged, have refused to do this.

Attorneys David D. Stansbury and E. G. Woods, counsel for the drivers, said that they wished to produce 100 witnesses in court to testify that the company was trying to force its men to pay monthly storage charges of $75 for double shift cabs and $55 for single shift cabs, on threats of charging $120 and $95 if they do not agree. Since Jan. 1, the lawyers said, the drivers have been paying $60 for double shift cabs and $40 for single shift cabs under an oral agreement.

Judge Woodward directed the attorneys to try to reach a compromise with Attorney A. L. Stebbins, lawyer for the company.

Girls Fall Into Quarry Pool; One Is Drowned

Lottie Jerzak, 14 years old, 3426 West 39th street, was drowned yesterday in a pool of water in an abandoned stone quarry at Cicero avenue and 31st street, Cicero, which is now in use as a garbage dump. She, her sister, Sophia, 12 years old, and Florence Nogaol, 3414 West 39th street, had gone to the dump to pick up garbage, the younger girls said. They broke through some floating refuse and fell into deep water. Two men who were also salvaging garbage pulled out Florence and Sophia, but Lottie sank and was drowned.

MICHIGAN TAX ON CHAIN STORES WINS OVER VETO

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Lansing, Mich., July 17.—[Special.]—Michigan legislators returned en masse today for the formal sine die adjournment of the regular 1933 session, but the motive for their appearance, an attempt to override executive vetoes of a number of controversial acts, generally failed to achieve its object. The only veto that the house failed to sustain was that of the chain store tax bill.

The senate meanwhile had overridden vetoes of six out of nine rejected measures, most of them of less importance than the house bills.

The house, controlled by Democrats, adopted a report of its special committee investigating lobbyists.

"Of all the witnesses who appeared before the committee," the report stated, "none was so reluctant to testify in a fair and frank manner as was Isaiah Leebove. He was an arbitrary, insolent, and insulting witness. His testimony was evasive and abusive.

"No party or administration should continue to associate with individuals or a group of individuals whose desires are evil and whose purposes are malevolent."

Representatives Frank Berka [Dem., Saginaw] and George Watson [Rep., Capac] charged they had been offered $5,000 bribes by a representative of a Chicago personal finance company in regard to the small loan interest bill that was vetoed.

Pioneering Work Cost Him 100 Operations.

Baltimore, Md., July 17.—[Special.] Dr. Frederick H. Henry Baetjer, world famous roentgenologist, professor of clinical roentgenology of the Johns Hopkins Medical school, died early today at his home here, at the age of 59. A nurse attendant found him dead.

DR. F.H. H. BAETJER

Dr. Baetjer was a martyr to science. A pioneer in the use of the X-ray, he suffered injuries which resulted in nearly 100 operations and became known throughout this country and abroad for the fearlessness with which he continued to do his work in spite of his knowledge of the danger which attended it.

A screen now protects the operator, but before that device had been perfected Dr. Baetjer had suffered such injuries to both hands that repeated operations became necessary. All his fingers had been amputated, and one eye was irreparably injured. A hemorrhage from the injured eye, about a year ago, made it impossible for him to continue his duties at Hopkins Medical school.

Widow Is An Invalid.

Mrs. Baetjer, the former Miss Mary Garnall Carey of Baltimore, has been an invalid for some time and is now in Maine. There are two children, a daughter and a son, Mrs. Thomas Jefferson Dubose of Sumter, S. C., and Harold Hayward Baetjer, who is now in England as a member of the prize winning boat crew of a New England school. There is a brother, J. George Baetjer, of Winchester, Va.

Dr. Baetjer was a native of Winchester, Va.

He studied in the public schools of Winchester and in Shenandoah Valley academy, took his A. B. and his M. D. at Johns Hopkins, did post-graduate work at the University of Berlin, was resident house officer of the Johns Hopkins hospital in 1901 and 1902 and began private practice in 1903.

Associate Loses Arm.

Dr. Christian Deetjan, who several years ago suffered the amputation of his left arm as a result of his work with the ray in the early stages of its development, was doing pioneer work in Baltimore in this special field when Dr. Baetjer began his experiments, and they both have been known for years to members of the profession as martyrs to their science.

Burial Rites Today for Dr. B. C. Bahr, Hero of War

Kansas City, Mo., July 17.—(AP)—Funeral services will be held here tomorrow for Dr. Berthold C. Bahr, X-ray technician and world war hero. He died here yesterday of heart disease. Dr. Bahr, a native of Breslau, Germany, was a first lieutenant in the medical corps, 35th division, United States army, during the war. He was cited for his heroism in capturing 20 Germans single-handed.

Wife of Hungarian Premier Dies of Heart Attack at 44

BUDAPEST, Hungary, July 17.—(AP)—Elizabeth Goemboes, wife of the Hungarian premier, Julius Goemboes, died today of a heart attack. She was 44. Mme. Goemboes never quite recovered from the shock of a stage murder in a Budapest theater four years ago, when, as a shot was fired out of the darkened auditorium, she fainted with fright and temporarily lost her voice. She was the second wife of the premier, and was Elizabeth Szilagyi before the marriage.

R. Sloane Bredin, Artist, Dies East; Won Frisco Medal

YOU: "I can't sleep!"

DOCTOR: "Been drinking much coffee?"

YOU: "Can that be it?"

DOCTOR: "Can't tell. Better start drinking a caffeine-free coffee."

Do you lie awake nights? It may be your coffee. All ordinary coffee contains caffeine ... a stimulant that very often causes wakefulness, overworks nerves and heart, aggravates high blood pressure. Kellogg's Kaffee-Hag Coffee is the "way out." Blended of the finest Brazilian and Colombian beans ... it's as delicious as coffee can be. And it's safe for everyone because 97% of the caffeine is removed ... by a radically improved process. Isn't it worth a trial?

Ground or in the bean... Vacuum packed. At your grocer's... or send for trial can.

Kellogg Co., Battle Creek, Mich.
Please send me a can of Kellogg's Kaffee-Hag (caffeine-free) Coffee. I enclose 15c in stamps.

In Memoriam.

FAIT—Theresa Mary Fait, In loving memory of our beloved wife and mother who passed away one year ago today, July 18, 1932.
You bade no one a last farewell,
You said good-by to none.
Your loving heart had ceased to beat,
Before we knew it you were gone.
More and more each day we miss you.
Friends may think our wound is healed,
But they little know the sorrow
That lies within our hearts concealed.
Heartbroken husband and daughter,
ANTON FAIT AND MRS. LILLIAN OGDEN.

KARASH—Augusta Karash. In fond and loving memory of our dear mother, who passed away July 18, 1931.
The memory of some pictures, certain scenes, remains with us forever. But only one picture, only one scene stands out above all others.
We long to see our mother in the doorway, as she stood there years ago her boys to greet.

Miss Peggy Glidden Announces September 16 as Wedding Date

Tells Friends of Plans as She Arrives Home After Five Months Traveling in Europe.

BY JUDITH CASS.

As soon as Miss Peggy Glidden, daughter of Henry L. Glidden, arrived in town yesterday after a five months' European trip she announced to her most intimate friends that Sept. 16 is the date for her wedding to John Roderick Rogers, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry G. Rogers of Ausable Forks, N. Y. Miss Glidden's engagement to the attractive young easterner was made known early last fall.

Having returned to the United States the end of June, she has spent the last few weeks visiting Mr. Rogers and his family in Ausable. When she stepped off the train early yesterday morning smartly attired in navy blue crêpe, a little "gob" hat, and a silver fox fur she was with her father, who met her in the east and accompanied her back to Chicago.

Then there was a quick dash out to their home in Highland Park, where the wedding is to take place in the lovely old Trinity church with a reception following, probably at home. Mr. Glidden went to Europe with his daughter last February, but returned shortly to this country, leaving her to travel with her future sister-in-law, Miss Katharine Rogers.

After her wedding Miss Glidden will come to Chicago only as a visitor, much to the regret of her many friends, for she is to make her home in Ausable Forks. Her two roommates at Dobbs Ferry, both eastern girls, are about to make their homes here in Chicago. Mrs. Albert O. Snite, who was Miss Betty Pierce of Plattsburg, N. Y., is just getting settled in a little house west of Highland Park, and Miss Betty Lee Rich of New York City will come here to live after her marriage to Robert E. Kenyon Jr. of Lake Forest. Mrs. Snite and Miss Rich both met their future husbands while visiting Miss Glidden. Miss Rich is now visiting her fiancé's family here.

It may be that Miss Glidden and Miss Gwendolyn Juergens, with whom she made her debut a year ago last fall, will both be fall brides, for Miss Juergens' engagement was just announced yesterday to John Richmond Hurley.

Vacations Call Society From City.

Even with a World's Fair, a history making trans-Atlantic flight, and the Arlington Park race track for city attractions, many in society's ranks are yielding to the lure of mountains, woods, and seashore. This week in particular the exodus is notable.

Early tomorrow morning a lively and interesting trio in a vacation frame of mind . . . Mrs. John R. Winterbotham Jr., her son, Johnny, and her pretty 15 year old niece, Katherine Roberta Buchanan . . . are boarding the train for the Winterbothams' delightful summer home in the heart of the White mountains at Franconia, N. H. It is nestled under Sugar Hill, which is near the famous Pecketts that so many Chicagoans have visited.

Mrs. Winterbotham and the children . . . Katherine is the daughter of Thompson Buchanan, the playwright, and Mrs. Kumar Jehan Seesodia Warliker, who was Katherine Winterbotham before her marriage to Mr. Buchanan . . . will be away until the end of September. Mr. Winterbotham plans to join them the middle or the end of August and accompany them home.

Mrs. Warner Jr., Goes East Today.

Another eastern vacationist is the young and pretty Mrs. Ezra J. Warner Jr., who leaves this morning for Easthampton, L. I. There she will spend a fortnight with her parents, the D. Thomas Moores.

In another day or two the Chauncey B. Borlands with their three daughters, Harriet, Beatrice, and Martha, will leave by motor for their summer home in Camden, Me. The Norris H. Bokums decided definitely this last week-end to spend the remainder of the summer at Nantucket. They will depart in another fortnight. This will be Miss Doris Bokum's last summer there as a "sub-deb" for she will make her debut next winter.

Going north next week-end are the Frank Smith Simses to Mr. Sims' father's ranch at Au Gres, Mich. A gorgeous place with a splendid beach, wooded trails for riding horseback or walking, and facilities for most any other sport your heart might desire. Mrs. Edwin W. Sims has been there since the beginning of the summer. The last fortnight she has had with her the Frank Sims' baby son, who had his first birthday Sunday. In another two or three weeks the John Derns will go up to be the Sims' guests at the ranch house.

Up at Eagle River, Wis., for swimming and fishing are Mr. and Mrs. Joseph B. Fleming and their three daughters, Josephine, Lily, and Jean Alice.

Among the western recruits are the Arthur G. Cables, most of whom are down at the Cables' ranch in Santa Fe. Mrs. Cable has been there some time [she entertained Prince Potenziani and his daughter, Donna Myriam, while they were on their western tour], but Arthur Jr. and his brother, Peter, have just left the north shore. Mr. Cable isn't quite sure when he will be able to lock up his desk here and have a vacation with his family.

Leave Today for Canadian Rockies.

This morning Mrs. Howell B. Erminger Jr. and her two daughters, Carolyn and Bertha, are boarding a train for the Canadian rockies in and around Banff and Lake Louise. From the day of the arrival until the day after Labor day, when they return, their time will be completely filled with riding the trails, swimming, mountain climbing, and fishing. Mr. Erminger is going to join them the first two weeks in August.

Tonight Lake Forest is saying "au revoir" to the C. Pardee Erdmans and their two children, Laura Thorne Erdman and Junior Erman, better known as "Paddy," for they are returning to their ranch near Big Horn, Wyo. They came here for a visit with Mrs. Erdman's mother, Mrs. Richard R. Donnelley, and her aunt, Miss Naomi Donnelley, and the wedding of Maroussa Russell to Col. George Voevodsky.

Touring Glacier National park are Dr. and Mrs. Stuyvesant Butler. They left Friday and will be away a fortnight. Mrs. Lon C. Hill, Jr., Georgette, Lon III, and Owsley of Winnetka have left to join Mr. Hill at Port Isabel, Texas, on the gulf. There they will spend the rest of the summer.

And still some more vacationists. The Averill Tildens and their daughters, Harriet and Ruth, and their son, Baylies, are leaving the end of this month for a several weeks' stay at Duxbury, Mass.

Polish Consul Receives Friends.

The Polish consul general, Titus Zbyszewski, received his many Polish and American friends at the Drake hotel yesterday afternoon in celebration of the opening of the Polish Week of Hospitality at A Century of Progress. In greeting every one with a cordial handshake—or perhaps a kiss on the back of the hand, depending on whether the guest were gentleman or lady—he was seconded by the handsome Polish vice consul, Edward Kulikowski.

Ladislas Sokolowski, who is second to the Polish ambassador at the embassy in Washington, was there, and

Poinsettia Quilt Is Appropriate Christmas Gift

Poinsettia.

BY NANCY CABOT.

Wouldn't it be a good plan to begin a quilt in this design now? When Christmas rolls around you will have an interesting and entirely appropriate gift for some one—if you can resist the temptation to keep it for yourself. This "Poinsettia" is an appliqued design, not at all difficult to make.

For a quilt pattern of this design send 5 cents in stamps or coin to Nancy Cabot, Chicago Tribune, printing your name and address clearly. Or call at the Tribune Public Service Office, One South Dearborn street.

Polish Concert Is an Elaborate Music Evening

BY EDWARD MOORE.

Polish Week of Hospitality was inaugurated with an elaborate concert at the Auditorium last night. Here was Jerzy Bojanowski, guest conductor from Warsaw, to direct the Chicago Philharmonic orchestra in a program of Polish music; here was a chorus 1,000 strong from the Allied Polish Singing Societies of Chicago to sing a large group of Polish folk songs; here was Michael Wilkomirski, the violinist, to play a concerto from his native land.

The concert was under the patronage of Mayor Kelly, Titus Zbyszewski, consul general of Poland; the Polish Day association, and the Chicago Friends of Music.

The music played would seem to represent an effort to form a national school of composition. Though it contained no music by either Chopin, the genius of a century ago, nor Szymanowski, the notable figure of the present, it made known several composers worthy of respect and little known on this side of the Atlantic, Ludomir Rozycki, Mieczyslaw Karlowicz, and Zygmunt Noskowski among them.

Their chief apparent effort is in the direction of agreeable voice leading and expert knowledge of the orchestra wherewith to do it. With the exception of the violin concerto by Karlowicz, all the works were symphonic poems, which means that they went in for descriptive and emotional effects rather than formal construction.

It was music worthy of careful attention, though with a marked tendency to lapse into long periods of uncontrasted slow tempo. In this respect it was evident that the composers had not followed their own folk music as a basis, which, as sung by the chorus, was as lively, melodious, and stirring as the best. Incidentally, the chorus was a well trained, resonant band, responding expertly to the beat of Mr. Karczynski. Mr. Bojanowski proved himself a master of the orchestral baton. Unfortunately the hour grew too late to make it possible to hear Mr. Wilkomirski's solo.

Several music programs will be presented before the International Council of Women, in session this week at the Palmer house. Five hundred children in foreign costumes from the Chicago Federation of Music Settlements were listed for last night following an address by Jane Addams.

A concert this afternoon arranged by Mrs. Margaret Lester, president of the Chicago district, Illinois Federation of Music Clubs, will include numbers by Grace Nelson, pianist; Margaret Gent, soprano, and Oscar Chausow, violinist. Margery Maxwell, soprano, will sing tonight, and Rudolph Ganz and Mollie Margolies will play music for two pianos tomorrow night.

Polish Women Will Open Convention in City Today

The women's division of the Polish National Alliance of the United States will hold a two day meeting, beginning today, in the Lewis hotel at Milwaukee avenue and Division street. Speakers at the banquet tonight include Tadeusz Bujnowski and Jan Romaszkiewicz, president of the Polish National Alliance. Three hundred Polish women from 36 states will attend the conference.

Actors Grow Beards for Movie but Lose Jobs; Voice Protest

Los Angeles, Cal., July 17.—[Special.]—Beards were featured in stormy discussions today between fifteen film players affected by the strike of sound men and the sympathy walkout of other unions at Columbia studio. The actors gathered to discuss their case with Adolphe Menjou, who, as chairman of the actors' committee of the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences, is the actors' spokesman in cases of dispute between players and employers.

A group of the actors grew beards for a picture and agreed with Columbia pictures not to shave again except on a week's notice. Since then the studio took advantage of a clause in their contract to dismiss the actors from work and now they do not know whether to shave or not, nor whether the studio is obligated to pay them for one week. Menjou informed the protestants the studio, under the contract, was within its right in making a wholesale cancellation of employment.

Miss Mildred Wetten Becomes Bride of Thomas Lloyd Kelly

The wedding of Miss Mildred Wetten, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Hayes Wetten, 209 Lake Shore drive, and Thomas Lloyd Kelly, son of the late Mrs. Thomas Lloyd Kelly, was announced last evening by the bride's parents. The ceremony took place yesterday afternoon at the bride's home.

It was Miss Wetten's second marriage. In 1929 she was married to Thomas C. Ingersoll of Manitowoc, Wis. The following year she obtained a divorce.

Rapturous Vivas, Correct Dress Mark Society Fete for Flyers

BY RUTH DE YOUNG.

ITALY with her heritage of culture and color never produced a more brilliant spectacle than Chicago's Casino last night, when Gen. Italo Balbo and his 96 Roman eagles were entertained at a reception and ball by the Italy-America society and Prince Potenziani, official commissioner of Premier Mussolini to A Century of Progress.

It will be written on society's roster of memorable events.

There were splendor, gayety, and rapturous vivas. As the hour wore on the jubilation increased. Never once was it apparent that the heavy, swarthy, firmly poised general and his valiant airmen had lived a day of official ceremonial, speechmaking, banqueting and endless felicitation. With the same ease and enthusiasm and with the same mellow Tuscan that has endeared them to the city, they greeted more than 500 members of society and enjoyed it.

The party was a revival of old fashioned formality. Gowns . . . and they were striking and beautiful . . . were trained and low cut. Hardly a man but appeared in uniform or white tie. Invitations were asked at the door and presentations were distinguished by their correctness.

Formal Entrance Is Spectacle

It was close to midnight when the airmen arrived from the banquet that had been tendered them by Harry S. New, the United States commissioner of A Century of Progress. Long before this, however . . . from 10:30 on . . . society had gathered in the outer reception hall and the ballroom to show its homage.

In liveried motors the flyers were swept to the door. Then a bugle call to attention and Gen. Balbo in a white jacket with his breast blazing with decorations strode up the curved staircase through ranks of the Black Horse troop, resplendent in black and white dress uniforms. The orchestra broke into Italy's "Giovinzza" and Gen. Balbo took his place fifth in the receiving line of eleven.

The Stars and Stripes flanked the line on one end, Italy's colors on the other. And back of the line were two giants from Camp Whistler bearing more of the national colors. Then one by one the airmen in their white coats and black trousers striped in gold passed down the line. The last introduction and each one was swept on to the floor with a debutante or a young matron for his dancing partner.

Miss Clara Lake in a becoming gown of black lace with a bouquet of Pernet roses pinned to her shoulder headed the receiving line, for she was general chairman of the reception and ball. Then came Mrs. Walter R. Kirk charming in a blue lace gown. She was the representative of the Italy-America society.

Italian Officials in Receiving Line

Next to her stood Prince Potenziani and then Signora Giuseppe Castruccio, wife of the Italian Consul General Castruccio, who seemed lovelier than ever in a delicate green lace gown with lavender orchids for contrast.

Gen. Balbo was next and to his right Ambassador Augusto Rosso. Then Dr. Castruccio and next to him Mrs. Wat Cluverius, wife of the admiral, in a severe gown of royal blue crêpe. Mrs. Rufus C. Dawes, dressed in white chiffon with lipstick red slippers and purse for color accents, was between Mrs. Cluverius and Mrs. Frank Parker, whose husband is Maj. Gen. Parker. She was wearing a formal gown of blue and white patterned chiffon.

Mrs. Joseph B. Long was stunning in white crêpe with orchids for her corsage, and Mrs. Henry K. Chapin was equally lovely in black lace with gardenias as a bouquet.

Early arrivals were the Chauncey McCormicks, the Orville Taylors, and the Eames MacVeaghs. Mrs. McCormick's gown was a stenciled crêpe, Mrs. Taylors a beige satin, and Mrs. MacVeagh's a lovely flesh colored lace with a striking sash of blue velvet.

Then there were Mrs. Charles Wesley Dempster with Mrs. Freeman Hinckley, Miss Anne Burton, who has a gorgeous coat of summer tan; Miss Edith Corbin, with tiny blue earrings to match her gown; Mrs. Cecil Barnes, Mrs. Frank G. Logan, and the Andrew B. MacCaugheys with their daughter, Mary. Miss Narcissa Swift was escorted by Prince Potenziani's aide, Vittorio Liebman.

The largest Satsuma punch bowl ever seen in Chicago was filled and refilled dozens of times last night as the guests enjoyed a refreshing drink between dances.

Many of the young women invited to meet the distinguished airmen had the good fortune to speak Italian, so they could converse with them intelligently in their native tongue. One of them was Miss Anne Parker, the daughter of Maj. Gen. and Mrs. Parker. Others were Miss Pauline Seipp, a debutante of this coming season, and Miss Paula Uihlein.

Mrs. Harold Strotz Wears Black Crepe.

Mrs. Harold Strotz, who was chairman of the elaborate welcome planned for the airmen Saturday night at the Saddle and Cycle club, looked especially stunning last night in a black crêpe gown with a sequin yoke.

Most important on today's social calendar for the history making Italians is the reception to be tendered them by Maj. Gen. and Mrs. Frank Parker, Brig. Gen. and Mrs. Frank C. Bolles, the officers and ladies of headquarters of the Sixth corps area and the officers and ladies of Fort Sheridan between five and six o'clock this afternoon at the Officers' club at Fort Sheridan.

Preceding this affair there will be a review in honor of Gen. Balbo at 3:30 on the parade ground and a polo game at 4:20 o'clock. The first pursuit group is to give an aerial demonstration and members of the cavalry will do some exhibition jumping.

The supper dance that was to have been given the Italian flyers this evening by the Tavern club and the Italian consul general, Giuseppe Castruccio, has been canceled since the aces must leave early tomorrow morning.

Olive oil keeps youth in your skin

—and it's olive oil that makes Palmolive green

EVEN before beauty care became a science, the oils of olive and palm were used as the finest means of cleansing and protecting lovely skin. Their balmy, soothing effect on the skin was unequalled.

With modern science, came a soap blended of these same oils—Palmolive. Made from these natural oils, it offers you the surest protection lovely skin can find. Palmolive cleanses safely, thoroughly, gently.

Palmolive lather penetrates the pores, freeing them of accumulations easily . . . leaving skin soft, smooth, gloriously clear and fresh.

Get three cakes today. Begin the beauty treatment recommended by 20,000 beauty experts. Prove to yourself that Palmolive Soap, blended of olive and palm oils, will keep your skin soft, smooth, youthfully healthy.

. . . The vial at the right shows the exact amount of olive oil we put into each cake

Do this, morning and evening:

Work a creamy lather of Palmolive Soap and warm water into the skin of face, throat and shoulders. Rinse with warm water, then with cold. Watch the effect upon your skin of this gentle daily care.

SWELL GARRICK

BY ROY VICKERS

SYNOPSIS.

Swell Garrick—the World's Perfect Tailor's Dummy—is the label given him by those who didn't know that his well molded body had been created by athletic training, rather than tailoring skill. Maitland, a crooked gambler, is the purported guardian of lovely Rhoda Fairclough. He and Schewan, his chief, plot to trick Rhoda out of a fortune. Maitland has Rhoda adjudged insane. She has been administered a drug which will produce temporary madness. Having no proof of guilt Garrick determines to settle the matter in his own way. He solicitor tells him that if Rhoda can gain and maintain her liberty for twenty-eight days she will be considered legally sane. Garrick undertakes a bold rescue. He escapes to London with Rhoda. At night they burgle their way into a private boathouse on the Thames. Garrick hires Alf, a farm hand out of work, as a helper and buys his silence. One of the gang is shot during an encounter in Garrick's home and the police suspect Garrick. Garrick obtains a covered van and equipment and buys a controlling interest in "Jelks' World Famous Fair." They travel about for a week, when the gang overtakes them.

INSTALLMENT XXXII.

TAKEN FOR A RIDE.

Hard on Jelks' heels, ever alert for possible trouble, came Alf.

"'Robinson!" echoed Schewan. "This man's name is Garrick, and he's wanted by the police on a charge of murder."

"Murder!' ejaculated Mr. Jelks as if he could not believe it. "What—this gentleman, do you mean?"

"Never mind about him—we can settle him later. This man is hiking a girl round the country. She's an escaped lunatic and he's abducted her. If you want to keep yourself out of trouble tell us quickly where she is."

"Jelks," said Garrick. "I put your show on its feet. And I'll keep it on its feet. Tell these blackguards nothing."

"You've been a good pal to me! And I'd do anything I could for you," said Jelks, looking very miserable. "But—well, murder is murder, isn't it?"

"If the girl has any right to be with him, what harm can we do by saying 'good evening' to her?" put in Dorling. "We know she is here—we've seen her van."

If Alf would help, thought Garrick, there was just the faintest chance of making a scrap of it. But Alf had disappeared.

"Better cut your loss and come clean!" growled Schewan.

"Well, the lady that came along with this gentleman, and lives in the van like you say—is in that hay box over there giving change."

"Gee! And I looked right at her!" muttered Dorling. "She's got up as a gypsy."

"There are two policemen hanging round the entrance!" said Schewan. "Give the girl to one of them and go with him to the station—then ring Maitland to come along and complete the identification."

As he spoke Schewan pulled the revolver out of his pocket and pressed the muzzle into the pit of Garrick's stomach.

"Send the other policeman here for Garrick," he added.

Then each of the three became aware of a commotion near the entrance. Even through the din of the steam organ came shouting and a continuous succession of staccato blasts from a motor horn.

The next moment Garrick understood. Rhoda's van, to the accompaniment of yells from Alf and the free use of the horn, was edging its way through the crowd.

"Well played, Alf! Well played, sir!" cried Garrick as the van sailed past the two policemen on to the main road before Dorling could stop them. "But I'm afraid it will be no good."

The van could do well over fifty miles an hour on a clear road—and Alf would let her out. But in twenty minutes or so the police could hem him in by telephone—and Alf would not know how to deal with that situation.

"Which way did they go?" rapped out Schewan as Dorling came running back.

"Turned west. We can pick 'em up ourselves before they get to Godalming. It'll take longer than that to get the police started."

"Good boy! We'll deal with Swell Garrick." He turned to Jelks. "You're well out of this. And if you've got any sense you'll keep out."

Schewan's thumb was on the hammer of the revolver. Even if Garrick

But he had jerked a little too violently, had failed to allow for a two foot skid—and the car, instead of colliding head on glanced off the inward side of the bridge, turned on in mid-air, then crashed through a thicket of young trees, mowing them down like blades of grass, and with a mammoth splash, hurled itself into the river.

could land a knockout blow it would mean certain death. Garrick was compelled to obey his order to turn—wondering to himself how Schewan intended to get past the police with the revolver.

But Schewan did not turn in towards the crowd but away from it—behind the roundabout, in the direction from which he had come.

They walked in darkness over the meadow land. Some hundred yards from the edge of the Fair they came to a car with lights out.

Dorling got into the driver's seat.

"Sit beside him!" ordered Schewan and Garrick obeyed. Schewan himself got in behind and sat on the back seat beside George, the ex-pugilist, who had been guarding the car—and pressed the muzzle between Garrick's shoulder blades. Garrick's right arm lightly pressed against the arm of the driver.

This was the technique of the American gangster—and Garrick had little doubt that it had been their intention from the first to "take him for a ride."

The car crawled across the meadow to a lane and reached the main road. The Fair had been pitched on the western outskirts of Guildfort and the road was clear. The car itself was nearly as good as Garrick's Reindert. Third gear pulled it up to fifty miles an hour in little more than a hundred yards. When Dorling slipped into top the needle crept up to seventy.

"Van ahead!" shouted Dorling. "And Godalming's about a mile further on. Shall I pull ahead and block her in the town?"

"No. Trail her through the town and stop her in the open country the other side. Swell Garrick wants to say good-by to his girl."

To Garrick these words were abundantly clear. They intended to murder him in the car—but the disposal of the body would take time and attention. And they wished to make sure of capturing Rhoda first.

"I will not be killed like a sheep—without hitting back," thought Garrick. "I say, Gorilla!" The drawling voice came in a loud sing song above the hum of the car. "Am I being—er—bumped off?"

"You asked for it! I gave you a chance to back out long ago. You'll get what's coming to you, boy!"

"O, quite! This is the American gangster model, isn't it? I read an account in the papers only the other day of how it's done. You take a fellow along in a car—like this. You put a pistol in his back—like this. You shoot him when you're sure no one will hear the bang. Then you drive on, stop the car, and throw out the body in a lonely bit of country, and get away. Pardon my curiosity but—er—why don't you do it now? We're on a quiet part of the road now and we're crossing the River Wey presently. You can dump me in the river—there's a depth of four feet—and plenty of mud."

"Flash talk! Keep it up! We don't mind."

"But—tell me, Gorilla—there's just one thing I don't understand about this American trick. Why does the—er—victim so obligingly wait until it suits the gangster to kill him?"

"What are you getting at?" demanded Schewan a little uneasily.

A couple of hundred yards ahead was a low bridge over the River Wey. The van was crossing it. The car was now doing forty miles an hour.

Garrick's eye was on the road ahead, taking keen notice, measuring his distance to a foot.

"Take myself, for instance," drawled Garrick. "I am not going to await your convenience, Gorilla! You are going to kill me now—or I shall kill you."

"Huh! Go ahead!" laughed Schewan. "Kill me if——"

"With very great pleasure, my dear Gorilla."

Garrick believed that Schewan would fire through his shoulders and kill him. Even so, there would be time to hurl the three gangsters to a common death—to break and burn their bodies—and make Rhoda safe.

It was a triple movement—two hands and one foot—performed as one.

His left foot kicked Dorling's foot from the pedals of the clutch and the footbrake. His right hand flew to the trident in the center of the steering wheel and pushed the gas control lever—which duplicates the action of the foot accelerator—to full throttle. As the car leaped into full speed, Garrick's left hand dragged the steering wheel hard over.

In forcing the accident, Garrick had made two miscalculations. The sudden swerving of the car to the left had precipitated Schewan on to George and the bullet tore harmlessly through the windscreen.

Further, Garrick had meant to drive the car straight at the stone wall of the bridge—which, at sixty miles an hour, would have reduced the car and every one in it to a shapeless, blazing pulp.

But he had jerked a little too violently, had failed to allow for a two foot skid—and the car, instead of colliding head on, glanced off the inward side of the bridge—turned broadside on in mid air, then crashed through a thicket of young trees, mowing them down like blades of grass, and with a mammoth splash hurled itself into the river.

Church Wed, Couple Gets Started Right

BY DORIS BLAKE.

Spoken in jest, but probably more than half in earnest, Francis F. Beirne, extending warnings to bridegrooms, in a Baltimore paper, says: "If the bride is willing to slip away quietly and have the knot tied by the justice of the peace, she is either a widow or a woman of doubtful age, or she likes to be different. And—

"If she likes to be different about her wedding she will probably continue to like to be different and cause all sorts of complications later on."

For a long, steady matrimonial pull the conventionally grooved woman seems to be far the safer investment. She's more comfortable. And man, being what he is generally, would just as soon jog trot along with the same make of car as his neighbor, the same type of furnishings for his home, the same sort of table, preferring his wife to be molded, too, after the pattern of other wives who avoid the sensational, the too original, the too darned clever.

Mr. Beirne's suggestion, indeed, may explain some of our marriage failures. Also, explain why certain clever, recognizedly artistic women are not sought after by the marrying male. The group of men who are kin in taste to the over original woman are generally not of the pattern women prefer as husbands—not even the highly original women. There is just a little too much of the woman in these men to subscribe to the force required of permanent suitors.

Anyway, we're just passing on a little tip to girls not to be so superior about the sister who responds to conventional requirements. She's not only more likely to get her man—but to hold him.

Mr. Beirne suggests that "if for no other reason, the church wedding, unpleasant as it may be to the bridegroom, is insurance against abnormality."

MINUTE MYSTERY

By H. A. RIPLEY

[Copyright: 1933: By The Chicago Tribune.]

THE MENDOZA AFFAIR.

Prof. Fordney unclasped the buckle over the inside right ankle, removed the velvet sandal which had been hidden by the flowing drapes of the evening gown and honestly regretted that he would never again watch those dancing feet behind the footlights.

About a year ago Karen Mendoza had attracted international attention by insuring her legs for $100,000. The attention of the world would no doubt be centered on her tragic death. In private life she was the wife of Sir Herburt Richardson.

"We walked across the square from the Nestor's party and it was shortly after midnight when we reached home," Sir Herburt told Prof. Fordney. "I was tired. Karen went into the library and said she was going to read awhile before retiring, so I went to our room. I didn't discover she hadn't come to bed until I awakened at 6:45 this morning. I found her in the library, lying with her face in the ashes of the fireplace, shot through the temple, her hand clutching that small revolver she generally carried."

"That explains the smudges on her face," remarked the professor. "And . . . you turned the body over?"

"Yes, naturally. I wanted to find out if she were living. I hope that hasn't complicated matters for you."

"No . . . it hasn't. But there are complications! Were any of the servants up when you returned from the party?"

"No, there weren't."

"Well, it isn't even necessary for me to look elsewhere in the house to know that whoever murdered your wife made one bad mistake!"

HOW DID THE PROFESSOR KNOW?

[See solution on page 27.]

Perhaps you have a story or problem you would like to submit to Prof. Fordney. If so, send it to him care of this paper. He will be delighted to receive it.

Circular Flounce and Plaited Sleeves
New Details for Organdie Dance Dress

WOMAN'S OR MISS' DRESS.

Some of the newest dance frocks show a circular flounce arrangement, and one of the plaided organdies will be lovely for this dress. Notice how smartly it buttons down the back, also the plaited sleeves—they can be puffed if you prefer.

The pattern, No. 2620, comes in sizes 12, 14, 16, 18, and 20 years, and 36 and 38 inch bust measure. Size 16 requires 5¼ yards of 39 inch material with 1¼ yards of 2 inch wide ribbon for the belt.

Note—Clotilde patterns are made in New York exclusively for THE CHICAGO DAILY TRIBUNE. They are perfect in fit, up to date in style, and the easiest of all patterns to use.

Liking for Job Makes It Seem Twice as Easy

BY GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS.

"When I want Sally to help me about the house she's so tired—but she can play by the hour," said a mother, somewhat harassed by having gotten dinner on a hot summer evening and having had to argue with her young daughter to get her to help with the dishes.

"Yes," said another, "let Billy want to make a cave and no labor is too hard, but let me ask him to keep the wood basket filled so we'll always be ready for a cool evening and he gets so tired!"

"I'll say so," complained a third, who had been trying to get some help from her children intoxicated with the vacation spirit. "If it's something they want to do they'll work like dogs; nothing is too much trouble. But if it's a chore they watch the clock and all are worn out in no time." She laughed exasperatedly.

Well, don't we all? The thing you want to do and enjoy doing you can work at for a long time without tiring. The thing you do as a duty or do against your will is hard work; you don't go at it in the same way.

Enjoyment, enthusiasm actually have an effect on your working mechanism. It really is less tiring to do the things you like to do than it would be to do those same things as a duty or while struggling against them.

So it's natural the children should dig a hole for a robber's cave with more snap and energy than that with which they dig up your garden; it's natural for them to study stamps for their collection with less fatigue than they'll study the multiplication table.

To be sure, all this doesn't mean that you should struggle with them each time over their small duties, or that they should grumble and complain over their share of family work. You must learn how to make the right appeal or to discover an incentive. But it does make you less critical of them and less harsh when they slip up if you realize that we're all human beings in the same boat.

Sani-Flush

cleans closet bowls without scouring

Beware of odors

THE slightest toilet odor is a danger sign. It means that the toilet is unclean. Germs are breeding there. Hot days increase the nuisance. Be careful. Use Sani-Flush more often.

Sani-Flush is not an ordinary cleanser. It is intended for cleaning toilets. It removes stains and incrustations without scrubbing. It cleans and purifies the hidden trap that no other method can reach. Directions on the can.

Eliminate the cause of toilet odors. Purge the toilet with Sani-Flush. Sani-Flush is also effective for cleaning automobile radiators. For sale at grocery, drug and hardware stores, 25c. The Hygienic Products Co., Canton, Ohio.

Society Will Attend Three Fair Parties

Artists to Be Guests at Trustees' Lounge.

There are at least three World's Fair events on today's society calendar. At 4 o'clock this afternoon President and Mrs. Rufus C. Dawes are having a reception for the artists who painted the murals in the tomato and blue Trustees' Lounge. At 5:30 o'clock the German-American building, the last of the major building on the Exposition grounds to be finished, will be dedicated and at 7:30 o'clock the directors of the American Friends of China are to have a dinner for Dr. Hu Shih, who arrived last week to give a series of six lectures at the University of Chicago.

The artists are Miss Eleanor Holden, Mrs. Frederic Clay Bartlett Jr., John Storrs, Mrs. Helen Walker Szukalska, Mrs. Robert Maynard Hutchins, Miss Frances Badger, and Mrs. J. Stewart Harvey.

Miss Holden, Mrs. Bartlett, and Mr. Storrs are all away at the present time, but the others will be there to receive their friends and enjoy a cup of tea.

Cyrena Van Gordon, the house guest the next few days of the Stuart Logans, is going to sing Beethoven's "Die Ehre Gottes aus der Natur" for the German consul general, Dr. Hugo Simon, at the dedication of the German-American building.

The ceremonies are to begin with the raising of seven flags over the building—the American, imperial German, Austrian, Swiss, Chicago, Century of Progress, and the "Willkommen" [German for welcome]. Miss Marie W. Becker, president of the governing board of the building, will preside, assisted by Dr. Otto L. Schmidt of the Chicago Historical society. President Dawes and Gov. Horner will be among those at the speakers' table.

Dr. Hu Shih, who is to be the guest of the governors of the American Friends of China in coöperation with Mrs. Tiffany Blake's Century of Progress committee for entertaining distinguished educators, is the leader of the younger school of philosophy in China. Among others at the silver topped tables tonight will be Mrs. Rufus C. Dawes, Dr. and Mrs. Allen D. Albert, the John Paul Wellings, the Chauncey B. Borlands, the Charles Wesley Dempsters and Mrs. Paul Shorey.

THE STAGE

"Skidding," a popular comedy of about five years ago, will be revived at the Studebaker theater next Sunday night under the management and direction of Harry Minturn, present lessee of that playhouse. The cast will include Ethel Strickland, Marshall Grant, Guy Hitner, and Loretta Poynton.

This play, dealing with humorous complications in a small town family after an aggressive daughter's return from college with ideas for the cultural improvement of her relatives, had a year's run in the Bijou theater in New York and then went on tour. It was acted in the Studebaker theater in 1927 with Adele Ronson in the leading rôle.

"Hired Husbands," the comedy now occupying the Studebaker's stage, will move to the Cort theater next Sunday night to continue its summer run.

A play called "Moonshine and Honeysuckle" will have a première at the Illinois theater next Sunday night. It was written by Lulu Vollmer, author of "Sun-Up" and other plays about the Carolina mountaineers, and is based upon a radio serial story that has been in use on the broadcasting chains for more than two years. The radio cast will appear in this stage production. These entertainers are known to the public only by their character names—they are professionally identified as Cracker, Clem, Pink, Piney, Gypsy, Peg-leg, Buck, and Tom. Fifteen other players are in the company.

Charlotte Walker, who has been active as a leading woman and star for many years, will assume the central rôle in the drama "Tomorrow Turns Back" at the Selwyn theater next Sunday night. There will be several other changes in the company.—C. C.

NEW YORK SOCIETY

New York, July 17.—[Special.]—Miss Diana Guest has sailed for Europe. According to present plans Miss Guest will go to Guesthouse, in the Kenya colony, South Africa, to continue the big game hunt which she and other members of the family engaged in last winter and early spring.

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick P. Palen will start abroad Wednesday on the Manhattan and will be in Europe two months. They also contemplate a cruise to the North Cape. Frederick P. Palen Jr. will pass the summer at a ranch in Wyoming.

Mrs. Bayard Cushing Hoppin and Miss Anne R. Webb have left Lenox for East Islip.

Mr. and Mrs. John T. Pratt Jr., who are cruising on their yacht, have been with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George S. Tiffany, at Islesboro.

A Fairy Tale Comes True to Baseball Fan

BY SALLY JOY BROWN.

Once upon a time there was a little boy who was crazy about baseball. He lived near a big park on the south side, where the White Sox played. All summer long he stood around and watched the hundreds and hundreds of people who marched up to the box office, bought little tickets and filed into the fascinating place. But he never had any money for a ticket. The most he ever had was a nickel.

The people who went in shouted and cheered, and the little boy outside could hear the crack of the bat against the ball, but he couldn't see a thing. Sometimes a ball would be walloped over the fence—and all the children scrambled for it—but bigger boys always got there first.

When he played ball with the kids on the block he pretended he was a regular Sox batter, and he even got a bloody nose once in a fight about who was the best man in the American league. He listened to the radio reports of the games, and cut Al Simmons' and Mule Haas' pictures out of the paper, but, in spite of all his wishing, he never really and truly saw any of his heroes.

Then one day he heard that Mr. Comiskey, the man who owns Sox park, had invited Sally Joy Brown to bring 100 children out there to see a game. All the youngsters had to do was write and tell her why they wanted to come.

So little Johnny—that was his name—sat down and wrote his letter. He told her how much he liked baseball, and how very awfully he wanted to see the Chicago team. He put his name and address and age on the letter and sent it off as fast as ever he could. And who do you think happened then? Well, his name was printed in THE SUNDAY TRIBUNE, and the next day he got a real letter inviting him to the game. Was he tickled—and did he have a good time? Well, I'll leave that to you, children—what do you think?

Now, if you're like Johnny—you'd better get to work and tell me all about it, because we've got room for 50 boys and 50 girls!

Peggy Glidden Will Be Bride September 16

so was another distinguished countryman of his, Stefan Lenartowski, here from Warsaw for a few days. Mr. and Mrs. Rufus C. Dawes entered together, and Mrs. Dawes looked so cool and charming wearing a beige chiffon dress with touches of beige lace that she soon had a little receiving line all her own, with every one pressing forward to say a word to her.

Mrs. Frank Parker, in a white crêpe suit and large white rough straw hat, was with her husband, Gen. Parker. Gov. Horner, Mayor Kelly, Admiral Wat T. Cluverius, and Bishop Bernard J. Sheil were others who attended. Still others were the English consul general, Lewis Bernays and Mrs. Bernays; Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Henderson, the former Paula Wilms, smart in a gray silk dress, with which she wore a large white hat; Mrs. Bianca Howard, fashionably gowned in sheer black with a huge white organdy bow under her chin, another one to match it perched on top of her tiny hat, and organdy gloves [her husband is a member of the American embassy at Warsaw]; Mrs. Helen Walker Szukalska, wearing a beige coat and hat over a nile green openwork dress, and Miss Olga Ulanowski, who wore a suit of white dotted swiss and a huge natural straw hat, with a fresh bunch of tiny gay flowers on the brim.

Tea Tomorrow for Mlle. Weiller.

Several young women and most of the young men in consular service here have been invited to drop in at the René Weiller apartment at 2000 Lincoln Park West tomorrow afternoon between 4 and 6 to have a cup of tea with Mlle. Odile Weiller, the attractive daughter of the French consul general and Mme. Weiller.

Since her arrival in Chicago three weeks ago Mlle. Weiller has been getting acquainted in the younger circles, and it is these new friends that have been invited tomorrow.

Between four and six o'clock this afternoon Miss Frieda Foltz and her sister, Mrs. Malcolm N. Fay, are receiving several dozen guests at Miss Foltz's apartment at 37 East Division street. Mrs. Fay has just arrived from New York, where with her family she has been making her home the last several years.

Members of the consular corps and socialites interested in the orient will attend a reception at 8 o'clock this evening that will mark the opening of Mme. Chai Feng Bari's exhibition in the Imperial Chinese salon, 22 South Michigan avenue. Mme. Bari owns some of the finest oriental "objets d'art" ever assembled . . . among them an Imperial carpet of gold. There are also in the collection duplicates of famous Chinese paintings 3,00 years old that she herself has reproduced.

Barbara Hobart to Make Debut.

There will be no end to the debutante teas and receptions this fall on the north shore. Another attractive young woman who is to make her bow to society is Miss Barbara Hobart, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph H. Hobart of Winnetka. She returned last week from a year spent in finishing schools abroad. No date has been set for the party.

Charles Howard ReQua Jr. arrived in town recently. His wife remained in Colorado. Mr. ReQua is staying with his parents, the Charles H. ReQuas, in Winnetka. It is not certain when the junior Mrs. ReQua will arrive.

Mrs. Stephen Foster is back in town after a four months' trip to Europe with her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Bagley of Boston. Mrs. John Manierre went east to meet her mother and returned to Winnetka with her.

Benefit Tomorrow to Aid Fair Tours.

A gala crowd is expected to attend the supper dance tomorrow night in the Joseph Urban room of the Congress hotel for the benefit of those little boys and girls who otherwise would be without an opportunity to attend the World's Fair. The proceeds are going to provide children's parties every Friday the remainder of the summer.

Among those who will be entertaining are Mrs. John W. Root, Mrs. Edward Hines, Mrs. Louis C. Sudler, Mrs. Charles L. Howard, Miss Anita Peabody, and Mrs. Howard Linn.

At least a dozen Chicagoans are enjoying the hospitality of Mrs. Sumner Sollitt and her two daughters, Mrs. Elanette Sollitt Marks and Miss Grace H. Sollitt, at their farm, River Bend Orchards, at South Haven, Mich. There are the Summer S. Sollitts of Kenilworth with their three children, Sumner III., Sally, and baby Arthur; the W. W. Kimballs of Hinsdale with Nancy, Billy, and Buddy, and Mrs. Kimball's brother, young John Purdy; and the Truman Metzels of Highland Park with their twins, Truman and Dick, and young Jack Metzel.

After a pleasant week-end renewing acquaintance with Chicago friends, Mr. and Mrs. Ulric H. Ellerhusen boarded the train yesterday for Montana, where they will visit Mrs. Ellerhusen's brother, who is Gov. Frank H. Cooney.

Mr. Ellerhusen is the sculptor who has just completed the $100,000 government memorial erected at Harrodsburg, Ky., to commemorate the first permanent settlement of the west. This memorial is to be unveiled late in the fall.

Eye Shadow Can Make the Orbs Seem Larger

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

Yesterday you were reminded that you can't build eye lure under, above, or around crinkled lids, or swollen ones. That before you begin counting your "prospects" by eye shadow you must do a little skin toning and eye brightening.

With the above little repetition of yesterday's eye lesson we may now proceed with the design for slaying 'em. Eye shadow makes eyes appear larger; therefore, the small eyed girl should make this artifice a friend in need. It strengthens the color in the eye itself, if you get the right shade to help. And there is no question but a lure, a promise, a teasing something or other lies in the cleverly made up eye. The European woman well knows its power.

Maybe after you've seen a few of her you think she relies too heavily on it. But it seems to get her places, as the saying goes. Anyway, there's no reason why she should have a monopoly on the lure when we have all the makings of it in our own well stocked cosmetic market.

I'm sorry I can't chart eye shadows for eye colorings. But if I can't do it with dress colors, I certainly cannot with eye shadow. However, you're smart enough at picking becoming dress colors, complementary shades, and stunning ones. Now, just use that intelligence about decking out the lid.

I can tell you to blend it with the finger tips very lightly for day wear—little more than a smudge, unless you're one of those "dangerous gals" that can do what they like with their eyes. For the average person the light touch for daytime, heavier for evening will do.

Now, either before you apply the shadow or after it is applied, according to your own fancy or convenience, give the lid a film of oil or thin cream. You see a charmer whose childish moistness of eyelid is most appealing. Ten chances to one, this is how she does it: Touches the tip of the lash with the mascara brush. Or, if you want to cultivate an upward curl to the lash, brush the mascara on from eyelash base to top.

Towel Buyers Find Bargains in All Classes

BY RHEA SEEGER.

Towel collectors can be just as particular, even a trifle more exacting, than an antique hunter . . . but this summer's present towel collections should satisfy the best of them. You can buy the biggest seagoing beach towels for a song, gorgeous striped affairs, wide as to area, enveloping and loud as to color. Or if bold and bright color contrasts do not suit your fancy, look for the sea green numbers with a wide peach colored band, or the foamy blues with a white band.

There are some cape-like arrangements with a drawstring to be pulled up tight around your neck and a ruffled band as a collar that are perfect beach robes . . . or you can find some beige colored towels for the masculine towel abusers that can be dragged around any sort of a beach without worrying about dirt. Some husky deep rust colored beach towels, and the bright cobalt blue and vivid orange and yellow numbers with contrasting patterns of fish and shells and strange sea flowers will handsomely and effectively decorate the best beaches.

Indoor novelties are the brightly colored linen bar towels in cerise, spinach green, bright blue, and yellow, each with a printed design stamped across each end . . . the design shows a long black, well stocked bar, with two interested customers imbibing the handouts. There are some single towels in ecru color with some of the female of the species grouped convivially around a narrow bar done in colors. And along with these new bar towels look for the gay and gaudy cocktail napkins of Scotch plaid persuasion with fringed edges.

Insects Cause Real Trouble on Film Location

Crews Return from Long Assignments.

BY GEORGE SHAFFER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Hollywood, Cal., July 17.—[Special.]—The articles most needed on motion picture location trips, besides the camera and sound equipment, are oil to prevent and balm to cure mosquito bites, according to returning members of various expeditions.

Zoltan J. Kegl, sound engineer at Universal City, is just back from almost a year on location in Greenland with the "S O S Iceberg" company, and says: "Polar bears weren't so fearful; the things that got my goat were quaking glaciers, the sun blistering you in the summer as it shone on the glistening ice, and worst, of all, the swarms of cannibal gnats."

He didn't even mind the seal meat and whale blubber feasts.

Clyde Elliott, director who is just back at Fox's after a year in Malayan jungles, was asked his impressions. "Well, being attacked by a tiger is something one never forgets," he said, but added that being attacked by swarms of stinging insects while lost several days in the jungle was even more harrowing.

Miss Marion Burns and Kane Richmand, featured in "Three Against Death," which Elliott filmed, returned to Hollywood some time ago. Elliott brought several hundred thousand feet of film. Some of it will be saved for other jungle stories, but most of it will never see the projection rooms, as his picture is supposed to be edited down under 10,000 feet.

Elliott formerly worked with Frank Buck in the picture, "Bring 'Em Back Alive."

Sari Maritza, exotic China born film importation from England, has been cast as an American southern girl in "Waffles," an independent production now being made by Hollywood's new woman producer, Helen Mitchell [Mrs. Oliver Morosco]. The picture is being filmed at Tiffany studios. "Waffles" is Miss Mitchell's own story.

The cast includes Buster Collier, Alan Mowbray, Barbara Luddy. Morosco has also turned independent producer, his films being released by RKO-Radio. His first under that contract will be "Last of Her Men," and I don't know how seriously Morosco's offer was advanced, but they say at his studio that he has been negotiating in an effort to get Maude Adams to play the grandmother. If she does, Miss Adams will emerge from seclusion to do it. She and Morosco have been personal friends for a long time.

Due to the recent epidemic of Hollywood divorces, Norman Foster's departure, alone, for Hawaii, was featured by a last minute visit of his wife, Claudette Colbert, to the boat, and a series of official, semi-official, and friendly and personal statements, all unanimously setting forth that Norman and Claudette are still friends, have no intentions of separating, and that Claudette would like to be going with him, but both thought Foster should take a vacation when he could get it, which is now. Claudette doesn't think she will get a vacation this summer at all. She's too popular with the bosses at Paramount studio. Her pictures make money.

Will Rogers' daughter, Mary, has dropped the name of "Mary Howard," under which she has been working in the Fox musical, "My Weakness." She'll be Mary Rogers in future.

Judith Allen's "farewell trip" to see her husband, Gus Sonnenberg, and arrange divorce details in Gus' hospital room at St. Vincent's hospital last Saturday cost Judith a couple hundred dollars. While she was out a sneak thief stole $25 cash, clothes, and some valuables from her apartment.

Bob Erskine, full back on Southern California's football team, who has a date with Notre Dame in South Bend this November, is spending the summer as film property boy at Radio studio.

A Dozen Eggs Are as Easily Boiled as Two

BY MARY MEADE.

Everybody—just about—has some time or other been guilty of "hard-boiling" eggs instead of "hard-cooking" them when she needed one or two in a hurry and couldn't wait to let them take their time. And probably 100 per cent of the speedsters have vowed "never again" when they turned out these eggs—toughened and discolored.

The answer, therefore, is—don't wait till the need arrives. Keep a few hard cooked eggs on hand in their shells in the refrigerator where they'll be ready for such "afterthoughts" as garnishes for salads or vegetables, stuffed eggs, extenders for creamed meats, or the filling for picnic sandwiches of tomato and egg, lettuce and egg, or chopped mushroom and egg.

It's as easy to prepare a dozen eggs as two and they will keep perfectly in the refrigerator for several days in their shells.

To cook, completely cover the eggs with boiling water and cover the container tightly. Set this in a warm place over a low flame for thirty to thirty-five minutes (do not allow the water to reach the boiling point). At the end of the time slide the eggs in their shells into cold water. This will prevent discoloration of the yolks and will loosen the shells to make the peeling easier.

SPINACH AND EGGS IN CASSEROLE.
2 cups chopped, cooked spinach
½ cup cream sauce
4 hard cooked eggs
1-3 cup grated cheese
½ teaspoon salt

Butter four individual casseroles. Mix the chopped spinach and salt with the cream sauce. Place two tablespoons of the mixture in the bottom of each of the casseroles. Slice a hard cooked egg over each of these and cover with the remaining spinach and cream sauce. Sprinkle the grated cheese over the top and place the casseroles in a moderately slow oven (325 degrees F.) until the cheese is melted. Serve hot.

CREAMED CHICKEN, HAM, AND EGGS.
2 tablespoons butter
2 tablespoons flour
½ cup chicken stock
½ cup cream
1-3 cup diced chicken
1-3 cup diced ham
1-3 cup sliced hard cooked eggs
2 tablespoons minced celery
1 teaspoon minced parsley
¼ teaspoon salt

Prepare a sauce of the butter, flour, chicken stock, and cream. Add the salt, parsley, meat, eggs, and celery. Serve on halves of waffles or on toast points.

Stuffed egg salads are ever popular. Two piled halves set in lettuce cups and garnished with pickles or radishes are tempting. For a variation of the old faithful stuffed eggs, mash the yolks and add an equal amount of minced chicken. Flavor to taste with mustard, mayonnaise, and salt, and pile back into the whites.

Mooseheart Party.

Seventy-eight alumni of the Mooseheart school, maintained by the Loyal Order of the Moose at Mooseheart, will be guests at the meeting of the Chicago women's chapter of the order in the Moose club, 632 North Dearborn street, tonight. Twelve of the graduates will participate in the program of entertainment.

Paris Keeps Popular Mannish Lines in Accessories for Sports Clothes

BY SUZETTE BARILLET.

PARIS.—[Special.]—The so-called mannish vogue has ceased to flutter feminine hearts [and to alarm masculine ones], and has settled down into its proper place in contemporary fashions—i. e., for strictly sports or utilitarian clothes. Naturally, it has its own accessories, of which some brand new versions are shown in our drawing today.

The smart oxford to wear with the man tailored town suit is of kid, hand tucked all over and having a medium heel. It is businesslike, but light on its feet, smart Frenchwomen having absolutely refused to adopt really mannish, heavy leather shoes for anything but active sports.

The slip-on gauntlets are hand tucked kid, to match, featuring up and down lines on the back of the hand and round and round tucks on the wrist. Shoes and gloves may match the suit in color or they may be in tan or beige with brown costumes, and in gray with blue ones.

The new satchel shaped handbag is in peccary, with "its own hair" left on in a central panel front and back, to add a wild-mannish touch. Peccary gloves in this genre, with hairy backs and plain palms, are forecast for fall, by the way.

The favorite tailored scarf of the moment is woven in peau d'ange, half checked or plaid and half striped, which enables one to achieve some quite cubistic effects. The one shown today is from Worth, and combines black and white checks with red and white stripes. It comes in many alternative color combinations also.

MARY MEADE PRESENTS:

DESSERTS

BANANA SNOW

(A Not-Too-Hearty Summer Dessert)

1 teaspoon granulated gelatin
¼ cup orange juice
2 egg whites
2 tablespoons sugar
⅛ teaspoon salt
½ cup whipping cream
1 cup banana pulp
½ teaspoon grated orange rind

Soak the gelatin in the orange juice for 5 minutes and melt over hot water. Beat the egg whites until frothy; add the sugar, gelatin (which has been cooled), grated orange rind and salt, and beat until stiff. Fold in the banana pulp and whipped cream and chill in the refrigerator. Pile lightly in sherbet glasses. Serves 6.

Clip on the dotted line, mount on a card; mounted, the recipe just fits the new Mary Meade Recipe File . . . If you haven't one of these files, you may obtain it (containing 133 delightful recipes) at the Tribune Public Service Office, One South Dearborn Street. Price, 25 cents. By mail, 33 cents.

WALGREEN'S have chosen DeWans Perm-Nent Hair Remover
as the one best suited to rid your limbs and face from unsightly hair this season
DeWans is mild and gentle. Never irritates . . . not even the face. And it is pleasantly fragrant. Simply put it on—wait a moment—then remove with water. The hair is gone, and the skin instantly gains new charm and loveliness. Repeated application definitely lessens regrowth.

Is it smart to be snooty even to a cat?

When more than 15 million readers of The Comic Weekly — devoted friends of Felix — are paying such profits to advertisers, it's smart to be human — liberal minded — to let them read while you reap.

Who in 1933 can turn his back on results like these?

151,355 box tops to cereal company—an all time record! The reader had to buy the product and send in the box top. Sales increased 46.9% in one month!

Tops all other media! A manufacturer of a beauty bath powder called, in his advertisement, for an outlay of 20¢ . . . the reader had to buy the product and send a dime in cash. All records, including radio returns, were smashed.

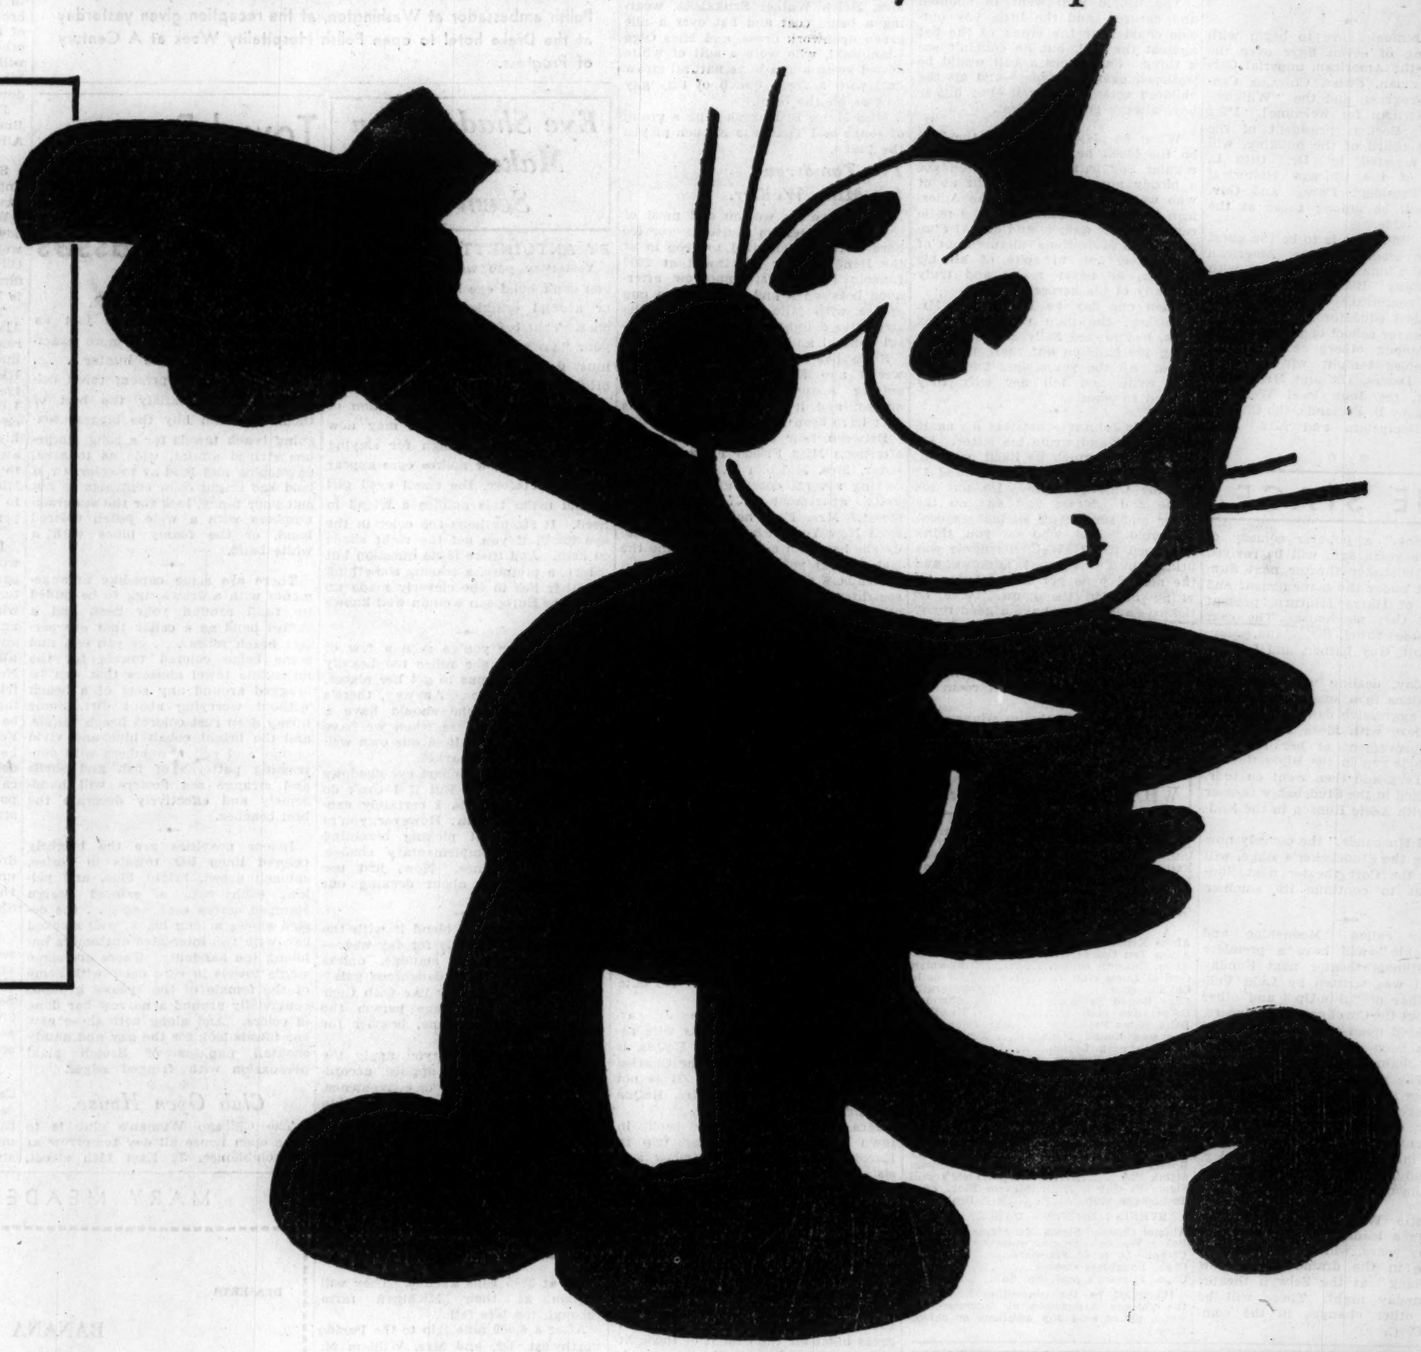
Hoped for 30,000 replies—got 120,000! This manufacturer ran a color page to satisfy his curiosity. In four weeks he got this overwhelming return. It's results like this that satisfy cash registers and stockholders.

—And the files are full of equally unbelievable records. They await your inspection at The Comic Weekly offices—or yours.



HERE are more than 5 million families—people with homes and children—that buy the necessities and luxuries of life. Their cold cash has proved it. If they're not buying your products—it's because you don't follow the lead of those advertisers who have found it wasn't smart to be snooty even to a cat.

Above, in the box, is a hasty glimpse at the success stories of several important national advertisers. They got a demonstration in dollars—through the one publication more than 15 million people revel in every week...where they are entertained with Tillie the Toiler, Jiggs, Boob McNutt, Skippy and many other famous and human characters. These records of sales you needn't envy, either. You can equal or better them. The Comic Weekly will do it. So it surely behooves you to understand The Comic Weekly.

The Comic Weekly brings results because it's life... told in pictures all can understand! That's why these 5 million families devour it. Of all those who read the Sunday papers, 72% of the women and 68% of the men read The Comics. Surveys have proved it. And, as an extra bonus, in addition to this vast adult audience, The Comic Weekly offers the great and growing market of youngsters coming of age—a present and future market you can't ignore.

$17,500 is the price of a back page—inside pages are $16,000. The circulation is more than three of the great national weekly magazines combined. Advertisers have secured results beyond anything attained even in prosperous years. Here's one salesman you cannot profitably disregard. A call to COlumbus 5-2642 in New York or Superior 6820 in Chicago will further convince you it just isn't smart to be snooty—even to a cat.

In the Comic Weekly . . . "Puck" . . . which is distributed with the 17 great Hearst Sunday newspapers, you meet Tillie the Toiler, Jiggs, Boob McNutt, Barney Google, Felix the Cat, Skippy, Pop-Eye, Toots and Casper, Little Jimmy—yes, and those old favorites, Happy Hooligan and the Katzenjammers!

With these tremendous features—and smaller strips by the same artists in addition—is it any wonder that over five million families will follow The Comic Weekly—"Puck"—zealously every week?

NEW HANDICAP STAR BOBS UP AT ARLINGTON

Polydorus Wins in Thrilling Finish.

135 to Equipoise

WEIGHTS for the Arlington Handicap to be run Saturday were announced yesterday afternoon by Secretary Joseph McLennan. He burdened Equipoise with 135 pounds and Gallant Sir with 125 pounds. Plucky Play is in at 124 and Dark Secret, the Brooklyn handicap winner at 118. Larranaga also was weighed at 118 while Inlander, the Classic winner, gets in at 108 pounds. Golden Way, second in the Classic, is asked to carry 106. Polydorus is weighted at 111 and Gusto at 117.

BY FRENCH LANE.

Old Polydorus served notice in no uncertain terms at Arlington Park yesterday that he is going to have something to say about the running of the Arlington handicap next Saturday afternoon.

He appeared as a most dangerous threat after coming from behind to win the Lincoln Park purse at a mile in a spectacular finish in which he beat Dyak from Fred A. Burton's Everglade stable by more than a length. His victory came after he had skipped over the mile course in 1:37.

Larranga Far Back.

The Lincoln Park engaged several candidates for the Arlington handicap, the most formidable perhaps being Larranga, the eastern route runner which captured the Cuban Grand National last winter. Larranga was either permitted to take things easy or wasn't quite up to such a sizzling race. He was coming stoutly near the end and finished fourth, but was nowhere near Polydorous.

Due to the presence of the handicap candidates in the encounter the race attracted much attention and turned out to be quite a heavy betting affair. Polydorus ruled as the favorite throughout, but plunges on Dyak and Halcyon near post time enlivened the proceedings.

Evergold Early Leader.

When the start came Evergold, which had won at tall odds against Plucky Play just a week earlier, raced into the lead, but never was able to get far away from Halcyon and Springsteel. Polydorus was back in fourth place, but nearer the lead than he usually is when they hit the turn out of the back stretch. Late Date was last all the way and Dyak was far back, until they hit the turn.

Most of the field went wide into the stretch and it gave Jockey Schutte on Dyak a chance to save about eight lengths and run up on the heels of the leaders. Dyak's nose showed in front soon after the drive down the stretch began.

Polydorus Pays $5.18.

Polydorus had to come extremely wide to work his way out of tight quarters, but he was soon into full stride. He mowed 'em down from there until the finish and had Dyak conquered a sixteenth out. Dyak hung on gamely and beat Halcyon out of second money by a neck.

Polydorus paid $5.18 to win, $3.08 to place, and $2.52 to show. Dyak's place price was $4.30, and he was at $2.92 to show. Halcyon's show price was $3.78.

It was Polydorus' 12th start of the year. He has been busy ever since the Chicago season opened, but he is coming up to the Arlington Handicap engagement in his best condition of the year.

Monel Wins Again.

Two of the best of the western 3 year old fillies, Technique and Bamboula, went down to defeat at the hands of the easterner, Monel, in the Hiawatha purse. It was a dash at seven furlongs and while Monel ruled as a slight favorite, there was almost as much backing for Technique. Bamboula, the Illinois Oaks winner, got a play near post time.

Monel, with Jockey Steffen in the saddle, ran the seven furlongs in 1:24 2-5. In the mutuels she paid $5.06. It was her third victory in four starts at Arlington.

BLUENOSE FIRST ACROSS LINE IN MACKINAC RACE

Dorello, Milwaukee Boat, Is Second.

Mackinac Island, Mich., July 17.—[Special.]—The Bluenose, international champion fishing schooner chartered by Addison Stillwell of Chicago, was first into port tonight in the 26th annual Chicago-Mackinas island yacht race.

The Bluenose's official time of arrival was 8:05:45 o'clock, Chicago daylight savings time. It had left Belmont Harbor on the 331 mile voyage across Lake Michigan at 1:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon, making its time for the trip slightly more than 54½ hours.

Dorello Is Second.

An hour and a half after the Bluenose finished, the Dorello, owned by Lyman Dwight of Milwaukee, completed the course. It left Chicago the same time as the Bluenose, and near Beaver island made an attempt to overtake the fisherman. The Bluenose promptly let out a little more of its 10,000 feet of canvas and sailed away.

The weather was clear and calm late tonight, leading coast guardsmen at the Mackinac Island station to predict it would be many hours before the last of the 27 boats in the race was sighted.

Three Battle for Lead.

In the cruising division Bagheera, Malabar X, and Chimon, the latter a Canadian vessel, were battling for the lead. Siren and Hope, in the racing division, were only a few feet apart when sighted off Point Betsy at noon. The Princess was forced out of the race by a broken shroud and was limping to port.

In the Port Huron-Mackinac Island race Margaret IV, a racing class boat, was first across the line, but Trident was the first of the vessels competing for the trophy to finish. She was closely followed by Baccarat, which, with her larger time allowance, beat out Trident. Suez, Buckeye, Vamore, and Nawana were in the straits, but bucking headwinds and heavy seas.

PIRATES BENCH LLOYD WANER AS BATTING SLUMPS

Pittsburgh, Pa., July 17.—(AP)—For the first time since he joined the Pirates in 1927, Lloyd Waner is on the bench for poor hitting.

With a lifetime major league batting average of about .340, the little outfielder has been in a slump almost all this year, his mark standing now at .260. He is rated one of the best leadoff hitters in either major league, but has been on the bench for a week.

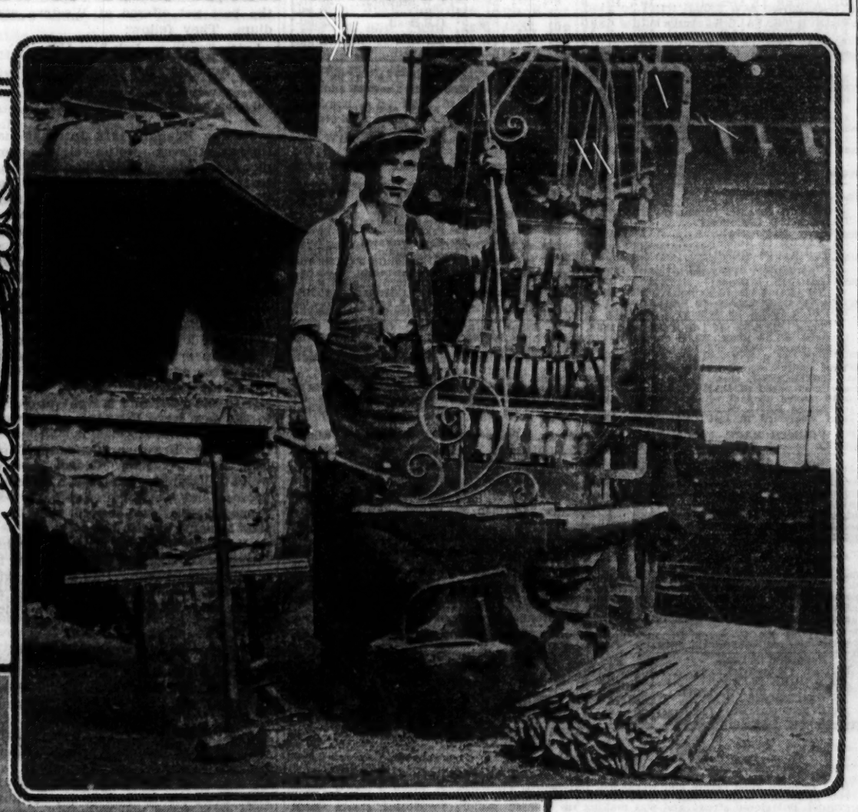
"I hit 'em, but it seems always somebody's in the way," is the only explanation he has.

"A little rest will bring him around. I'm sure," Manager Gibson says.

Meanwhile Adam Comorosky, subbing for Waner, has been hitting at a .305 clip and doing some nice fielding.

A MIGHTY MAN IS THIS IRISH CHAMPION

Ernie Smith, blacksmith and Irish Free State lightweight boxing champion, with his mother, father, sister and Alsatian pet in the yard of their Dublin home.



Smith builds knockout punches in the blacksmith shop of Kennan & Sons, where he finishes a seven year apprenticeship next year. He has won 49 fights by knockouts.

Warneke Tries for His 12th Victory Today

BY EDWARD BURNS.

The Cubs' week of semi-idleness will be interrupted today by the series final with the Boston Braves. It should be a frisky affair, for both teams rested yesterday and will rest again tomorrow.

Tommorrow's rest for the Cubs will enable them to prepare for the opener with the Phillies on Thursday, after which the Cubs will rest Friday. In this afternoon's encounter Lon Warneke will go after victory No. 12. The Braves last July had the honor of making it an even dozen for Lon, and the genial Arkansan is quite willing that they should be his victims today, just as a coincidence, if for no other reason.

How About a 4-0 Score?

The way things have been going with Lon he might enhance the coincidence by beating the Braves by the same score with which he hung up No. 12 last season. Lon beat the Braves 4 to 0 on July 10, 1932. In his last start this year he beat the Dodgers, 4 to 1, the Brooklyn tally being unearned, and the last previous start he beat the Giants 4 to 0. Lon says, however, that he'll settle for 4 to 3.

The Cubs are expecting to face Freddy Frankhouse this afternoon. Freddy has been mixed up in three of the most exciting games the Cubs have had this year. On May 6 he relieved Fallenstin in the seventh inning, when the Braves were trailing 6 to 5. His teammates tied it up for him, but the Cubs busted loose with three runs in the 13th inning to win, 9 to 6. On May 28 he started against Warneke and was winning 2 to 1 going into the eighth. But the Cubs tied the count in the eighth and won, 3 to 2, in the ninth.

Brings on Big Stove Act.

On June 24, the last time Freddy faced the Cubs, he was the winning pitcher in an 11 inning thriller, again pitted against Warneke. Going into the latter half of the ninth Lonnie was winning by virtue of a homer knocked by Demaree in the second inning. In the ninth the score was tied on a single by Spohrer, Gyselman's sacrifice and a single by pinch batter Mowry, who batted for Betts. Frankhouse went in to pitch the rest of the way and easily retired the six Cubs who faced him in the 10th and 11th innings. In the Braves' 11th, Gyselman singled with one down, moved up on Frankhouse's sacrifice and scored the winning run on Billy Urbanski's double.

Lon went into the clubhouse and kicked over a stove which the Braves' billing department valued at $25. The punt that Lon made that afternoon would have been cheap at one hundred

Simmons Picks Yanks to Win Pennant, Places Sox Third

New York, July 17.—(AP)—Aloysius Simmons, the young man who has batted the Chicago White Sox out of the hopeless class and into the ranks of the annoyers in half of one season, provided a piece for the papers today with the frank announcement that the New York Yankees will win the American league pennant again, with the Washington Senators second.

While that suspicion may be growing in other quarters since the Senators slumped and drifted down from a 4½ game advantage to the tie that exists with the Yanks for the lead today, the slugging outfielder gave reasons.

"The Yanks have the best team in the league," he said. "If they don't repeat they will have only themselves to blame. They dislike the Senators so heartily that they've been pressing themselves out of a lot of games with them.

Yanks Have Pitching Again.

"Of course, the Senators are hot and the Yanks will have to watch their steps. But the Yanks have the pitching again and they're on their way to town. If they can beat Washington in half of the 12 games they play the rest of the way, then they're right in another world series.

Simmons isn't a bit bashful to name the third place team. That will be the White Sox. And he has a word of regret for his former boss, Connie Mack, who sold him down the river from the Athletics to the White Sox last fall.

"If George Earnshaw were pitching in his old form the A's would be right up there," Simmons said. "As it is he's given me more trouble than any other pitcher this year. He struck me out three times in one afternoon. But he isn't the old Earnshaw, and it's too bad."

Chuckles at Senators.

Simmons, and many another ball player, is chuckling at Washington's discomfiture over the case of Walter Miller, the ancient southpaw who was dismissed by Cleveland when his arm went dead, but who is staging a comeback with the White Sox.

"It was downright funny to see Miller beat the Senators twice last week with only two days' rest between games, and did they squawk the second time he appeared," Simmons said.

"It's like this: Miller spent last winter in Florida and he fished a lot, casting for hours. He felt his arm coming back, so he asked Clark Griffith for a tryout with the Senators. Griffith said 'No.'

"I'll bet he'd like to take it back."

Sacramento, Cal., July 17.—(AP)—Jack Dempsey telephoned tonight to Mrs. Ancil Hoffman, wife of the manager of Max Baer, that he would marry Hannah Williams, musical comedy star, in Reno tomorrow. Dempsey said he and Miss Williams expect to be at the Hoffman ranch near Sacramento Wednesday.

Smith Pinch Hits and Still Is Hitting 'em

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

DUBLIN, Irish Free State, July 17.—A faint hearted juvenile boxer provided a means of entrance to Queen's hall for Ernie Smith one night in 1928, and after Ernie had gained admission he started a boxing career which will reach its climax at Chicago Aug. 2 when the Dublin blacksmith appears in the International Golden Gloves bouts as the lightweight champion of the Irish Free State.

Smith had gone to Queen's hall with his father to attend a boxing match. The doorman demanded an admission from him. Mr. Smith didn't think much of the idea and sent Ernie home. Ernie left, but eventually turned up at the stage door. The juvenile featherweight had not appeared and there was a vacancy on the card.

Ernie asked the promoter to let him substitute and received the assignment. It was not a very thrilling bout and Ernie lost. But in the following seven years, Smith compiled a better record than other members of the Irish team now en route to Chicago, winning 126 out of 140 fights.

Second Visit to America.

The trip to Chicago will be Smith's second American invasion within a year. He represented the Free State in the featherweight division at the Olympic games last summer, along with Paddy Hughes, the present featherweight champion, who is also en route to Chicago. Smith was outpointed in his second round match by Carmel Robledo of Argentina, who won the Olympic championship. American newspaper men described the fight as the best in the entire Olympic tournament.

Robledo is one of five men out of the fourteen who hold decisions over Smith, whom Ernie has not defeated in return bouts. His 126 victories include 49 knockouts and 10 technical knockouts, a record unsurpassed by any Irish amateur.

Trainers at the St. Andrew's club, where he has been a member for the last five years, attribute Smith's punch to long hours in the blacksmith shop of Kennan and Sons, where he has swung a sledge from morning until night for the last six years. One more year over the forge and Smith will be a fully qualified blacksmith, after

In This Corner—the Champion of Ireland

Eight times that thrilling announcement will be heard at Soldiers' field the night of Aug. 2. The pick of Ireland's amateur boxers will pit their fists and hearts against those of Chicago's Golden Gloves champions. It will be the greatest event of its kind ever held anywhere.

Every follower of boxing at its cleanest and best will want to see these bouts. There will be more than 50,000 good seats, all reserved, to accommodate them. Prices range from 55 cents to $3.30.

If you want a choice location, don't delay. You can have a ringside seat for $3.30, $2.50, $2, and $1.10. There are nearly 30,000 seats at 55 cents.

Tickets are on sale at all Walgreen drug stores; at the Tribune Public Service Office, 1 South Dearborn; at the Midwest Athletic club, and in Room 530 Tribune Tower. You may reserve seats by calling Superior 0100 and asking for local 466 or 530.

CHICAGO SQUAD READY TO WORK AT GRAND BEACH

Given Big Welcome in Michigan City.

Irish Dock Today

NEW YORK, July 17.—[Special.]—The amateur boxing champions of Ireland, who will fight the Chicagoland Golden Gloves team Aug. 2, will dock here tomorrow at noon on the White Star liner Majestic from Southampton. They will be welcomed by representatives of The Chicago Tribune, who will accompany the party to Chicago, where a huge demonstration awaits them on arrival Thursday morning.

BY WILFRID SMITH.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Grand Beach, Mich., July 17.—Chicago's Golden Gloves squad which will meet the amateur boxing champions of Ireland on the night of Aug. 2 at Soldiers' field in the third international bouts sponsored by THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE, are encamped here tonight on the shore of Lake Michigan. The squad of 15 boys is quartered in the luxurious Golfmore hotel overlooking a long stretch of hard packed sandy beach and a vast expanse of blue water.

Michigan City and Long Beach turned out today to welcome the Golden Glovers. Michigan City's kiltie band met the boys when they arrived at 11th and Franklin strets on the South Shore line at 3:30 in the afternoon. The boys transferred to the Grand Beach bus and followed the band down Franklin street to the city hall. Mayor H. B. Tuthill greeted the boys on the lawn of the city hall, extended them welcome to the city, and added that he hoped they would whip the Irish.

Escorted by Motorcycle Police.

Motorcycle police escorted the bus through Michigan City and along the lake shore, finally turning their duties over to the Long Beach police. Two hours after arrival in Michigan City the boys reached the Golfmore hotel, which will be their home for more than two weeks while they are getting in condition for their Irish opponents.

A caravan of automobiles accompanied the bus to the hotel, and there C. S. Abbott, president of the Golfmore hotel, and Manager H. W. Keller received the boxers. Thirty minutes later the boys had deployed over the grounds to survey their surroundings. Dinner was served at 6 o'clock, and there were no restrictions on diet the first evening.

Tomorrow the ring will be pitched across the ravine and the business of training will get under way. The training quarters are under cover, so that no day will be lost because of inclement weather.

Best of International Squads.

Now a word about the boys, eight of whom will be chosen to face the champions of Erin. The squad undoubtedly is the best in the three years of the International Golden Gloves competition. All are experienced and several have won highest ring honors.

Freddie Caserio, who captained the 1931 Chicago squad which overwhelmed New York, 13 to 3, and then defeated France, 5 to 3, in the first of the international combats, possesses those qualities which are necessary to develop a team of confident fighters. Caserio won the National A. A. U. middleweight title in 1932.

If any misfortune should overtake Freddie, there's Billy Treest, Central A. A. U. champion, who reached the finals of the national tournament in Boston this year, ready to take his place.

There are two 1933 national champions on the squad, Max Marek, who won the light heavyweight title, and Billy Celebron, who took first place in the welterweight class. Celebron is intent on earning a position on the international team. Henry Rothier is the Golden Gloves champion in this weight.

Rothier Reports Late.

All the boys except Rothier reported on time at the Illinois Athletic club at noon today. Rothier evidently was concerned with luncheon, for he joined the squad as the boxers were leaving the club for the train. Johnny Dobler, who with Eddie Ward is a lightweight candidate for an international fight, came the farthest of all. Dobler is the Golden Gloves champion of Cleveland, O. Davenport, Ia.; Rockford, Ill., and South Bend, Ind., have representatives on this Chicagoland team.

When the party arrived this afternoon a letter from Hugh K. Nicalls, A. A. U. commissioner of Kalamazoo, Mich., was on hand. Mr. Nicalls offered to send several amateurs from his city to the camp if the team wished more opposition in their daily boxing drills.

All the boys, and in particular Lennie Cohen, 112 pound alternate, and Izzy Goldstein, who is after the featherweight berth, are awaiting Barney Ross. Barney is the idol of the Golden Glovers, for he now holds the world's lightweight championship and four years ago he was a Golden Gloves intercity winner. Ross will arrive tomorrow with Art Winch, one of his managers, and Izzy Kline, his trainer.

EQUIPOISE READY; CLOCKED IN 2:06 OVER 1¼ MILES

He's All Set to Capture Arlington Handicap.

Equipoise is ready for his engagement in the Arlington handicap to be run on Saturday. He was brought out on the Arlington track between the running of the second and third races yesterday afternoon and worked the mile and a quarter route of the handicap.

It was an impressive move. He ran about 20 feet out from the rail all the way around and covered the mile and a quarter in 2:06, being slightly eased up at the finish. He carried about 120 pounds. The fractions were: Half in :48 4-5, three-quarters in 1:13 2-5, mile in 1:38, and mile and a quarter in 2:06.

Earlier in the day while the track was dull Gallant Sir and Plucky Play, the California bidders for the handicap, also turned in a convincing rehearsal. Gallant Sir went a mile and a quarter in 2:09 4-5 and Plucky Play a mile and an eighth in 1:54 1-5.

Ald. John Coughlin's Apple Blossom jacket was carried to victory in the second race by George Maypole, a 5 year old son of Polymelian, who was a maiden until he came galloping home in front. It was the first victory for a Coughlin horse since early May at Sportsman's Park. Like all horses which run for Bathhouse John, George Maypole was a long shot, paying $43.32.

George Maypole started the daily double which wound up on the odds-on choice, Outbound. The double paid $121.94.

Ima Count, one of the first sons of Reigh Count, gave a good account of himself in the first race, when he was beaten a nose in the last stride by the eastern 2 year old Gay Monarch. Ima Count races for Norman W. Church of Los Angeles.

The Hawthorne track may revive the Chicago Derby in an effort to clarify the 3 year old situation which has become more muddled than ever because of Inlander's victory in the Classic at Arlington on Saturday. A purse of $10,000 will be added and Aug. 5 has been set as the tentative date for its running.

All that remains to make the race a reality is a ready response from the owners and trainers of the better grade 3 year olds. It will be forthcoming, it was indicated, for as soon as it became known that Hawthorne was fostering the idea for such a contest, a majority of the trainers who saddled horses for the various derbies and other 3 year old stakes this year expressed themselves pleased over it.

In order to stage the Chicago Derby on Aug. 5, it will be necessary to move back the runnings of the regular stakes one week. This will enable the easterners to race in the Hawthorne stake and then move on to Saratoga without missing any 3 year old fixtures at the upstate New York course.

Thomas P. Hayes, the veteran Kentuckian, who has trained Head Play since Mrs. Silas B. Mason bought the colt on the eve of the Kentucky Derby, has lost his job. Head Play, Sabula, Epithet, Sassby, and Dark Devil, which have been in Hayes' care, have been turned over to Trainer Clifford Porter.

The horses will be shipped to Saratoga at the close of the Arlington meeting. Head Play is reported to have come out of the Classic stakes in a badly lamed condition.

Hunters! Crows Still Answer to Call of Decoys

BY BOB BECKER.

There is no seasonal depression noticeable in the crow hunting business. Last Saturday the birds answered a call as snappily as they did in May when the nesting season was on. With the big black birds ready to leave the shady depths of the woods and swing within range of a shotgun the sportsman in Chicagoland who wants to do his good turn for conservation and at the time time have an enjoyable time should take a day or two off and help reduce our crow population.

We hunted in a tract of oak woods a few miles west of Wheaton. The crows out there usually are fairly well educated by mid-July due to the fact that they are sniped at quite regularly. But the other morning they either were sitting around just waiting for some excitement or else our crow caller sounded particularly accurate because there was no hesitation on the part of the black rascals in coming right up under full steam and cawing in great style.

Our first stand under a low tree brought four birds circling over a little open patch in the woods. One bird was bagged here. Three others which had smelled the powder from this one shot hustled away, perched in trees and there they sat talking back to us for several minutes. Not one of them would come back to the danger zone. After picking up another single in a nearby patch of woods we moved on to a small creek which flows through a heavy stand of timber. This is a favorite hangout and nesting grounds of the birds and it proved to be the best place to start a panic among them.

Two sharp, high pitched series of calls on the wooden caller and the crows piled out of the woods from two directions. With excellent cover and a large number of birds working low through the trees our stand next to a big oak would have been ideal for two guns. As it was, we could drop only four crows before the birds decided that it was too "hot" and retired to the woods.

The sportsman who goes crow hunting now will find that the 1933 birds usually are in the vanguard of those answering a call. The other day the first two which we dropped were young ones. We used an owl decoy on our hunt, but found that a decoy wasn't absolutely necessary since the crows answered a call immediately.

Daily double paid $121.94. Winner trained by O. L. Foster. Went to post at 3:15. At post 4 minutes. Start good for all but Double Date from permanent stalls. Won easily; second and third driving.

OUTBOUND, slow to get going, went around most of the field at the far turn, easily dismayed of DARK MIST and, taking command, won thereafter. SPORTING PEARL also moved up fast when leaving the back stretch and weakened after seven-eighths but outgamed DARK MIST. Latter, away fast and having speed, saved ground throughout and was weakened in last three-sixteenths.

MONEL rushed to the front and, taken under restraint after gaining command, benefited through good rating and weakened, but lasted. TECHNIQUE, given a poorly judged ride and allowed to remain out of it until straightened up for final three-sixteenths, lost ground, but closed strong and was making up ground on leader at closing stages. BAMBOULA saved ground throughout and held on well in a fine effort.

Greely. Went to post at 5:06. At post ½ minute. Start good from permanent stalls. Won driving; second and third same.

MINTON, going in his best form and having speed from the start, drew away fast at stretch turn and weakened badly after seven-eighths, but lasted. COG-AIR, on outside throughout and losing much ground at the elbow, closed strong and was wearing down the winner. ALL ROWES had speed from the start, was under strong riding after five-eighths, and weakened, but held others safe.

Winner trained by J. C. McAuliffe. Went to post at 5:32. Off at once. Start good from gate. Won driving; second and third same.

DISPATCHER, well rated, gamely withstood DARK SEA'S bids and came away slowly after reaching final sixteenth. DARK SEA, forced wide at first turn and taken under strong restraint after a quarter, moved up steadily to stretch turn and runs on stubbornly to final sixteenth before faltering. CHIEF'S CHALLENGER well ridden saved ground and was best of others. CUBBLER began slowly.

GRANNY'S TRADE BEATS AYSTON AT EMPIRE CITY

New York, July 17.—[Special.]—Granny's Trade, carrying the colors of Mrs. T. R. Queen, and with Jockey Meade up, scored an easy victory in the Old Hickory purse, feature at Empire City today.

There was very little cheering, for the filly, an outsider at 10 to 1, defeated the B. B. Stable's Ayston, which was at the prohibitive odds of 1 to 3. To make Ayston seem doubly surefire, Alfred Robertson had the mount on the favorite. Granny's Trade won by 4 lengths. G. C. Winfrey's Pending was third. Ayston was the shortest price favorite to have been beaten at this meeting.

Ayston led from the barrier to the eighth post, when Granny's Trade caught him and drew away.

Lucky Racket, B. L. Meyer's filly, defeated The Crane by 2 lengths in the third race, under the patient ride by R. Wholey, coming from behind in the stretch. Crusoe was third.

Jockey Cruz took The Crane to the front on the back stretch, but the son of Ballot tired rapidly in the final eighth of a mile. The time for a mile and a sixteenth was 1:48 4-5.

ROARK NAMED ON WESTERN TEAM IN POLO SERIES

Definite selection of Aidan Roark for the No. 1 position on the West team in the world series of polo with the East at Onwentsia Club field in Lake Forest was made last night by Carleton F. Burke, manager of the western all-star team. Burke wired his decision to polo headquarters in the Builders' building here. The series starts Aug. 13.

The choice of Roark, Burke said, is due to his sensational showing at the leadoff position which hitherto had been conceded to Eric Pedley of California. In recognition of his play Roark has been raised from a 7 to 8 goal rating. Only two players now rate higher. They are Tommy Hitchcock, captain of the Easterners, and Cecil Smith, who will be a team mate of Roark.

Roark formerly played on the British international team, but now resides at Carmen, Cal. He is a brother of Capt. C. T. I. [Pat] Roark, captain of the British international team.

Willie Oster, Kid Leonard to Battle Tonight

Kid Leonard, East Moline, Ill., middleweight, and Willie Oster of Chicago will meet in an eight round bout tonight at Pep Kerwin's Western stadium, Western and Devon avenues. Leonard has won five straight contests and Oster is undefeated in his last three. Willie held Rosy [Kid] Baker to a draw a month ago at Quincy, Ill. Previously he held Freddy Langford to a draw in Chicago and knocked out Allen Matthews at Quincy.

The preliminary bouts appear to be the best yet offered at Western stadium. They follow:

Laddie Tonelli vs. Jack Ripp [5].
Carlos Herrera vs. Frankie White [5].
Leo Ranteri vs. Nick Serondis [5].
Davy Day vs. Eddie Smith [5].
Frank Wolfram vs. Hugh Allen [4].
Gordon Roth vs. Allen Gitles [4].

Johnny Phagan, 1932 International Golden Gloves welterweight champion, yesterday signed a five year contract with William Bostelman of Chicago. Their one year agreement expired yesterday. During that period Phagan engaged in 14 professional encounters. He lost three, boxed a draw and won the others. Tomorrow night at Northwest stadium Phagan will participate in his 15th professional bout against Jackie Purvis of Indianapolis, Ind., from whom he won twice and lost once in recent weeks.

Phagan sparred five rounds yesterday, three with Freddy Langford and two with Eddie Stiegel. A straight left to the head and a right uppercut to the jaw were Phagan's main weapons.

Moss T. Brawner, Chicago Tribune novice Golden Gloves heavyweight champion, will seek his second professional victory against Boo Stone in the six round semi-final Izzy Lubansky, who has lost only two professional matches, will try for his 11th victory against George Engel in a four round battle. Phil Pernice will receive a test from Popeye Huber at four rounds. There will be two other contests.

Frank Mastro yesterday was granted a timekeeper's license by the state boxing commission. . . . King Levinsky will open an exhibition tour against Seal Harris at Toledo, O., Monday. Tony Cancela, heavyweight stablemate of Levinsky, will box Harry English in the 10 round windup. . . . In the event that Karl Ogren defeats Ray Tramblie at Northwest stadium July 26 he must box Freddy Langford at a later date. . . . A professional card will be presented by the Will County Ex-Service Men's league at Joliet on Aug. 11.

Art Donovan and Eddie Chinski will meet tonight in a six round contest at the outdoor arena at White City, 63d street and South Park avenue. Joe Roman, Joliet featherweight, and Freddy Gravelle will clash in the semi-final. Other contests:

Curtis Mills vs. Jack O'Brien [5].
Lou Vine vs. Ed Esson [5].
Guy Schriver vs. George Williams [4].
Scotty Sylvano vs. Pete Blanchard [4].
Art Mitchell vs. Smiley Springer [4].
John Holda vs. George Joansen [wrestling].

Charley Retzlaff, Leonard, N. D., heavyweight, drilled four rounds yesterday for his 10 round bout against Jack Pallat of Cleveland at Shewbridge field Thursday night. He went two rounds each with Seal Harris and Nick Troft. There is much interest in the professional debut of Leo Rodak, Golden Gloves product, Thursday. Rodak faces Jimmy Richards in a four round supporting bout.

The show at Mills stadium on July 26 with Tommy Loughran and Johnny Risko in the 10 round main event was approved yesterday by the Illinois athletic commission. The commission also announced a list of world's champions recognized in this state. They are:

118 pounds—Al Brown.
126 pounds—Freddy Miller.
135 pounds—Barney Ross.
140 pounds—Barney Ross.
147 pounds—Jimmy McLarnin.
160 pounds—Marcel Thil.
175 pounds—Maxie Rosenbloom.
Heavyweight—Primo Carnera.

The foregoing boxers are not generally recognized as world champions. The New York commission lists Midget Wolgast as 112 pound champion, Kid Chocolate as featherweight title holder, and Ben Jeby as middleweight king. The Illinois board, which recently resigned from the National Boxing association, recognizes Rosenbloom as light heavyweight champion while the N. B. A. declares the title is vacant. The state board also recognizes Ross as junior welterweight title holder although the N. B. A. discontinued listing this division at its annual convention several months ago.

LOVELOCK SAYS HE'LL RUN EVEN SPEEDIER MILE

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., July 17.—Jack Lovelock of the Cambridge-Oxford track team, who ran the fastest mile on record—4:07.6—at Princeton, N. J., Saturday, said today that he "rather expected to beat his own record" during the team's tour of Ontario.

Lovelock said his record smashing performance at Princeton was no surprise and that he is confident that there are still faster miles ahead for him. The team will appear in a track meet at Hamilton Wednesday and in another at Montreal Thursday.

MRS. LANGER'S 79 LEADS QUALIFIERS IN CITY TOURNEY

Mrs. Harry Langer of Nordic, a comparative newcomer in the Chicago Women's District Golf association, led the field in the qualifying round of the women's city championship tournament at Skokie yesterday. She shot 41—38—79, one over par.

Miss Rena Nelson of Exmoor and Mrs. H. Austin Pardue of Indian Hill tied at 80 for second. Mrs. Melvin Jones, Lincolnshire, who has won this event six times, shot 83 for third.

A field of nearly 150, the largest in the history of the event, started out. Miss Jean Armstrong, present title-holder, was not required to qualify, but she played a practice round in 40—48—88.

Miss June Beebe, holder of the women's open and the women's medal play championships, went around in 85 to qualify easily. Miss Jane Weller of Northmoor had 88 and plenty of bad luck off the tees, while Helen MacMorran of Indian Hill also shot 88.

Scores of 91 Qualify.

Mrs. Langer started her medal winning round by sinking a 25 yard approach at the first hole for a birdie. She was down in par at the second, but a trap and a rock in front of her ball at the third forced her to take 7. From then on she hugged par, except at the 11th, where her approach of 150 yards rolled in for an eagle. Her card:

Par—Out	535	455	453—39
Mrs. Langer—Out	437	464	463—41
Par—In	554	344	455—39—78
Mrs. Langer—In	633	345	455—38—79

Miss Nelson lost only four strokes in her two rounds. At the fifth a bad lie; at the 9th, three putts; at the 13th, a trap, and a short approach at the 18th cost her four strokes, two of these being made up with birdies at the third and sixth. Her card:

Miss Nelson—Out	534	464	454—39
Miss Nelson—In	554	444	456—41—80

Has Trouble with Putter.

Mrs. Pardue had a battle against her putter all the way. She had five three putt greens and no trouble of any other kind. Her card:

Mrs. Pardue—Out	535	474	454—41
Mrs. Pardue—In	645	433	545—39—80

Mrs. Jones' chief golfing sins were dubbing her iron shots. She lost three strokes in this manner. She three putted once and was in a trap. Her card:

Mrs. Jones—Out	555	465	453—42
Mrs. Jones—In	465	334	556—41—83

June Beebe, like Mrs. Pardue, had five greens where she took extra strokes. She also missed two greens at short holes. Two birdies helped her out. Her card:

Miss Beebe—Out	546	574	444—43

Shoots Her Best Round.

Mrs. W. W. Hodgson of Oak Park came in late in the afternoon with the best score she ever made, 43—44—87, and got into the championship. Three birdies dotted her card. She lost three strokes by taking extra putts on three greens. Her card:

Mrs. Hodgson—Out	656	465	344—43
Mrs. Hodgson—In	665	353	565—44—87

Match play starts this morning and will continue through Friday, when the finals will be played at 36 holes.

Mrs. Bachman Leads County Golf with 84

Mrs. Mae Bachman of Jackson Park led a field of forty in the qualifying round of the Women's Cook County golf tournament yesterday as she shot an 84 over the Jackson Park course. Mrs. Rose Long, city champion, also of Jackson Park, took second place with an 86.

The golfers battled a stiff northwest wind which sent scores mounting and also found the course slow due to a heavy local shower Sunday night. Mrs. Bachman has played in only one county tournament previously. Scores:

MISS BABCOCK EASY VICTOR IN ESSEX TOURNEY

Manchester, Mass., July 17.—[Special.]—Carolin Babcock of Los Angeles, who is ranked No. 3 nationally and seeded at the top in the annual Essex Country club's invitational tennis tournament, entered the third round today with a 6-1, 6-1 victory over Serita Bartlett of Beverly Farms, Mass.

Josephine Cruickshank of Santa Ana, Cal., the only one of the four seeded entrants who was called upon to play in the first round, went to the second with a one-sided victory over Elizabeth Delke of Pasadena, Cal. The scores were 6-1, 6-3. Miss Cruickshank then carried the seeded list intact into the third round when she conquered Virginia Cross of Providence, R. I., 6-3, 7-5.

Norma Taubele of New York gave the big California representation its first setback when she turned back Frances Herron of Los Angeles, 6-1, 6-4, in the first round.

Broaca Hurls Yanks to 13-5 Victory at New Haven

New Haven, Conn., July 17.—(AP)—Johnnie Broaca, former Yale pitcher, came back to New Haven today with the New York Yankees to pitch his teammates to a 13 to 5 victory over Albie Booth's New Haven Chevies in an exhibition game. Booth, while at Yale, was captain of the varsity baseball team on which Broaca starred as a pitcher. Score:

New Haven	102	000	200	5	12 3

In the Wake of the News

3-YEAR-OLD CHAMPION.

INSTEAD of bringing forth an outstanding, or at least temporary, 3-year-old champion, Inlander's victory in the Arlington Classic added only to the complexities of the already jigsaw title.

Such statement does not detract anything from the merits of Saturday's triumph by the bay son of Infinite-Geisha Girl, which showed himself convincingly best under the prevailing conditions. In fact, it was courage and stamina which defeated the best horses of that division now in training over the mile and one-quarter route of sticky holding surface.

Yet even if you cashed on Inlander (because he was coupled in the betting with Okapi), you hardly can help wondering whether this Classic winner, which places his name beside those of Blue Larkspur, Gallant Fox, Mate, and Gusto, would win again if he met the very same field on a fast track. Perhaps he could. Previous record in the Kentucky Derby and Preakness is to the contrary.

Horsemen aver that a true champion should run on any kind of track. Those finishing behind Inlander, therefore, should offer no excuses on that score. It is conversely true, however, that Inlander has not compared favorably with some of those he beat except on this muddy track.

Viewing the Classic in retrospect, Inlander and Golden Way are about the only two which added anything to previous laurels. The Widener colt, which finished second, came from the middle of the pack to gain that position. War Glory, pacemaker and winner of the Dwyer Stakes, broke even on his previous reputation. Kerry Patch perhaps furbished up a bit his previous dull reputation for 1933. Okapi, fifth, should do better on a fast track.

Certainly Mr. Khayyam, which declined the issue, the public choices, Sarada and Gold Basis, The Darb and Head Play lost in reputation under the conditions.

Mutuel wagering on the event proved it was what it had been expected to be—a great guessing contest. A large majority of those who cashed on the Brookmeade stable entry of Inlander and Okapi did so because they guessed on Okapi.

Classic Picking.

For those, if any, interested in our personal welfare, we may recall that The Wake picked for the Classic in order: War Glory, Mr. Khayyam, Okapi coupled with Inlander, and Gold Basis. Mr. Khayyam did not start, so we had two out of three named in the money. Our wager was War Glory to win and show. He paid $7.44 to show. So there was profit of $3.44 on $4 invested, or on each $4 invested, whichever way you think we wager.

How many times a day
Do I say—"I"?
That little ego word
Is too often heard—Why
Can't I prate of things
Without personal meanings"—I'll try,
But when I talk about "I,"
It's about a pretty swell guy—says I.

In the old days, many drinkers dropped a pinch of salt into a stein of beer to improve the beer's flavor. On the other hand, a pinch of salt is greatly improved by dropping it into a stein of beer.

Lt. Watrous, Chicago Polo Star, Injured

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Green Bay, Wis., July 17.—Lieut. Gordon Watrous, well known in polo circles in Chicago and the central states, was in St. Vincent's hospital here tonight suffering from a fracture at the base of the skull. Lieut Watrous was injured in a collision during an impromptu match on the De Pere Polo club field near here yesterday. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Watrous, are at his bedside.

Lieut. Watrous, together with his brother, Sylvester, and Anton Mark of Hinsdale, Ill., came here yesterday to engage in a friendly contest with local players. Lieut. Watrous' mount collided with that of Lee Killon, a local contestant, under one of the goal posts in the third chukker. His helmet fell off, and he was injured when a horse's hoof struck him behind the right ear. The match was halted and Lieut. Watrous rushed to the hospital, where he has been unconscious ever since.

He was still in a coma at 7 p. m., although he was breathing normally. Dr. J. P. Lanfesty, who is attending him, said. It was at the suggestion of Dr. Lanfesty, a polo enthusiast, who was responsible for the sport being started in the Green Bay district, that the Watrous boys made the trip.

Lieut. Watrous is 36 years old. He lives at 5010 Drexel boulevard, Chicago. He has been playing with the 124th Field Artillery team of Chicago. Several years ago he played with the University of Chicago squad, one of the first to be organized in the Western conference.

Harry Hooper, Former Big Leaguer, Named Postmaster

Washington, D. C., July 17.—[Special.]—Harry B. Hooper, one time outfield star with the Boston Red Sox when they were world's champions, and later a member of the Chicago White Sox, was appointed acting postmaster at Capitola, Cal., today by Postmaster General Farley. Hooper, who was with the Red Sox during the 12 seasons from 1909 to 1920, was traded to the White Sox for John Collins and Nemo Leibold in 1921. He played with the Sox for five years.

British Senior Golfers Lead U. S., Canadians

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

SANDWICH, England, July 17.—Great Britian held a commanding lead over senior golfers from the United States and Canada at the close today of the first round of a series of international matches. The British seniors won ten foursomes, the Americans seven and Canada one. Great Britain held a 4 to 2 lead over the United States and led Canada, 6 to 0. The Americans won five out of six matches against Canada.

Britons Invade Davis Cup Scene; U. S. Shy of Funds

PARIS, July 17.—(AP)—The American Davis cup squad faced two foes today as Ellsworth Vines, Wilmer Allison, George Lott and Johnny Van Ryn swung into the closing practices for the interzone matches with Great Britain starting Friday.

The first enemy, a British force consisting of Henry W. [Bunny] Austin, H. G. N. Lee, and George Patrick Hughes, arrived here today fresh from victory over Australia in the European zone finals at Wimbledon last week. Fred Perry, Britain's top rank star, stayed behind for treatment of a slightly strained shoulder, and is not due here until tomorrow.

The second problem maker was the revelation that funds for the players are running dangerously low.

Although the appropriation this year was the same as in 1932, when France successfully defended the cup against America's challenge, Bernon S. Prentice, captain of the team, said he was worried today because bills were running 30 per cent higher than last year, due to the decline in the value of the dollar.

One ray of hope was the advance sale for the interzone matches. The ticket sale has been so brisk that it is expected Roland Garros stadium here will be packed for the start of the first pair of singles Friday. Reservations from London have been particularly heavy. The Americans and British share equally in the net profits.

Prentice feels that his squad is in fine shape and little remains to be done until Friday, when the battle starts for the right to challenge France the following week-end. The boys will spend considerable time taking notes on the British play as soon as Austin, Perry and the rest start practicing on the center court. Arrangements have been made to share the surface, the Americans having the last workouts late in the afternoon.

Lott and Van Ryn, the American doubles team, played Vines and Allison, who will play the singles, this afternoon in a leisurely workout.

Bryan, McDiarmid Win Southern Tennis Double

Atlanta, Ga., July 17.—(AP)—Robert [Lefty] Bryan of Chattanooga and John McDiarmid of Fort Worth, Tex., today won the doubles championship of the southern tennis tournament, defeating Bryan Grant, singles champion, and Malon Courts, both of Atlanta, in straight sets, 6-3, 6-3, 11-9.

Jadwiga Wajsowna Beats Own World's Discus Mark

WARSAW, Poland, July 17.—(AP)—Jadwiga Wajsowna today beat her own world's discus throwing record with a toss of 43 meters and 8 centimeters [141 feet 4 13-128 inches] in a track and field meet here. Her listed world's mark is 42.43 meters.

Yankees Meet Sox Today in Quest of No. 9

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, July 17.—After spending a couple of weeks in two days here the White Sox will be glad to get back to work tomorrow, even though the work probably will prove hazardous. It involves nothing more than an engagement with the Yankees who, throughout this season, not to mention a couple before, have been more annoying to the Chicagoans than any other team in the league. However, the Yanks have been equally bothersome to others, so that's some consolation. Moreover, they promise to become even more formidable as the race progresses.

The recent revival of the world champions after they had suffered more or less extensively for a month even has Manager Joe McCarthy at the point of popping off, a state he always avoids until he is sure of his ground. The ex-Cub leader now feels sure that his Yankees are going to repeat in the American league race, and if they do that it is pretty safe betting they'll raise ned with whomever they face in the world series.

Sings a New Song.

A month back, if you mentioned to McCarthy that the Yanks didn't look so hot, he'd say nothing except, "O, what the hell? They've been playing together a long time and winning. It has become monotonous." Even McCarthy seemed a bit tired over the lack of real opposition.

Now if you talk to McCarthy he has an entirely different tune.

"They needed something to give 'em a jolt," he says. "They really didn't believe anybody would crowd them this year, so they took things easy. Now the Senators have opened their eyes. The spurt of the latter club was just like a tonic. The Yanks have been furnished with positive evidence that they aren't going to get their hands on that world series pot if they don't hustle."

Yanks on Winning Streak.

The answer to the scare furnished by the Senators, who won 75 per cent of their battles over a month's period, is the eight game winning streak the Yankees now have. Incidentally they hope to enlarge this before the Sox can get out of town Wednesday night. On the basis of past performances, their chances for doing this are excellent. The Sox have beaten the present champions only four times in 12 meetings this season.

An indication of the extent of the Yanks' revival of confidence is furnished by their talk on the possible National league winner. Their revised opinion is that the Cubs may be the club able to sneak under the wire. But they hope the Giants will be the club that does it. They prefer the Giants as opponents for two reasons. One is that they are quite sure they could prove the shutout habits developed by the Giant pitchers don't mean a thing. The other is that they gave the Cubs such a shameful whipping last fall that they don't figure they'd have the heart to do it all over again.

Ted Lyons, who is the owner of 11 defeats, a state he never before encountered with a season only half over, will face the Yankees tomorrow and probably will be opposed by Johnny Allen. That would leave Sam Jones and Vernon [Lefty] Gomez for the final of the series Wednesday.

TRAVIS JACKSON UNDERGOES LEFT KNEE OPERATION

St. Louis, July 17.—(AP)—Travis Jackson, veteran New York Giant shortstop, underwent a knee operation at St. John's hospital today.

A puncturing operation to draw fluid from Jackson's left knee, which has kept him on the sidelines almost all season, was performed by Dr. Robert F. Hyland, surgeon for the Cardinals and Browns.

Dr. Hyland said the operation was successful and Jackson's condition was "very good." He said he should be able to determine in about ten days how soon Jackson would be able to play.

Hagen and Shute in Europe; Miss P.G.A. Tourney

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, England, July 17.—If the National Professional Golfers' association tournament, scheduled at Milwaukee, Wis., Aug. 8 to 13, is run off on those dates, the field will not include Denny Shute, recently crowned British open champion, nor Walter Hagen, captain of the American Ryder cup team.

Both were notified of the dates of the meet yesterday by cable from officials of the association and both announced that matches contracted for in Europe would prevent them from reaching Milwaukee in time for the final qualifying date, Aug. 3.

Hagen and Shute said that the cable from Albert R. Gates, business administrator of the association, was the first information either had received that the annual tournament would not be held in September, as usual.

Hagen has won the tournament five times and Shute was runner-up to Tom Creavy two years ago.

GATES THINKS THEY'LL COME.

"There will be no change in the dates of the P. G. A. meet at Milwaukee and if Hagen and Shute cannot arrive in time to compete, it will go on without them," Albert R. Gates, business administrator of the P. G. A., whose office is in Chicago, said yesterday.

"However," Gates continued, "George Jacobus, president of the association, is in constant touch with Hagen and Shute by cable and I am confident that they will be able to withdraw from some of the contracts for European matches."

Most of the members of the American Ryder cup team will return this week and will compete at Milwaukee, Gates said. Horton Smith of Oak Park, business manager of the team, reached home yesterday.

times the price, for Lon hasn't lost a game since he bought the $25 worth of relief.

Today's Game No. 89.

This afternoon's game will be the 89th of the year for the Cubs, who have played more games than any team in the league. New York and Brooklyn have played only 81 games; the Pirates played their 82d and 83d in yesterday's double header. Boston and Cincinnati each has played 86 games.

The Cubs, to finish with as many victories as they had last year in winning the pennant, must win 42 while losing 24. And what is more important, they must take up the 3½ game gap between themselves and the Giants. They now have won as many games as the Giants, but the Giants have seven shots which already are empty shells in the Cub shooting gallery.

AIKEN TO PLAY ROSLYN TODAY IN POLO TOURNEY

New York, July 17.—[Special.]—The National Junior Polo tournament, scheduled to open Sunday and postponed to today because of rain, was delayed again by inclement weather and the schedule rearranged to run through July 30.

The opening match tomorrow will bring together the Aiken Knights, led by Stewart Iglehart, and Roslyn, whose lineup includes the long hitting Texans, Cecil Smith and Rube Williams. Westbury, L. I., is the site of the match.

Other first round matches:

July 19.—Wartnaby vs. Sands Point at Port Washington, N. Y.; Meadow Brook Ramblers vs. Aurora at Westbury.

Winfield Day Is Medalist in Junior Golf

Winfield Day of Elmhurst finished with 145 for 36 holes in the qualifying round of the Chicago district junior golf tournament in class B, which includes boys 18 years of age and over, at Westward Ho yesterday. The defending champion, Edwin Schildberg, North Shore, with 147, was runner up.

The field was composed of 54 youngsters, about half of which were shooting in class A, for boys under 18. In this division Harry Frankenberg of Park Ridge was medalist with 148, while Carl Hoff of Bryn Mawr, R. T. Tamillo, Ridgemoor, and Art Doering, Mission Hills, were tied for runner up at 155 each.

Winston Stops Heuser in 12th Round of Bout

West Springfield, Mass., July 17.—(AP)—Eddie [Unknown] Winston of Hartford, Conn., scored a technical knockout over Adolph Heuser, German heavyweight now of Boston, in the 12th round of a 12 round bout tonight. Winston weighed 189 pounds, 11 more than Heuser.

PIRATES BEAT DODGERS TWICE; CLOSE IN ON CUBS

Take First Game, 14-2; Win Second, 7-0.

Pittsburgh, Pa., July 17.—(AP)—Snapping out of a hitting slump, the Pittsburgh Pirates today pounded out 32 safeties, swept a double header with the Brooklyn Dodgers in the only games played in the major leagues and advanced within a half game of the second place Cubs and four games of the league leading Giants. The scores were 14 to 2 and 7 to 0.

Each Yields Only Seven Hits.

Bill Swift and Steve Swetonic pitched effective ball, each allowing seven hits. Swift's victory was his tenth of the season as compared to five defeats, while Swetonic hung up his seventh triumph in scoring the shutout.

In the first game, the Pirates put together 13 of their 16 hits off a quartet of Brooklyn hurlers in three innings to score all of their runs, climaxing the contest with a nine-run rally in the eighth. Paul Waner furnished the high spot of the rally, hitting a triple with the bases filled.

Traynor, Lindstrom Lead Attacks.

Ray Benge started the second game for the Dodgers and managed to hold the Pirates to two runs until the fifth, when again they cut loose and with five hits, four singles and Swetonic's triple, scored four runs.

Pie Traynor and Freddy Lindstrom led the Pirates' attack, the former connecting with two hits in the opener and four in the nightcap, while the latter pounded out five during the day. Score:

COTTON MILLS START WORKING UNDER NEW CODE

Increase in Jobs Reported, but Some Await Test

Boston, Mass., July 17.—(AP)—The hum of cotton textile machinery in New England mills today spelled a message of greater employment as thousands of operatives went to work at increased wages and shorter hours under the national recovery act.

Although in many manufacturing centers there was increased employment and promise of greater production in some, other places reported unmistakeable confusion regarding the application of the clauses of the cotton textile code. Because of this latter condition some mills decreased production and did not increase the numbers on their payrolls, but waited clarification of the general situation.

Massachusetts' plants found difficulty in arranging two shifts on the 40 hours a week basis for employes as guaranteed by the recovery act because of the law prohibiting the employment of women after 6 p. m. In such mills. One mill in Webster opened without the services of 500 women who will be reemployed if the legislature suspends the 6 o'clock law.

Mills Withheld Data.

Many mills withheld definite figures, but said that the wages of many employes were increased under the provision requiring a minimum of $13 a week. The work week for New England states ranged from 48 in Massachusetts to 56 in Vermont under the old system. During the depression era approximately 120,000 operatives have been employed in New England mills. Wages of those getting more than $13 a week generally were maintained under the new plan.

While the mills worked under the new schedule, the first of the Roosevelt administration's attempts toward American industrial recovery, manufacturers met in Boston to discuss various phases of the code.

A shortage of skilled labor, recently reported from New Bedford and parts of Rhode Island, became evident today in Waterville, Me., where the Lockwood Manufacturing company sought 100 additional experienced spinners and weavers. The pay roll of that concern was increased from 350 to 700 in the last two months.

In Manchester, N. H., hundreds sought employment at the huge Amoskeag Manufacturing company plant, but there were no more than 200 new jobs available.

Doubtful in South.

Charlotte, N. C., July 17.—(AP)—Starting cautiously because it never before has been regulated by federal law, the Carolina textile industry today joined cotton mills of the nation in putting into effect the new code of fair competition.

Operatives worked only eight hours and they got more for their time than heretofore, but only one mill in the two states reported adding new employes while another discharged sixty-five persons because of the eighty hour limitation of operation of productive machinery.

COTTON MILLS IN JULY OPERATING AT 127% OF 1922-'27 AVERAGE

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, July 17.—Cotton mill activity is now running at a new high record for all time, judging from the rate attained during the first two weeks of July.

According to the New York Cotton Exchange service mills ran at 128 per cent of the 1922-'27 average from July 1 to July 15, against 126 per cent during June, the previous high point. Last year the July rate was 54 per cent.

The rise was even more extraordinary in view of the fact that mill activity usually declines from the middle of March to the middle of July. This year, however, activity increased 49 per cent, whereas the average decrease for the period is 17 per cent.

BANKING CREDIT RISES SLIGHTLY AGAINST NORMAL

Bank credit throughout the country increased slightly during the week ended Wednesday, despite the fact that normally there is a decline after the July 4 holiday week demands.

According to the federal reserve board's weekly report on the condition of member banks in 90 principal cities, total bank credit on July 12 was 16 billion 686 millions, compared with 16 billion 686 millions on July 5. Commercial loans increased 49 millions during the week. The report was released yesterday.

Continuing improvement in the condition of banks throughout the nation was reflected in a 36 million dollar increase in the balances carried by member banks with the federal reserve banks and a 96 million dollar increase in demand and time deposits combined.

FIRST NATIONAL COMPLETES PLAN TO UNIFY BANKS

Parent Institution Takes Over Trust Function.

The final step to complete the consolidation of the First Union Trust and Savings bank with the First National bank of Chicago was taken yesterday with ratification of the action by the stockholders, according to an announcement by Melvin A. Traylor, president. The identity and title of the first named organization is now completely merged with the First National.

All the stock of the First Union Trust and Savings bank since its formation in 1903 has been held in trust for the benefit of the stockholders of the First National bank of Chicago.

Law Now More Liberal.

A statement by the First National explained that the subsidiary bank was organized primarily because the national bank act at the time did not allow a national bank to transact a trust business or "satisfactorily to conduct a savings bank."

"The present law authorizes national banks to perform these functions, and the directors and officers are of the belief that the interests of the csutomers and stockholders will best be served by unified organization," a statement by the bank said.

The banking business of the First Union Trust and Savings bank was transferred to the First National last March and the consolidation brings the business of the trust department to the national bank without change of personnel.

Capitalization Is Unchanged.

Deposits of the First National as of June 30 totaled $563,486,000, while cash resources stood at $207,861,000. The capital stock of $25,000,000, surplus of $15,000,000, and undivided profits of $3,594,675 are not changed by the consolidation.

Bentley G. McCloud, vice president of the First National, was elected a director at a special meeting of the stockholders.

BUTTER STRONG

In a trade and price movement which shattered all former records, butter and egg futures on the Chicago Mercantile exchange scored sensational gains. While advances encountered realizing of a fairly pronounced nature, absorption, nevertheless, was constant and the general move for added commitments tended to take up anything in the way of offerings.

Outside speculative support again featured while considerable of the selling was credited to holders of the actual commodity.

CHICAGO GRAIN FIRMS APPEAL ON U. S. FUTURES ACT

Ask Court to Enjoin Reports on Trading.

Washington, D. C., July 17.—(AP)—Chicago grain houses today challenged in the Supreme court the constitutionality of the grain futures act, contending it compelled them to give up confidential information which might be used to damage their business.

A petition was filed for a review of a decision by the Seventh Circuit Court of Appeals, which sustained the validity of the act. It was presented by Bartlett Frazier company, Paddleford & Lamy, F. S. Lewis & Co., and James E. Bennett & Co.

They asked that the secretary of agriculture and his agents be prohibited from requiring them to make reports of transactions in grain futures and from inspecting their books.

The firms contended there is constant danger that their general market condition may become known to others through the inspection made of their records by employes of the agricultural department and through reports, which the act would require them to make. They added the act is an unwarranted invasion of their rights of privacy.

The law, the petition said, forced them to stand by while department agents rummaged their private books and records, on penalty by refusal to see their business destroyed, of being excluded from trading privileges on contract markets or through their suspension from membership on the Chicago Board of Trade.

It was insisted that the business was essentially private, and that no declaration by congress that it had a public interest could legally confer on the federal government the power of supervision embodied in the act.

FEDERAL BARGE LINES REPORT 'PROFIT' BUT IGNORE FIXED CHARGES

BY H. A. LAIRD.

[Chicago Tribune Traffic Manager.

The statement for the federal barge lines for the month of May has been received. It shows a loss of $94,186.10 for the five months period. There was a loss on every division except the lower Mississippi, which barely cleared expenses to show an operating profit of $1,214.98.

One year ago the federal barge line showed a total operating profit of $267,769.46, although many authorities object to such a showing on the theory that it is misleading to the public. The barge line pays no taxes except on a small piece of railway property which connects Birmingham with Birmingport and charges itself no interest on capital invested. The claim is made that the barge line statement should be prepared in the same manner as statements on the Panama canal operation, the latter showing an annual loss because bonded indebtedness is included.

The barge line is being maintained on the Mississippi and its tributaries to prove that cheap transportation on our inland waterways at a profit to both shipper and carrier is possible.

Profits to the shipper are admitted because the rates are pegged at 20% below the railway rates, but the results to the barge lines are being absorbed by the method of bookkeeping adopted. It is certain that if a private corporation should buy the barge lines, it would be faced with bonded indebtedness on the cost of purchase as well as taxes on the equipment, which expenses would wipe out the operating balance which the barge lines show as a profit—to show a net loss for the operation.

GRAINS SOAR TO NEW PEAKS ON PUBLIC BUYING

Wheat Rises 5 Cents, Barley 10¾ Cents.

BY CHARLES MICHAELS.

Buying of all grains by the public was on from start to finish yesterday. Prices advanced to the highest level in recent years for all grains. In fact, price cut little figure with the average speculator, who was more anxious to get hold of the grain.

The volume of trade was so heavy that the largest wheat traders, who are accustomed to handling orders in 500,000 and 1,000,000 bushel lots, came out of the pit at the close tired and wilted. There had been no such a day since the advance started a few months ago. All grains were well bought.

Wheat at its best was up around 5 cents, corn moved up over 2 cents. Oats touched a new high, rye jumped 2 cents from the low point, and barley surprised everybody by advancing over 10 cents from the close on Saturday.

Stock Boom Recalled.

From the way the public came in on the buying side on every price dip, traders were reminded of the wild days of the stock market in 1929. There were sharp reactions at intervals caused by profit taking but they were of short duration as buyers took hold the more readily and moved prices up.

The east was well represented on the buying side of practically all grains, there being practically no limit to quantities or price. Moderate recessions were made from the top, but closing prices were the highest since prices started up four months ago. Net gains in wheat were 3½ to 3¾ cents. Corn was up 1¼ to 2½ cents, oats, ¾ to 1⅞ cents; barley, 10¼ to 10⅝ cents, and rye, 1⅞ to 2⅛ cents.

Crop news from the northwest was more bullish and furnished inspiration for new buying.

Cash Wheat Premiums Weaken.

Cash wheat premiums in all the leading markets are showing the usual weakening tendency as movement of the new crop increases, which tends to create caution among millers in making purchases of grain.

There were times when selling of wheat against the low price of weekly "offers" checked the upward movement temporarily, but these halts were met with buying rushes that absorbed offerings readily and carried prices to new high levels.

September wheat at the finish was $1.18⅞ to $1.18¾ and December was $1.21⅝ to $1.21⅞, or about 2 cents under the extreme top. May reached $1.27¼ and closed 1¼ cents under that figure.

Winnipeg failed to follow the Chicago advance in its extreme and closed at 93½ cents for July, and 95⅞ to 96 cents for October. December at its best touched 89½ cents, a new high, and closed at 97¾ cents.

Wheat Profits Invested in Corn.

A good many speculators who have made profits in wheat have become scared at the way the market has advanced and are turning to corn as an investment. They are also taking hold of oats, rye and barley, and buying rye futures against sales of wheat.

Barley came in for more attention than it has received in years. Buying orders from all quarters carried prices up to new high levels. The impression is that the crop is the smallest in years and is going backward, and that it may be difficult for brewers to get sufficient quantities for beer.

At the extreme top September barley was 78½ cents, an advance of 10¼ cents. Despite increased offerings the market finished 78¼ cents, or within ⅛ cent of the top. December barley advanced to 83⅛ cents, against the close of 71¾ on Saturday, a net gain of 11⅜ cents.

Action of the corn market was rather disappointing to its friends, although it advanced to new highs and made net gains of 1¼ to 2½ cents, with May corn above 81 cent level.

GLIDDEN REPORTS $667,691 PROFIT IN EIGHT MONTHS

Cleveland, Ohio, July 17.—[Special.]—After showing a loss the first four months of the fiscal year the Glidden company today reported net profit after depreciation, federal taxes and other charges of $667,691 for eight months ended June 30. This compares with a net of $55,117 a year ago. After allowing for dividends on prior preference stock for the period, this was equal to 50 cents a share on 650,000 shares of common stock.

Glidden's June earnings consisted of a net profit from operations of $307,062, which contrasts with a loss of $65,050 in June, 1932.

Roosevelt Aim to Stabilize Money Value

BY REUBEN CAHN.

Urgently requested to stabilize the dollar in foreign exchange, President Roosevelt told the world conference that nothing of the kind would be done—at least not now. The national policy, he declared, was to lift prices further and then freeze them at a higher level so that even a generation hence a dollar would have the same purchasing power as it will have when the present price hoisting operations are completed.

This represents a revolution in the American economic system albeit it is an innovation that long has been urged by a group of men who in their general economic philosophy are quite conservative.

Deliberately attempting to regulate the general price level has been an activity from which previous national administrations have shrunk. Although there have been times when the government has been interested in protecting consumers from too high prices, protecting manufacturers in infant industries and latterly farmers from too low prices and protecting the customers and competitors from combinations and monopolies from price discriminations, there has been no declared policy to move all prices upward, or downward, at once.

Upset Monetary Policy.

More particularly is this new national purpose a revolution in American monetary practice. In the past the United States has adhered to the gold standard without qualification. The basis of our money system was a dollar which was a piece of gold of a definite and specified size and purity. Free and unlimited coinage of the yellow metal by the United States treasury was a part of the plan. Any one having 25.8 grains of gold of the specified standard of fineness could get a gold dollar for it at the treasury. Any one having a dollar could get 25.8 grains of the standard metal for it. There were no restrictions on the quantity which could be exchanged back and forth this way. Every other commodity could vary in price, but gold always remained the same.

While this plan was adhered to, any one having a debt due him could be certain when he was paid of receiving a definite number of dollars of the same physical constituency as those which were loaned. The government produced money in convenient sizes, each dollar unit being convertible into gold at 25.8 grains to the dollar. Here was the soundest of sound money.

Purchasing Power Varies.

But though our money was sound, its purchasing power was fluctuating and during the last 20 years fluctuating in very broad limits and this was playing havoc with debtor and creditor relationships. For when a loan was repaid in 1920 that was originally made in 1914, the lender received back in purchasing power only two-fifths of what he had loaned. It was the same old gold dollar but the ability of 25.8 grains of gold in buying other things had been reduced 60 per cent. A government which undertook to keep up the purchasing power of the dollar would have had to increase the dollar from 25.8 grains to 63.4 grains. Similarly the Illinois wheat farmer who borrowed on his farm in 1920 a sum that was due last year would have had to deliver six times as much wheat as would have been required to pay the debt at the time it was made.

Since 1914 there have been three major price periods. From 1914 to 1920 prices skyrocketed 127 per cent. That period of inflation was followed by a period of deflation in which prices fell 37 per cent. A period of relatively stable prices ensued lasting about six years during which there was widespread prosperity. That period was followed by a period of rapid deflation in which prices fell 38 per cent.

New Plan Steadies Prices.

Had President Roosevelt's plan of a stable price level been in force and effective, the general commodity price level would not have risen during the war, would not have fallen sharply immediately afterward, and would not have fallen as it has during the last four years. What the social and economic consequences of a stable price level would have been need not here be considered—but that we would have escaped certain evils seems certain. There may have been others to take their place, but all this is surmise.

As an examination of the record of the Federal Farm board will disclose, it is one thing to desire that prices shall conform to a definite pattern and another thing to make them conform to that pattern. There has been no published statements as to what means are to be followed in attaining a stable price level, but considering the administration's diagnosis of our national illness, the personnel of the attending staff and the materia economica which those doctors have long urged should be prescribed, the line of treatment seems quite clear. That will be described in a succeeding article.

STOCKS LEAP UP AS GOOD NEWS WHETS TRADING

Liquor Issues Lead; 6,394,000 Shares.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, July 17.—Wall street came to work this morning with another mighty appetite for stocks. In the course of five hours of heavy trading prices of leading issues were marked up as much as 10 points in a buying movement that took in the entire list.

The market opened moderately strong and the advance gained momentum with scant interruption until the final hour, when prices backed off somewhat from the day's highs on the usual realizing sales. The market gave an impressive display of its strength, however, in absorbing these sales.

Volume kept pace with advancing prices, the ticker grinding out a total of 6,394,000 shares. Traders again had to cope with a ticker that fell as much as five minutes behind the market.

News Is Cheerful.

News of further industrial and trade improvement and progress of the administration's recovery program gave speculative markets a cheery background, with strength in commodity markets lending a helping hand.

The "wet" stocks once more were major domos of the market on the imminent voting on repeal by four more states. Friends of the liquor, bottling and chemical-alcohol issues bet heavily that Alabama, Arkansas, Tennessee and Oregon would break with tradition and line up for repeal.

This division bore the brunt of outside demand and quickly scaled new peaks, with gains of 2 to 10 points in such issues as American Commercial Alcohol, Commercial Solvents, National Distillers, U. S. Industrial Alcohol and a host of kindred stocks.

Rubber Shares Rise.

Rubber and tire company shares were singled out for buying as the street took note of the industry's new-found health. Gains of 2 to 7 points in extremely heavy turnover were run up by United States Rubber common and preferred, Firestone, Goodyear and Goodrich.

From the start copper shares were in demand at rising quotations on a reported decline in stocks of the metal in this country.

Sharp gains in grains and cotton had a natural repercussion in the market for stocks of farm machinery companies like J. I. Case, Deere, International Harvester, and those of the big mail order firms, Montgomery Ward and Sears-Roebuck.

Commodity strength also influenced buying of food issues. Standard Brands was the leader of this group and also shared in the enthusiasm for "wet" stocks, since the company, it is reported, will turn to the liquor business after repeal.

Du Pont Moves Up.

Among the old line pivotals Du Pont put in a particularly boisterous day to close up more than 3 points on a heavy turnover. American Can, United States Steel, and other one time rallying points averaged 2 points higher at best levels.

Some of the day's widest movements were scored by railroad equipment shares, like American Brake Shoe, American Car and Foundry, American Locomotive, and Baldwin Locomotive preferred. The rails themselves had peak gains of 1 to 3 points, the principal movers being New York Central, Southern Railway, Santa Fé, Southern Pacific, and Baltimore and Ohio, Southern Railway preferred ran away from the crowd with an advance of around 10 points.

Public utilities advanced 1 to 2 points for the leaders and similar progress was made by motors, oils, and coppers. Irregular weakness was noted in sugar and packing issues.

Roads Report Freight Traffic Continues Rise

The general improvement in freight car loadings continues, according to the first roads to report for the week ended July 15.

The Chicago and North Western last week again surpassed its 1933 record, with loadings of 24,929 cars. Its previous peak, reached in the week ended July 1, was 23,983 cars.

In the week of July 15 yast year the road loaded 19,242 cars, while in the preceding week of this year loadings dropped to 21,598 cars because of the July Fourth holiday.

Ore and Grain Increase.

Up to July 15 the road loaded 3,506 cars of ore compared with 360 cars in the same period last year. Grain and grain products continue to lead in this year's loadings.

The Milwaukee road handled 25,435 cars in the week of July 15 compared with 19,852 cars in the corresponding period of 1932 and 21,979 in the preceding week of this year.

Sante Fe system loadings totaled 24,482 cars compared with 22,333 cars in the preceding week and 28,349 in the like week of 1932. The decline from last year was attributed to the heavier grain movement in the Santa Fe territory last season.

C. & O. Traffic Soars.

Cars handled by the Chesapeake and Ohio totaled 35,888 compared with 29,092 in the parallel week of 1932 and 27,044 in the preceding week of this year. Pere Marquette loadings totaled 4,629 cars compared with 3,592 cars in the like week of 1932 and 3,705 cars in the preceding week of this year.

DU PONT PROFIT 68 CENTS A SHARE IN 2D QUARTER

Wilmington, Del., July 17.—(AP)—The preliminary financial statement of the E. I. du Pont de Nemours company for the quarter ended June 30, shows that it earned 68 cents a share on its common stock.

This figure, which includes dividends from its General Motors investment equivalent to 23 cents on each share of Du Pont common compares with 35 cents a share in the first quarter of this year.

In the second quarter of 1932, the earnings were 27 cents a share, which included 23 cents a share on Du Pont stock from the General Motors investment.

For the first six months of 1933 the earnings amounted to $1.03 a share, which included dividends from General Motors investment of 46 cents on Du Pont common shares.

In the first six months of 1932 the earnings amounted to $1.01, of which 69 cents a share came from General Motors investment.

The earnings include the Du Pont company's equity in undivided profits or losses of controlled companies not consolidated.

Interlake Iron Net Loss $282,848 in 2d Quarter

Net loss of the Interlake Iron corporation of Chicago for the second quarter ended June 30, 1933, was $282,848, after all charges, including depreciation of $195,949. Net loss for the second quarter ended June 30, 1932, was $574,734, after all charges including depreciation of $169,801.

EASTMAN ASKS ROADS TO GIVE NAME AND PAY OF EVERY RAIL WORKER

Washington, D. C., July 17.—(AP)—The name and pay of every person employed by a railroad during May was called for today by Joseph B. Eastman, coördinator of transportation. He requested the information to enable him to carry out the provisions of the transportation act regarding labor. It was his first order since assuming his colossal task.

Eastman also directed the railroads to report the total regular compensation, total overtime and the classification of each employé. Without such knowledge, the coördinator might issue orders that would bring about dismissal of employés.

The law provides that he cannot take any action that would reduce the number of workers below the May total nor may he change their compensation. The only exception is that five per cent of the places may be left unfilled if vacated by death and retirement. However, the railroads themselves may reduce employés below the May level, if that is necessary.

NATIONAL TEA SIX MONTHS' NET FOUR TIMES 1932

Earnings of the National Tea company for the 24 weeks ending June 17, 1933, were equivalent to $1.32 per share of outstanding common stock, compared with 32 cents per share for the corresponding 24 weeks of 1932 and with $1.30 per share for the entire year of 1932, it was announced yesterday.

The company reported net earnings after federal taxes but before dividends of $892,109 for the 24 weeks ending June 17, 1933.

F. H. Massmann, vice president of the company, said that the increased earnings were the result of more efficiency in all operations of the company along with improvement in merchandising and stores. Retail prices during the period were on the same level as, or lower than, prices in the same period of 1932, he said.

Mrs. Insull Sr. Sells 10 Acres in Lake County

BY AL CHASE.

Margaret A. Insull, wife of Samuel Insull, has sold a ten acre tract of land at the west end of Countryside lake, in Lake county, to Ralph A. Bard, vice president of the Chicago corporation, for $4,000, according to the revenue stamps. Title was conveyed for Mrs. Insull and for her husband, who had a dower interest in the property, by Samuel Insull Jr.

Simultaneously with the filing for record of the deed with the recorder for Lake county, at Waukegan, a power of attorney from Mr. and Mrs. Insull to Samuel Insull Jr. was placed on record. It consisted of two instruments made June 14, 1932, one signed by Samuel Insull Sr. and the other by his wife.

John Griffith of Lake Forest was broker in the Bard purchase. The property had been listed for some time and Mr. Bard said he purchased it as an investment.

Isham, Lincoln and Beale, Insull attorneys, said Mrs. Insull a few years ago purchased a few acres on Countryside lake. The tract bought by Mr. Bard is part of it. Mr. Insull's properties have been turned over to his creditors. There is an artificial island in Countryside lake on which Samuel Insull Jr. erected a summer home a few years ago.

DOLLAR DROPS, BUT WIDE SWINGS IN PRICE HALTED

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, July 17.—The steady tone of the foreign exchange market which developed late last week, was maintained today, although the dollar continued to cheapen in terms of all important foreign currencies.

Sterling ranged between $4.77⅛ and $4.80, closing at the latter figure, up 2 cents, net, on the day. The franc moved from 5.60 cents to 5.64½ cents, where it closed, up 3½ points.

In terms of French gold the dollar closed at 69.45 cents compared with 69.81 cents Saturday.

Prices Soar as Public Jumps Into Markets

BY HOWARD WOOD.

In the face of administration talk about "stabilizing" the purchasing power of the dollar the markets did something decidedly unstable yesterday—they all moved substantially upward.

Wheat, which in February was selling in the forties and which on June 27 created a sensation by reaching the dollar a bushel mark, yesterday crossed the $1.25 line. The May future closed at $1.26, up nearly four cents for the day.

But this was just one feature of a day equal in excitement and action to almost any day during the 1928-'29 boom.

The "wet" grains led the advance at the Chicago board of trade and the "wet" stocks led the rise on the stock exchanges. Barley's gain of nearly 11 cents was just one sensation in a day full of sensations. Rye's recent string of advances failed to invite profit taking and it went up around 2 cents a bushel.

In New York York not only did American Commercial Alcohol, National Distillers, and other so-called "repeal issues" rise 7 to 9 or more dollars per share but rubber, metal, and chemical issues made similar gains.

Cotton advanced sharply and closed with net gains of around $1.25 per bale. Bar silver gained another ¾ cent to close at 39⅞ cents an ounce. Crude rubber prices in London reached the highest price since January, 1931.

The bare prices give little indication of the tremendous wave of buying that surged through all American markets. The hysteria of fear so apparent a few months ago has given way to frenzied buying.

History is repeating itself in that the public is getting into the market on a broader scale as prices continue to rise. At the beginning of the current bull movement in March only the big traders, a few miscellaneous "insiders" and a scattering of shrewd or obstinate amateurs were in the market.

Yesterday everybody was in it. Customers' men in commission houses struggled against odds to execute a flood of buying orders.

There were no specific news developments yesterday to which all this action might have been attributed. Reports continued to come in from the west telling of the destruction of grain crops by drought and hot winds, and the dollar declined a little more in foreign exchange transactions. These two influences, however, are "old stuff" and were believed to have been pretty well discounted. The same is true of prohibition repeal.

The only logical conclusion to be drawn from the action of the market yesterday is that the public has arrived at the stage where it has lost its doubts and has suddenly become afraid that it won't get into the market in time. Prices yesterday seemed to be a secondary matter. Orders were "at the market."

The importance of this change in public psychology cannot easily be overestimated. How far it will carry the market it is impossible to predict. As far as stocks are concerned sooner or later corporations will have to show something besides promise to make the prices hold.

Third quarter earnings will probably shape the trend.

AUTO CONCERNS INCREASE WAGES OR ADD WORKERS

Hudson Raises 10%; Buick Calls 1,000.

New York, July 17.—Increased employment and further increases in wages were announced today by numerous industries, accentuating the pickup in industry and trade.

R. D. CHAPIN.

Wage increases ranging from 5 to 10 per cent were announced today for shop employés working on an hourly basis at the Hudson Motor Car company. The increases become effective immediately. Roy D. Chapin, chairman of the board of directors, said 5,000 of the 7,000 Hudson employés would benefit and that the increases would mean an additional annual payroll of $750,000.

"These increases," Mr. Chapin's announcement said, "are effective as of July 17 and are in line with the constructive spirit of American industry to rebuild the buying power of the nation."

Buick Workers Recalled.

Irving J. Reuter, president of the Buick Motor company, announced that more than 1,000 former employés will be returned to work because the plant is continuing in production up to September 15 with its present models. After that time, Reuter said, production of new models will begin. Last year production of new models began at the end of July. Employment at the plant, he said, will total between 7,500 and 8,000.

A 10 per cent increase in salaries, effective immediately, was announced by the Lansing Motor Wheel corporation for 1,800 employés.

The F. W. Woolworth company announced a new minimum wage of $10 weekly, effective immediately, for employees in Pennsylvania, West Virginia and Ohio. Minimum wage previously in those states was $7.50 weekly.

Bethlehem Steel Raises Wages.

Bethlehem, Pa., July 17.—(AP)—The Bethlehem Steel corporation today announced a 15 per cent general increase in wages at its various plants, effective as of July 16. Approximately 50,000 employés are affected by the increase.

It was stated also that schedules of minimum wages and working hours would be made to conform with the provisions of the steel code after its adoption. Pay increases were announced recently by certain subsidiaries of the corporation.

The increase affects such major plants as those at Bethlehem, Johns-

THE UNIFICATION of the First Union Trust and Savings Bank and The First National Bank of Chicago, under the name and charter of the latter, has been completed.

The First Union Trust and Savings Bank was organized as an affiliate of the First National Bank in 1903. Earlier this year, the directors and officers determined that the interests of customers would be best served by combining the business of the two banks. The banking business was then transferred to the First National Bank, and the final steps in the consolidation have now been taken.

The Trust department, which offers a wide variety of personal and corporate fiduciary services, now becomes a major unit of the First National Bank, without change in location or personnel.

A comprehensive service, built up through seventy years of continuing experience, is available for personal and business financial requirements.

New York, July 17.—Bond prices rocketed today on the stock exchange, many issues in both the foreign and domestic groups gaining 1 to 9 points on the day and automatically establishing new highs for the year. The volume of trading, however, was considerable under that of Friday, amounting to approximately $16,000,000.

Latin American loans, which, as a group, have been more or less neglected recently, showed the principal gains in the foreign list today. The various Argentine government state and municipal loans jumped fractionally to 8¾ points; Republic of Uruguay issues 5 to 5½ points.

German Loans Advance.

In the European list, German bonds were generally higher although the government 7s and 5½s were down a point and 1⅛ points, respectively. French government and municipal loans closed unchanged to up 2¼, and Dutch East Indies bonds were marked up 1 to 2¾. Most of the bonds of the Japanese group touched new peaks for the year on moderate gains.

Exceptional strength in the domestic rail list occurred in the obligations of Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Paul and Pacific, Great Northern, International-Great Northern, New York, Chicago and St. Louis, Northern Pacific, and Southern Railway. Of the active industrials, Cuban Cane Products 6s, due 1950, closed up 1; General Theaters Equipment 6s due 1940, up ¾; National Dairy Products 5¼s, due 1948, up 1⅛; Shell Union Oil 5s, due 1949, with warrants, up 1; and Warner Brothers Pictures 6s, due 1939, up 1½.

Utilities Also Rise.

Although the gains of individual issues in the domestic utility group were not as impressive as in the case of the rails and industrials, the average was substantial. Third Avenue Railway Adjustment 5s and refunding 4s both touched new highs for the year above 34 and 55, respectively.

United States Government bonds continued dull and irregular. Final prices were off 4-32ds to up 2-32ds points.

NEW ISSUE.

H. C. Speer & Sons Co., are offering an issue of $102,000 County of La Salle, Illinois 5 per cent poor relief bonds, maturing serially Jan. 1, 1939 to 1943.

Security Mutual Life Insurance.

Investors' Guide: I am intending to get a policy from Security Mutual Life Insurance company. Will you kindly give me information as to the standing of the company?—O. D. L.

Answer: Security Mutual Life Insurance company has been in business since 1836. It is purely mutual. It writes life insurance on the participating plan, specializing in endowment annuities at advanced ages.

Income in 1932 was $4,523,000 and disbursements were $4,521,000. In 1931 income was $4,867,000 and disbursements totaled $4,001,000.

At the close of 1932 net reserves to secure life policies in force totaled $18,757,000. Other liabilities amounted to $1,397,000. In addition the company set up as a liability a special contingency reserve of $270,000.

Admitted assets totaled $21,284,000. Real estate, 13 per cent of assets, totaled $2,692,000; mortgages, 29 per cent, $6,269,000; policy loans and premium notes, 24 per cent, $5,150,000; bonds [amortized values], 26 per cent, $5,608,000; stocks [June 30, 1931, market prices], 2 per cent, $407,000; and cash, 1 per cent, $203,000.

Insurance in force aggregated $102,006,000, against $112,566,000 the year before, $118,472,000 at the close of 1930 and $117,416,000 on Dec. 31, 1929.

The company earned 4.1 per cent on its assets in 1932, against 4.5 per cent in 1931 and in 1930. Ratio of actual to expected mortality was 59.2 per cent in 1932, 53.8 per cent in 1931, and 57.3 per cent in 1930.

Hagemeister Food Products.

Investors' Guide: Please advise regarding Hagemeister Food Products company 8 per cent bond issue of Nov. 1, 1921. Before prohibition this outfit was a prosperous brewing company. Now that beer has come back it seems to me that the bondholders should get a run for their money.—C. L. J.

Answer: We have the following from the underwriter of the issue:

"Hagemeister Food Products company has not operated for several years and there is no thought of this company going into the brewing business. Negotiations are pending for sale of both plants—one at Green Bay and the other at Sturgeon Bay. Plants are in bad state of repair, but it is expected several thousand dollars can be realized from the sales.

"From two fires at the Green Bay brewery insurance money was collected and deposited in a bank which later closed. . . . It is expected that these funds will be available for distribution to the bondholders, but it would not be possible at this time to say just what will be realized."

1933 EARNINGS OF CONGOLEUM NAIRN INCREASE

Half Year Income Nearly Triple 1932 Period.

The net income of Congoleum-Nairn, Inc., manufacturers of floor covering, etc., for the first half of 1933 was almost three times that for the like period in 1932, according to the semi-annual report to stockholders made by A. W. Hawkes, president. The net income for the 1933 period was $1,012,224, compared with $367,297 in the parallel period of 1932.

Earnings for the first six months were equal to 83 cents a share on the outstanding stock in the hands of the public on June 30, after payment of preferred dividends.

Cash and United States government and short term state, county, and municipal securities on June 30, 1933, amounted to $10,840,579, and investments in other securities totaled $745,-788.

Securities Above Book Value.

The report stated that the total market value of all securities owned on June 30 was in excess of the values carried in the balance sheet. Total current assets as of June 30 amounted to $16,363,951, against current liabilities of $458,894—a ratio of 35 to 1.

Since the policy was inaugurated of buying its own securities, the company has acquired in the open market 466,675 common shares, which is 28.4 per cent of the then outstanding 1,641,026 common shares. On July 16, 1931, 251,026 common shares were retired and canceled, reducing the issued stock to 1,390,000 common shares.

"The average cost of the stock reacquired and canceled was $11.27 per share, and the average cost of the 215,649 shares now carried as treasury stock is $9.32 per share, both including brokerage," the report stated. "These substantial purchases of common stock in the open market at less than its current asset value were made because, in the opinion of the management, the company's funds could not be used more advantageously in the interest of all the stockholders."

Efficient Operations Maintained.

"Our policy of maintaining plants and organization in first class condition throughout the depression period since 1929 has proven extremely valuable to the company in enabling it to fill a greatly increased demand starting in April, nothwithstanding the low inventories of finished product existing at the time. This demand and consequent production have enabled us to substantially increase the number of employés and also to give additional time to many who previously had been working on shorter time."

COTTON HITS NEW HIGH; CHICAGO ABOVE 12 CENTS

Cotton futures in Chicago advanced above the 12 cent level and with other markets set a new high, the greater part of which held at the last. Trading was active and stimulated by the advance in grain and stocks.

At the close futures in Chicago were 13 to 26 points net higher, with other markets up 14 to 28 points. New York leading the high point representing a gain of over $1 a bale. Spots were up $1.25 a bale to 11.65c; New Orleans advanced 15 points to 11.55c, while Galveston was 11.50c, and Houston 11.60c. Liverpool closed 2 to 4 points net higher. Prices follow:

NEW BUYING IN LARD FORCES PRICES HIGHER

Active buying of lard by commission houses based on the belief that hog prices are to move to new high levels carried prices up rapidly at times with the finish of net gains of 15 to 20 cents on lard, and 15 to 17½ cents on bellies. Spot lard was up 20 cents with regular $7.85, loose up 15 cents to $7.00, and leaf up 12½ cents to $7.00. Cash bellies up 12½ cents to $8.25, the highest for the season. Liverpool lard was unchanged to 3d higher, and export clearances 226,520 pounds from New York. Prices follow:

LIGHT SUPPLIES SEND HOG PRICES 20 CENTS HIGHER

Top Jump to $4.85; Cattle Strong Despite Pressure

Released of the pressure of heavy supplies yesterday, the hog market bounded forward with vigor in one of the sharpest one day upturns of the year. Top sales jumped 25 cents to the $4.85 line on closing rounds, and compared with a top of $4.65 at the opening of the day.

In the wake of the somnolent week-end trade, which was draggy in the extreme, yesterday's buoyancy surprised many. It further emphasizes the restlessness that the trade has developed in the last ten days due to the uncertainty of what to expect in the way of receipts for the immediate future.

Packers Buy Freely.

Buyers and sellers are admittedly on the bullish side of the trade, but both stress the importance of the size of receipts and the need for moderation in marketing until something definite is done regarding the hog-corn plans and processing tax.

Packing houses have been buying freely in hopes that supplies would let up after the first of July. To date there has been a decrease, but the decrease is moderate.

Opening 5 to 10 cents higher, the trade improved rapidly, with the close highest of the day. The general average showed a rise of 20 cents over Saturday and was 10 cents over last Friday. Additional gains in lard contributed to activity in hogs. Lard holds consistently on the strong side of the market and above the dressed cost of the hog.

Cattle Strong Despite Pressure.

The cattle trade showed a good deal of "backbone" under pressure of yesterday's run of 17,000 head. Best grades maintained a strong price level, the "upper crust" class being comparatively scarce despite the increase in total arrivals.

Bulk of sales still are 50 to 75 cents above the low spot of ten days ago. Wilson paid $7.40, the extreme top, for two carloads of prime 1,497 pound steers for eastern trade.

Sheep receipts at Chicago at 15,000 were largest for a Monday since the middle of May. Demand, however, was broad and prices held steady, handpicked natives reaching $8.00, while bulk of the western range lambs sold at $7.50 to $7.75. One deck of Washington lambs brought $7.85.
